Fancy Oats.

JUST received, the fourth car of those Fancy Oats, that make the horses laugh. None like them in the city is what we hear said by many of our customers. While we are having a rushing trade in these, we are not neglecting other things in the Flour, Grain and Feed line. No other evidence is needed that our store is the best place to purchase goods of this kind than the constantly increasing patronage from close cash buyers. Come and be convinced as many others have.

THE "WELCOME" WRINGER

Is the Best Because it has

Rolls of Large Diameter,

Made of the most durable and elastic rubber, which allow bunches, buttons, etc., to pass through without injury to machine or clothing.

A Combination Spring

Of Steel, Rubber, and Wood, that secures a perfectly even pressure at all times, and is guaranteed not to break.

A Single Long Pressure Screw

With which the rolls are adjusted more easily, and in half the time they can be where two are used.

AN EXTRA LONG CRANK

By which power is gained without the loss of speed, thus making an easy, but not a slow, turning Wringer.

Patent Flange Cogwheels,

On both ends of each roll, so arranged as to form a double gear, and which are kept from "bottoming" by the flanges.

AN IMPROVED WATERBOARD,

Which prevents all slopping of water in wringing any article, large or small.

The "WELCOME" will wring thin as well as thick articles dry; it turns as easily as any Purchase Gear Wringer, and will wring twice as fast and last twice as long; the action of the spring is not limited by blocks or pins at the ends, nor is the operator prevented from obtaining its full use by a short-threaded pressure screw.

Try it with Any Other and Keep the Best.

PRICE NOW $6.50.

The price will be advanced March 1st.

The Democratic Convention—Where Will It Be Held—Cincinnati Ahead in the Struggle—Gathering of the Clans—Tilden's Hopes Buried—Randall a Dark Horse—Tilden's Strength to be Thrown in His Favor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—At 8 o'clock to-night it is generally conceded that Cincinnati has won the Democratic convention and that the time will be the 23d of June. Still the fight goes on between Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago, all other points being out of the race. Willard's Hotel, where all the headquarters are established, is again crowded to-night and every phase of politics is being discussed. The friends of Tilden give out that he is indifferent as to where the convention may be held, except that he does not favor Washington. The Kelly men from New York favor Cincinnati for the reason, as they assert, that Tilden favors St. Louis. There is such an intense rivalry between St. Louis and Chicago that the votes controlled by St. Louis will go to Cincinnati rather than see the convention go to Chicago, and vice versa. Amid the discussions stimulated by the approaching meeting of the National Democratic Committee it is noticed that the name of Samuel J. Randall is earnestly mentioned as the coming dark horse. Tilden's friends freely admit that when it is clearly demonstrated that he cannot secure the nomination his entire strength will be cast for Randall. Taking up the idea that Southern men admit that Randall would not be objectionable to their section, he could easily unite the vote of the South in the National convention. Tilden is being withdrawn. It is conceded on all sides that Randall could have the undivided support of the Pennsylvania delegation, while New Yorkers express the opinion that his nomination would harmonize the two factions in their State. Such is the political situation, as gathered among the great crowds of politicians from all sections of the country, who are to-night crowded in the lobby at Willard's Hall. It should be stated that the second place on the ticket is scarcely mentioned, all interest being concentrated on the presidential nominee.

Judge Lowell, of Virginia, proxy for R. A. Coghill on the Democratic National Committee, arrived here to-night. The judge is for Washington first as the place of holding the convention, but as Washington has no chance he will vote for Cincinnati. The friends of Cincinnati at this hour (11 p. m.) claim twenty votes on the first ballot.

The Washington Post to-morrow will have the following article on the action of the National Democratic Committee:

