PATRICK EGAN IRISH LEADER PASSES AWAY IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 1.—General Patrick Egan, one of the founders of the home rule movement in Ireland and former United States minister to Chile died at the home of his daughter here Tuesday night after an illness of several weeks.

Born in County Longford, Ireland, August 13, 1841, General Egan became an influential business man in Dublin. From boyhood he was identified with the Irish nationalist movement. In addition to being one of the founders of the home rule organization in 1871, he also helped to found the Irish land league in 1879.

General Egan was one of the defendants with Parnell, when the Irish leaders and a number of associates were prosecuted in Dublin in 1880 for sedition and conspiracy.

After the trial he lived in Paris for two years and directed operations of the land league in Ireland. Twice nominated for parliament, he declined because he would not take the oath of allegiance to the British government.

General Egan came to the United States in 1883, settling in Nebraska where he established a number of grain elevators. The next year he was elected president of the Irish national league of America, holding the position until 1886.

Identifying himself with the republican party in the United States, he took an active part in Nebraska politics and headed the Nebraska delegation to the republican convention in 1888. President Harrison appointed him minister to Chile in 1889.

CRISIS IN OMAHA IS PASSED; TO MAKE EXAMPLE OF RIOTERS

Omaha, Oct. 1.—The city continued quiet this morning after an uneventful night. General Wood said the crisis is passed and he expects no further trouble. Many negroes returned to their places of employment this morning and many who had left the city following Sunday's riot, are reported to have returned.

Forty-five arrests of persons suspected of participating in Sunday's riot have been made according to County Attorney Shotwell, who said 250 more will be arrested.

"We are going to make such an example of the leaders of the mob that the fair name of Omaha will never again be disgraced," Shotwell declared.

Among those arrested was C. J. Nethaway, real estate dealer, whose wife was found brutally murdered after being assaulted several years ago. Wilson Brown, the lynched negro, died protesting his innocence, according to another negro known as "Coal Oil Johnny" who was booked at the county jail with Brown. "I'm not guilty, I'm not guilty," the negro said Brown kept moaning.

Mayor Smith continues to improve. Physicians said he will soon be out of danger.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY CALLED TO INVESTIGATE OMAHA'S RIOT

Omaha, Sept. 30.—District judges in session this afternoon called a special grand jury October 9 for the purpose of investigating the recent riot which resulted in the lynching of William Brown, the negro identified as the assailant of Miss Lebeck; the death of two other parties, the attempt on the life of Mayor Smith and the damaging of the Douglas county court house and looting of business houses.

Charges of murder, attempt to kill, arson, etc., will be filed against over sixty rioters who are known to the police. Over forty are now in custody. So far the county attorney states that murder charges will be filed against fifty.

Upon the advice of Major General Leonard Wood, in command of the troops here, the board of governors of the Ak-Sar-Ben decided to call off the parades to have been held commencing Wednesday night. The Con Kennedy carnival which has been showing here was also closed.

TRANSFER HARMAN DAMAGE CASE TO THE FEDERAL COURT

The 112,000 damage suit of Mrs. Catherine Harman of this city, administratrix of the estate of Adam Harman, deceased, against Walker D. Hines, director general of railroads, and the Beatrice Cold Storage company, has been transferred from the Lancaster county district court to the federal court.

Adam Harman, a pioneer resident of this city and for many years an employee of the Beatrice Cold Storage company, was killed December 5, 1918, while in charge of poultry which was being shipped from Fremont to San Francisco. The body was found in the car of Lodge Pole, Neb.

NEBRASKA POTATOES SELLING AT FROM $1.25 TO $1.40 BUSHEL

Hemingford, Neb., Oct. 1.—Potato market has opened here, the first cars having sold for $1.25 per bushel bulk and $1.40 per bushel sacked. This is the price received by the farmers. The dealers are asking ten to fifteen cents per bushel for handling.

The stock is nice and smooth, and in an even size with not very many extremely large potatoes. This is for both the early Ohio and the white varieties. The Red Triumphs, which all go south to Oklahoma, Louisiana and Texas for seed, will be a heavier crop and will run about the right size for seed. It is anticipated that the Triumphs with some fields with the large ones sorted out will open at about $1.60 per bushel, bulk. All the table stock potatoes will be marketed at once, and practically nothing but seed stock will be stored.

