BRYAN HAPPY AFTER DEFEAT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3 (United Press).—The administration today remained in control of the Democratic National Convention.

William Jennings Bryan, who loomed as the highest in the situation as he conducted his whirlwind fight to break up President Wilson's platform, has been beaten down by the administration forces. He got the cheers, but not the votes, in the dramatic appearance before the convention, where he attempted to side-track the league of nations issue and put a dry plank in the platform.

Early this morning, Bryan, very tired and scarcely able to keep his eyes open, but still retaining his famous smile, stood in his room at the St. Francis shaking hands with scores of admirers who crowded the place eager to congratulate him on his great speech. He murmured a few words to each, but even an effort to talk was almost too much. Bryan said he was not sure whether he would sit with the Nebraska delegation today, and he would not say for whom he would vote if he did so. There were a few crumbs of comfort in the fact that the convention had turned down the wet plank offered by W. Bourke Cockran, of New York. Bryan's friends professed to believe his oratory had something to do with that.

CITY READY FOR GAY HOLIDAYS

Rush for Seashore, Down State Points, for Over Week-End

AUTO TOURISTS ON JOY JAUNTS, TOO

With the double holiday, because of the Fourth of July, Wilmingtonians expect to have a joyous time over Sunday and Monday. No formal public celebration of Independence Day has been arranged in Wilmington, although there will be a street parade in the afternoon, in honor of Prince and Princess Gustav, of Lithuania, the prince being minister plenipotentiary to the United States. He will visit Wilmington as guest of the Polish-American residents. Thousands of Wilmingtonians will spend the day at seashore resorts, in the country or in automobile touring. Railroad traffic was heavy this morning and early this afternoon the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroad stations in this city were thronged with week-end travelers. Atlantic City and points down the Delaware railroad were particularly favored. It was necessary for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to run extra trains down the Delaware railroad this afternoon. Travel to Rehoboth particularly was heavy. Auto touring is a popular diversion for over the Fourth of July. Hundreds of Wilmingtonians left today on auto trips. Others will go tomorrow. A constant stream of auto tourists from other states passed through Wilmington today. Some were going north, others south. The Hotel Dupont was an attraction to these tourists, and machines from a dozen different states were seen.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Here are two big chiefs of the wet and dry question, snapped at the Democratic convention. William Jennings Bryan, dry leader, is shown with his brother, Charles W. Bryan, also a delegate. Inset is Bourke Cockran, wet leader, and delegate from New York. In the presidential race of 1900 Cockran campaigned for W. J. Bryan. Now they're fighting on the liquor question.

SHIPPING UNDER U. S. CONTROL

Jones Act Gives Nation Opportunity to Recover Lost Marine Prestige

$25,000,000 YEARLY FOR NEW CARRIERS

Some staggering obligations are placed on the United States Shipping Board with the passage of the Jones Merchant Marine Bill, which became a law June 3, according to officials of the Atlantic Coast Shipbuilders Association, of which the Harlan plant, in this city, is a member.

The Shipping Board will not only control the existing government-owned merchant marine, representing an investment by American taxpayers of $100,000,000, but is charged with the responsibility for conserving the future of the American merchant marine as a whole, and of the vast shipbuilding industry built up to meet the needs of the nation during the war.

A prudent administration of the Jones legislation will not only develop the merchant marine and put America in the very front rank of commercial powers of the world, the officials declare, but will also do much towards halting the decline of shipbuilding, which has been apparent since the calling off of hostilities. The "big idea" back of the Jones act is not shipbuilding, but the creation of a merchant marine second to none. War showed all too plainly, this nation's woeful weakness in this direction. ADVISES COUPLE TO PATCH UP TROUBLES

With the advice to lie defendant and his wife to settle their differences themselves, Judge Hastings, in Municipal Court this morning fixed a temporary order of $15 a week against Carroll Mallory, Negro, for the support of his wife and two children. The case was referred to Assistant Probation Officer Oliver and continued until next Saturday.

When it was suggested that they return to each other and live together again, the young wife said: "I would rather not have the support of a man who has left me." (Continued on Page Two.)

WASHINGTON, July 3 (United Press).—Senator Warren G. Harding left Washington today for his home in Marion, Ohio. From there the Republican candidate will conduct his campaign for the Presidency. The Senator made the trip by automobile. Mrs. Harding accompanied him. His office force went by train. The Senator's party will travel leisurely, passing through historical Harper's Ferry and over the old national highway, and will spend Sunday night some distance from Marion and will drive into Senator Harding's home town where the big Fourth of July welcome is at its height, Monday afternoon. The Senator has been holding up (Continued on Page Two.)