"It is quite probable that Cincinnati will be selected by the committee as the place at which to hold the Democratic National convention, although St. Louis and Chicago are each making a strong pull for it. There are arguments in favor of Cincinnati which do not apply to the other cities, and while a matter of mere preference or caprice, the editor of this paper would prefer St. Louis to Chicago and Washington to either. He is frank enough to admit that there is a good deal of force in the claim made by Cincinnati. Ohio is a close State and Cincinnati a pretty evenly divided city. The presence of twenty or fifty thousand representative Democrats in that city for a week would not be without influence, and in a contest as close as that of 1876 might turn the scales in favor of the Democratic candidates. Ten thousand Southern Democrats brought to combat with as many thousand Cincinnatians would pluck out of their eyes a good many 'motes and and beams.' Missouri does not need to be any more Democratic than she is, and Illinois is as hopelessly joined to radicalism as Kansas. We have no doubt the convention could be more cheaply, more comfortably and more agreeably entertained in Washington than anywhere else, but the absurd notion that the nominations made here would be subject to the charge of Congressional dictation will doubtless practically rule this city out of the list of competitors. That being the case, in the interest of the party simply we shall hope to see Cincinnati selected. As to the time there is but little to be said. From ten to twenty days after the Republican convention shall have completed its work would be the most politic period. If Grant should be nominated at Chicago it might be wiser to select a different man than the one who could with safety be pitted against Blaine. In two weeks time the smoke of battle will lift and the conditions of the Republican party with Grant be clearly discernible. At Cincinnati on the 15th of June will be as well therefore as we can hope to have it."

The Monroe Doctrine Attacked by the Colombian Minister.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—Senor Don Justo Arosemena, minister resident from Colombia, has prepared and printed a pamphlet attacking the Monroe doctrine, and arguing against the policy which President Hayes is understood to have adopted on that subject, and with reference to the inter-oceanic canal. Senor Arosemena has caused copies of his pamphlet to be circulated among certain members of the House, and has had them sent to some Senators who are supposed to be advocates of the canal project and in favor of the Monroe doctrine. This attempt on the part of a foreign minister resident in Washington to intermeddle with our affairs recalls the case of the French ambassador Genet, who in 1793-4 openly antagonized President Washington's Franco-English neutrality proclamation. Gen. Washington resented the French minister's conduct to that extent that Genet was recalled by his Government. What course the President will pursue in this case when Minister Genet's action is brought to his official notice cannot of course be stated, but it is predicted that he will take Washington's action as above alluded to as a precedent. Otherwise it is assured that the House special committee on the inter-oceanic canal will report the matter to the House.

Greenbacker Weaver Still Persists.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—In the House to-morrow the pending question after the call of States will be the resolution of Mr. Coffroth to fix a night for the consideration of pensions. Mr. Weaver will then again try to get in his resolution in regard to finances, but there are a number of committees which have reports, and the Speaker will recognize the representatives of committees before he will individuals.

NEW YORK.

Grant's Strength in the Utica Convention—Blaine a Good Second.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The Republican State convention, which meets at Utica on Wednesday next, will consist of 410 delegates chosen from the 128 Assembly districts into which New York is divided. Up to last evening the result of the contests in 117 of these districts had been ascertained. The districts heard from elect 374 of the 410 delegates to the convention. Of these 374 delegates, 217 are either instructed to vote for Grant or have expressed their preference for him. Senator Blaine has secured the votes of about 123, and there are 34 whose preference is unknown.

A Defeat For Mr. Curtis.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The Republican convention of Richmond county met at Stapleton Friday, and elected Abraham J. Wood, William H. Van Name and Adrian Post delegates to the State Convention at Utica. George W. Curtis and his friends made a fight, but were beaten. The delegates are not all pledged to the ex-President and have received no instructions how to cast their votes. The convention was quite exciting and hot words passed between prominent delegates. DeWitt C. Stafford, an avowed Curtis man, called the convention to order. It was found that there were several contesting delegations, and the committee to whom the matter was instructed reported in favor of seating the anti-Curtis delegates. In balloting for delegates to the convention after Messrs. Van Name and Wood had been elected, a contest was made for third delegate between Mr. Post and Mr. Curtis, but the latter was defeated by 12 votes. The delegates were then given power to fill any vacancies in their number and the convention adjourned without instructing them to cast the votes of the Republicans of Richmond county for any particular person. It is claimed, however, that Messrs. Wood and Post are in favor of the ex-President, while Mr. Van Name is said to lean toward Blaine.