BOOKMARKS OF EVERY KIND

Strip of Bacon About the Most Unique That Des Moines Librarian Has Yet Found.

The most startling marker that Forest B. Spaulding, public librarian of Des Moines, Iowa, has come across in his books that have circulated from the library was a strip of underdone bacon. The most ordinary bookmark found in the books is the common variety of wire hairpin. Hairpins might be collected by the hundreds, Mr. Spaulding says, but owing to the fact they are considered as fairly worthless from the collector's standpoint.

The vacation season is announced usually by the presence of snapshots in the returned books. These are both personal or otherwise in character. Postcards and letters, too, come in often. Frequently letters addressed and stamped are found just as they were left by the book borrower who doubtless was proceeding postofficeward by way of the library. These are mailed from the library.

Mr. Spaulding has noticed any number of pretty girls sitting on the bench at Riverview Park with books, and he has been looking forward all summer to recovering a bathing suit abscondingly left by one of the young ladies in her book.

reason of those same beautiful curls, but it was a very sore point with him. He came very near, however, turning it to advantage one afternoon when his six-year-old sister was giving a birthday party "for girls only."

Poor little Joe wandered around the refreshments spread on the grass, gazing wistfully at the cookies and lemonade which his sister was serving to her little girl guests.

"No, Joe, this party is only for little girls, and no boys can come." Then poor little Joe turned past taunts into an argument that would admit him, and wailed out, "Well, sister, I ain't much of a boy, anyway."

Sam Had His Fee.

Sam was on trial, charged with stealing ten dollars. He pleaded not guilty. Being unable to hire a lawyer, the judge appointed young Clarke as counsel. Clarke put up a strong plea in defense, and Sam was acquitted. Afterward the pair met outside the courtroom.

"Now, Sam," said the young lawyer, "you know the court allows the counsel very little indeed for defending a case of this kind. I worked hard for you and got you clear. I'm really entitled to a good big fee and you should dig up some money and pay me. Have you got any money at all?"

"Yes, sah," replied Sam, happily. "I still done got dat ten dollars."

CLINIC HAS PROVED WORTH

Organization Established by Boston Firm Well Worthy of Imitation by Other Employers.

A pioneer medical clinic, established 15 years ago to protect the health of 600 employees, and gradually enlarged and expanded until it now cares for a total of 2,700—that is the record proudly held today by a well-known Boston firm. At the time of its organization the medical director was in charge of the clinic in the capacity of director and visiting nurse. Now the clinic is in charge of a practicing physician and surgeon, assisted by three full-time graduate nurses.

During the influenza epidemic of last winter, over 350 employees were treated per day, with only six deaths during the entire course of the dreaded disease. All cases were given careful individual attention and, in instances where no family doctor was in attendance, immediate arrangements were made for medical care.

It is the policy of the nurses in the clinic to advise all employees with whom they come in contact to be insured, an activity which the firm itself handles through an employees' organization. The purpose of such advice is to secure insurance for all employees in order that they may receive its benefits after one week's illness.

This arrangement does not place a premium upon the employees' being ill, and at the same time the clinic co-operates in the matter of insurance.

A dental clinic is in a formative state and, no doubt, will be established in a short time. The plan and method of administration and organization is simply in the making, but it is safe to say that the dental clinic will be as efficient as the medical clinic.

The Modern Hospital, in describing the clinic, says that it has fully proved its value in protecting the health of the employees of this particular company and merits the commendation and imitation of other mercantile and industrial establishments.

SETTLE THEIR DIFFERENCES

By stipulations filed in the district court Thursday afternoon, the two damage cases filed against William Palmer in which his nephew Lloyd Palmer, and a Miss Johnson appeared as the plaintiffs, have been dismissed, together with the various other suits and counter suits filed as a result of the differences between the uncle and nephew.

Under the terms of the settlement William Palmer secures possession of the farm which Lloyd Palmer occupies. The litigants are to pay their own court costs.

Lloyd Palmer was recently bound over to the district court on a charge of adultery, his uncle appearing as the complaining witness. It is understood that this case will not be pushed.

In the litigation, Fred W. Messmore and Frank Dutton appeared as attorneys for Lloyd Palmer and Sackett & Brewster and Walter A. Vasey for William Palmer, who is a well known resident of the Liberty vicinity.