LAST BOAT OFF P. & J. CO.'S WAYS

Launch Cargo Carrier Newark With Miss Mary J. O'Neil Sponsor

HOPE TO OBTAIN MORE CONTRACTS

The freight steamer "Norwalk," built by the Pusey and Jones Shipbuilding Company, was launched this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Miss Mary J. O'Neil, assistant librarian of the Pusey and Jones Company, broke a bottle of elder-champagne over the vessel's bow. Miss O'Neil, accompanied by George E. Enos, librarian, and a number of the office employees, formed the launching party. W. H. Thorne, assistant superintendent of the engineering department of the Eastern Steamship Company, of Boston, Mass., represented that company at the launching.

The "Norwalk" is an oil-burning cargo carrier, 261 feet long, and was built for the Eastern Steamship Company, which will place the vessel on the New York and Boston freight lines. The boat will probably be ready for delivery in about two months. While this was the last boat on the company's ways, the Pusey and Jones Company has several contracts pending. There are about two full months' work for the employees, and in the near future it is expected other operations will be under way.

GRANDMOTHER HAS TO GIVE UP CHILDREN

As he now has his two children in his custody, the order against Herman W. Harris was revoked by Judge Hastings, in Municipal Court this morning, on application of Philip L. Garrett, attorney for the defendant.

The children, raised from infancy by Harris' deceased wife's mother, who appeared in court this morning displaying much grief over the taking of the children from her by her son-in-law.

An order of $10 a week was placed against Harry Little for the support of his family.

McADOO HAS LEAD OF 25 OVER PALMER IN FIGHT FOR DEMOCRAT PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION BEFORE SECOND DAY BALLOTING BEGINS

Backers of President's Son-in-Law Predict Victory for Him on Fifth or Sixth Ballot Today—Palmer and Cox Gain on Second Ballot—Edwards Loses — Convention to Hear Message From Wilson

FIGHT MAY GO LATE INTO NIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3 (United Press).—The real battle of ballots is on today.

Yesterday's encounter was only a feeling out process—not even a reconnaissance in force.

Early morning indications were that the relative alignment of the rival armies on the third ballot would not be greatly different from what it was on the first. Far into the night at the various political headquarters there were conferences at which the day's campaign was worked out.

Supporters of the three leaders all express confidence in the outcome although McAdoo folk seem just a little more optimistic than the others. They still say they are holding back their real strength, and they continue to predict victory on the fifth or sixth ballot. Somewhat more consideration is given by delegates to this prediction than hitherto in view of the fact that McAdoo men made good yesterday on the promise to place their candidate at the head of the list on the first ballot notwithstanding his vote had not quite reached the figure named.

Indications pointed to a protracted session today. Even if McAdoo should win within the limits mentioned there are still the nominating speeches for (Continued on Page Two.)

SAULSBURY-JOSEPH SUPPORT MARSHALL

Delaware divided its vote for presidential nominees in the two ballots cast at the San Francisco convention yesterday. William G. McAdoo getting four and Vice-President Thomas D. Marshall two on each ballot. Former Senator Willard Saulsbury and former State Senator Harland M. Joseph of Midway, Sussex County, voted for Mr. Marshall while the other four delegates cast their votes for Mr. McAdoo.

The Delaware delegation, with the exception of its votes cast on roll call for the presidential nomination, got the habit yesterday of voting for Mr. Marshall. The six delegates all voted "nay" on Bryan's bone-dry plank, also on W. Bourke Cockran's wine and beer plank, and "nay" on the substitute plank to recognize the (Continued on Page Five.)

MRS. PELDYK IS IN DEATH SHADOW

Jake Peldyk, of Boxwood, who was arrested yesterday morning, by State Detective Frank W. McCoy and Constable George Whittington, charged with an assault upon his wife with intent to kill her, will be arraigned before Magistrate Harry I. Gillis this afternoon and formally committed to jail to await the result of his wife's injuries.

Mrs. Peldyk's condition is said to be critical.

Ban On Firearms

Chief of Police Black announced this morning that city ordinances forbidding the discharge of firearms or dangerous explosives within the city limits will be strictly enforced.

Persons desiring warrants against violators of the law will be accommodated upon calling at the police station.