Mr. Curtis took his defeat good naturedly and said it was no surprise, as he had not expected to receive more than twenty votes in the convention. Mr. Curtis' friends were indignant, especially as this is the first time their candidate has ever met with defeat, and some of them threatened to scratch the ex-President should he be nominated. They blamed the State administration for their defeat. Commissioner Judd, the leader of the third term party, and his followers were jubilant, and it was evident that they considered themselves fortunate in securing victory. Having been asked why the delegates were not instructed to vote for the ex-President, one of Mr. Judd's strongest supporters said that it would have been dangerous to offer such a resolution in convention, as his leader had only about twenty-five delegates upon whom he could he rely to vote for such a proposition.

Ireland's Distress—The Worst Yet to Come—Provisions to Cope with the Suffering.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The subscriptions to the Herald famine fund yesterday amounted to $9,087.90, making a total of $237,101.77. The Herald's special cable from Dublin says: The distress in Ireland grows more widespread every day. It is only through the admirable machinery of distribution, organized by the Mansion House and Marlborough committees, that actual starvation is checked. The famine will probably intensify during the coming fortnight, after which for a short period it will be probably less severe in consequence of the employment of labor in the sowing of crops. This done, the worst crisis will follow. Jonathan Pim, who is famous for his labors in 1847, told the correspondent of the Herald to-day that the worst time would be the last fortnight in May, all through June and the first fortnight in July. This is confirmed by experience. It is also the opinion of every authority on the subject. Mr. Charles Kennedy, an active member of the Mansion House committee, told me to-day that he believed the present committee could manage the distress for a considerable time, but their funds would be nearly, if not quite, exhausted when the most crushing crisis arrived. He would advise the Herald to make the American fund as large as it could, and then to husband it as far as possible so as to step in when the other funds were low. America would then be the actual saviour and mainstay of the people.

The Tribune's London special says: James Redpath, now in Dublin, reports that he has received letters from almost every barony in Kerry, Mayo, Galway, Sligo, Donegal, South Cork and Clare counties, where the destitution is greatest, ranking in the order named. The writers are mostly priests. The letters indicate that the distress is greater than has been represented in America. It is increasing rapidly and spreading in many directions. Fever is breaking out in a number of districts. The physicians say this is produced by want. Pathetic accounts of nakedness and extreme want come from Arran Island, Valentia and other isles on the west coast. Similar stories come from the counties of Cavan, Fermanagh, Leitrim, Limerick, Monaghan and Roscommon. A Dublin paper publishes a cable dispatch saying that American contributions will now probably cease because it is reported from Dublin that there is sufficient to prevent further suffering. Mr. Redpath says no such fund exists in Dublin, and unless liberal contributions continue he believes that hundreds, probably thousands, of families will perish. Priests and prominent laymen from different districts of the west of Ireland whom Mr. Redpath met in Dublin confirm his statements in letters.

A Big Strike in Prospect.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—From the number of workingmen's agitation meetings held in all parts of the city to day, and the secrecy with which the proceedings of some of them were conducted, there seems but little doubt that the trades union societies are preparing for a big strike about April next. Five hundred cabinet makers on strike from the furniture factory held a meeting this afternoon and resolved not to go to work unless their wages were increased 15 per cent. and the 10 per cent. recently taken off was restored. Three hundred clothing cutters held a meeting this afternoon for the purpose of organizing a union association. The present season has been an unusually busy one in the clothing trade, owing to the success of the crops and the large exportations of grain to Europe. The Eastern clothing trade was never in such a prosperous condition and clothing cutters are receiving from $12 to $24 per week. After routine business it was resolved "that we bind ourselves to form a strong union of all the cutters in New York for the purpose of being led by united action to success in gaining for our families and ourselves a better standard of comfort. The clothing makers or middlemen, who receive goods from the manufacturers and sub-let the making of them to journeymen, met this afternoon for the purpose of forming a union. They claim they cannot fill their contracts at present rates, and will demand an increase in the scale of prices.

The Burned Firemen—Recovery of Their Remains.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—The body of John F. Cassidy, who perished at the fire Friday evening, was recovered at 8 o'clock this morning. It was discovered about eight feet further toward Broadway than that of Dougherty and was buried beneath a heap of half burned dry goods and rolled up tin which had fallen from the roof. A large timber lay across the chest of the brave man, while over the right leg was a piece of tin ten or twelve feet square. The body was lying on the back and the right arm was raised over the head as if warding off the blow from some falling projectile. The right hand was burned to a crisp and the chest crushed in, the fracture being mostly on the right side. The face was charred and the flesh was burned from the lower jaw on the right side over the region of the liver. There was a deep cut about two inches in length. Both Cassidy and Dougherty will be buried to-morrow.