Two-Thirds of Vote Cast Nominates

The number of votes necessary to nominate in the Democratic National Convention is two-thirds of the number of votes cast and not two-thirds of the number of delegates. Officials of the convention had erroneously announced the total number of delegates as 1016. The number officially announced is 1092, including two canal zone votes.

McAdoo Sleeps While Balloting Is On

NEW YORK, July 3 (United Press).—William G. McAdoo didn't go to his office in New York today, but expected to spend the day at his summer home at Huntington, N. Y., on Long Island. A drizzling rain was falling.

McAdoo left word on retiring last night that he should not be called until noon today so that he did not know of the results of the first ballots at San Francisco until awakened at that time.

DRUG CLERK FRUSTRATES SAFE ROBBERY; BEATEN

Ross Gelshert, a clerk in the drug store of Dr. Henry S. Willis, at Eleventh and Monroe streets, was assaulted by two men, last night, who had been frustrated in their attempts to rob the safe back of the prescription counter in the store.

The men were first noticed by Mr. Gelshert when they entered the store about 9:30 o'clock, and requested permission to use the telephone back of the soda fountain. A third man stood on the steps, evidently for the purpose of giving an alarm in the event of a policeman appearing on the scene. The man at the telephone was in plain view of several people in the store, but his companion disappeared back of the prescription counter.

Mr. Gelshert's suspicions were aroused and he went back to investigate and found the man standing by the safe, which had been opened. He insisted on the men leaving the store. They protested and as there were several persons in the store at the time Mr. Gelshert stepped outside to find an officer. He was followed by the men who attacked him without warning. One struck him on the back of the head with some blunt instrument, while the other man struck him in the face with something resembling steel knuckles. Though retaining consciousness, Mr. Gelshert was in a dazed condition as the result of the blows and was brutally beaten before those in the store were aware of what was taking place.

FATHER GLANCY GOES TO BALTO. CHURCH

The Rev. John A. Glancy, pastor of St. Joseph's Colored Church, Eleventh and French streets, who has been transferred to St. Francis Xavier's Church, Baltimore, will assume his new duties tomorrow.

The Rev. Justin McCarthy, of St. Peter's Xavier, Baltimore, will succeed Father Glancy at St. Joseph's. Father Glancy, who has been in the charge of the local church for nineteen years, celebrated the twentieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood a few weeks ago. He was born in Philadelphia and studied at St. Epiphany College and St. Joseph's seminary, Baltimore.

During his pastorate here, Father Glancy has made many friends for the church. He collected between two and three hundred thousand dollars for charitable purposes from all parts of the United States and Canada. He relieved his mission, which includes the church, St. Joseph's Home for Colored Boys and St. Joseph's Day School from all debts, including a $19,000 mortgage.

DEADLOCK MAY FORCE CONVENTION OVER WEEK

Many Delegates in Fighting Mood on Eve of Third Ballot

TALK FRAME-UP AGAINST McADOO

AUDITORIUM, San Francisco, July 3. (United Press).—Today will see the Democratic Presidential nominee selected or the convention deadlocked and going into its second week. Wary for lack of sleep the delegates were in fighting mood on the eve of third ballot which was to be taken shortly after the start of today's session. The convention was called to order at 9:47 o'clock.

The Rev. James L. Gordon of the First Congressional Church, San Francisco, delivered the invocation. The Indiana delegation, at a caucus today, decided to vote for Marshall on one or two more ballots and to caucus again later to decide whom to support. There is a strong leaning to Cox in the delegation, though Tom Taggart personally preferring McAdoo, would like the delegates to go to him.

The chairman of the Alabama delegation said McAdoo would get 12 votes on the first ballot, Palmer L. and Cox 3, a gain for McAdoo. They were anxious to get home and there were reports that strong efforts would be made to obtain the necessary two-thirds for one of the candidates on the sixth or seventh ballot of the convention.

A Tammany special train has been ordered for 8 o'clock this evening, indicating the New Yorkers think a nomination today is certain.

There were evidence of lassitude during the gathering of the clans and even the galleries—despite the importance of the day—were very slow in filling.

Fifteen minutes before the hour set to open the session there were not more than 300 people in visitors' section and the space reserved for delegates was still depopulated.

A large sign with the words "Palmer for President" was in the Pennsylvania section. The Cox cheering squad re-established its place in the east gallery and it appeared likely there would be conflicts between these contestants.

There was great interest in what would be done with the "favorite son" votes on the early ballots.