A Big Record for Brown.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The six day go-as-you-please walking match at the Agricultural Hall came to a close last night. "Blower" Brown scored 553 miles, Hazael 480 and Day 456, Brown beating Hazael's previous record by three hours and eight minutes.

A Life of Torture—The Czar Almost a Prisoner.

LONDON, Feb. 22.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent telegraphs the following: "Lately the Czar hardly ever left the the Winter Palace. When he went abroad he was surrounded by a cloud of mounted officers, who concealed the carriage and protected the inmates with their bodies. In the palace he was accessible only to diplomatists, dignitaries and officers of the household. At chapel detectives occupied seats that were formerly reserved for distinguished visitors. Detectives invested the kitchen. Every dish was tasted by persons of rank, specially selected for the purpose. The Emperor did not even dare to open his letters, documents steeped in poison having repeatedly been sent him. Yet, with all these elaborate precautions it occurred to nobody to search for the announced, advertised and placarded mine in the basement. The Emperor and the Duchess of Edinburgh were seated in an apartment next to the dining room when they heard the report of the explosion. The lights were extinguished and the gas pipe burst. The officers and the valets went blindly through the dark, and then poured promiscuously through the door of the royal apartments. The sovereign was found groping his way out of the fatal quarter. All who saw the sight—the picture of Alexander II. leading his daughter away from the mine of dynamite—say it was one that could never be forgotten."

The Czar's Escape—Hartmann's Arrest—His Supposed Connection With the Moscow Plot.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The arrest of Hartmann, alias Karl Meyer, is likely to lead to unusual complications. He is a young man of twenty-five, of middle stature and weakly frame, and to this extent his description tallies with that of the conspirator who, in the presence of a notary, bought for 2,500f. a house beside the Moscow track and laid the mine from which the Czar barely escaped in December. Witnesses who lived in the neighborhood are believed to be on their way from Moscow, but their task of identifying him will be the more difficult because the conspirator and the girl who lived with him were rarely seen outside their room, where the Czar's picture hung and saints were enshrined and the penitential taper daily burned. He was traced from Geneva, whither the young woman is believed to have escaped. Copies of the Tocsin, the nihilist organ which is secretly printed in the Swiss capital, were found in his possession. The Russian police have established an agency in Geneva, and having intercepted much underground correspondence between Russia and Switzerland, they have succeeded in scattering the gang who gathered round Stefanovitch and the late Leo Deutsch. The prisoner is being treated with consideration pending the answer to the inquiries that have been sent to Moscow. His identity is not yet certain; but extradition will be granted if the prisoner is shown to be guilty of a common law offence. If his offence is proved to be political, extradition will be refused. There is no extradition treaty between France and Russia. The statement published that some reactionary deputies have applied for the man's release, were told that if it appeared that the man was connected with the Moscow attempt he would be surrendered to the Russian authorities, is erroneous. The fact seems to be that three leaders of the Republican groups (not reactionaries) asked Premier de Freycinet whether the man is charged with a political or common law offense, and the Premier referred them to M. Cazot, Minister of Justice.

A dispatch from Paris to the Standard says: "M. Cazot claimed for the Government perfect freedom to take whatever course it might think advisable, assuming the entire responsibility. M. Taillandier, Republican member of the Chamber of Deputies, expressed dissatisfaction with this reply, but said he would refer it to his colleagues at the next meeting of the Extreme Left. The irreconcilable organs are highly indignant at the arrest. The Mot d'Ordre, Rappel, Lanterne and Justice regard the alleged offence as absolutely political.

Several further deaths have resulted from the injuries received at the late explosion at the Winter Palace.

Terrible Famine in Russia.

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The Temps publishes a letter from St. Petersburg which says: "The news from the interior of the empire is heart-rending. Famine and diphtheria are decimating the population. The provinces of Saratof and Kief which annually export, in ordinary times, enormous quantities of grain had scarcely any crop last year. The calamity is aggravated by the want of fodder for the cattle, the peasants being forced to sell them. In the Caucasus the famine is still greater, where people are committing suicide and selling their children."

Powers of the New Ironclad.

ROME, Feb. 22.—In the Chamber of Deputies yesterday Signor Brin, formerly Minister of Marine, declared that the double-turreted ironclad Duilio is absolutely superior to all the ironclads in the world for the power of her machinery and armament, and is only slightly excelled by the British ironclad Alexandria for speed. The Minister of Marine confirmed Signor Brin's statement, and said that it was indispensable for large ironclads to have numerous torpedo boats. The Chamber then passed a resolution of satisfaction and thanks to the constructors of the vessel.

Outrageous Assault By a Tramp.

MARBLEHEAD, Feb. 22.—Friday afternoon a tramp called at one of the summer residences on the Neck where Mr. Samuel Doliver is living. Inquiry was made if the man of the house was in. On being answered that he was not at home, the tramp made a desperate assault on Mrs. Doliver, knocking her down, and, doubtless, would have accomplished his villainous purpose but for her terrible struggles and screams. The tramp, fearing assistance might be near, fled. Mrs. Doliver, with wonderful courage and great presence of mind, seized the revolver of her husband, lying near, and discharged two barrels through the door after the villain, who managed to escape, though careful search was made for him on the return of Mr. Doliver. This is the third attempt at outrage in this town by tramps this week.

It seems that James Worrell, son of William Worrell, was engaged to a young lady, but not having the means to marry, he undertook to destroy his father and sister in order that he might come into possession of the property. Before setting fire to the house he locked his sister in one room and his father in another room. Fortunately a servant discovered them in time to save their lives. Young Worrell is 21 years old, highly educated, and his family is highly respected.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Feb. 22.—The Arsenal street Methodist church was burned this morning. Loss $15,000; insurance $8,000. The property was located in the midst of the business portion of the city, and had there been any wind the loss would have been tremendous. The State arsenal adjacent to the church was damaged $1,200. The arsenal was to have been completed by March 1 and was not insured. The damage was in the burning of cornices and broken glass. The fire originated in the cellar, coming from the furnace.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 22.—This evening the livery stable of E. & A. H. Hayward, in Newport, was burned. Eight horses and forty tons of hay, thirty carriages, most of the latter were new and never had been used, and a lot of harnesses were lost. John Shaw perished in the flames. It is believed he set the stable on fire. He was suspected of firing two other large stables and several private premises not long ago, when it seemed as if the fire king was located in Newport.

JOHN H. DAVIS & CO., Bankers and Brokers, }
No. 17 Wall street, New York.
Feb. 21, 1880.

The market for railway and miscellaneous shares has shown decided activity this week, and prices have generally been strong. Nearly all the different groups or classes of stocks have shared in the activity, the Gould stocks being relatively the least conspicuous for any great strength or continued large sales. To-day, however, between 11 and 12 o'clock there was a sudden break of 1@2 per cent.; most of this was later recovered, and, under the influence of the favorable bank statement, the market closed strong. Perhaps the most conspicuous stock was Nashville & Chattanooga which, closing at 102¾ last night, advanced to 111¼ on the movement to force the short interest to cover.

The Bond Market.—There has been an immense business in Government bonds, but prices varied from day to day with reports from Washington. On Thursday the report was telegraphed that Senator Bayard of the Senate Finance Committee, was opposed to the new funding bill, and prices fell off about ⅜ per cent. in consequence, but later it was telegraphed that there was no truth whatever in the report, and bonds closed up strong.

LOCAL NEWS.

West Haven.

Last Friday night a large party of the friends of Captain D. M. White, residing on Thomas street, near Railroad Grove, came down from New Haven and invaded his residence. He took in the situation at a glance and surrendered without any parleying, and he and his estimable wife soon made them feel at home. They were headed by Frank Anthony and the Messrs. Fulton. Deputy Sheriff William B. Catlin was along to see that everything passed off right, all bringing their ladies with them, with a supply of refreshments. Four musicians discoursed enlivening strains during the evening, and the older as well as the younger could not resist the temptation of "tripping the light fantastic toe." The dining room was soon cleared and beautifully decorated with the stars and stripes, and the festivities were kept up until the small hours of the morning. Superintendent Ward, in the meantime, had kept a car in waiting for them, and they departed well pleased with their night's entertainment, wishing the host and hostess much happiness.
