

HER SHARP EYES TRAP 'MONEY' MAKERS

Detroit Girl Gets Credit for Unearthing Band of 100
Counterfeiters.

DETROIT, Mich., Feb. 28.—The observing eye of nineteen year old Miss Jean Siegel, Detroit, resulted in disclosures which led to the sensational arrest of the gang of international counterfeiters in New York recently, it became known today.

Miss Siegel, who works in her father's store, noticed that Mrs. Lillian Rossi, who with her husband, Angelo, were recently sentenced to a Federal prison for counterfeiting, failed to count her change when she tendered a $20 bill for a small purchase.

When Mrs. Rossi failed to count her change, Miss Siegel told her mother, who examined the bill and, after taking it to the bank, discovered it was counterfeit.

Miss Siegel and her mother notified Inspector Gustave Schink, who made a tour of the neighborhood stores and learned that several other spurious bills had been passed.

A watch was set for the passers of the worthless money and a few days later John Strombeck, a grocer notified the inspector that a girl had passed a worthless $20 bill in his store for a small purchase of groceries. Police arrested the girl, who was Freda Rossi, eight years old.

She took the officers to her home, where Mr. and Mrs. Rossi were arrested and several counterfeit $20 bills taken. The prisoners were questioned by Inspector Schink and Joseph A. Palma, of the New York and Detroit secret services.

Freda Rossi told them her parents made frequent trips to a small town near Buffalo, N. Y. She said her parents had given her and her brother the notes to pass.

Working on this information, Chief Palma and other secret service men staged the New York raid and arrested nearly 100 persons, who are now charged with being members of the gigantic counterfeiting ring.

other on Same Charge to Clarendon, Va.

Incorporation of Arlington county was urged by Hugh Reid of Cherrylade, in an address last night before the Ballston Citizens' Association. He declared that, by incorporation of the citizens of the county would be enabled to do many things over which they now had no authority.

Mr. Reid declared that the county had outgrown its present form of government. He declared that the enabling act, now in force gave the people only the right to decide whether or not they should have incorporation—that it placed the issue squarely before the people. Mrs. C. M. Rogers presided.

The Clarendon Circle of St. George's Episcopal Church will hold a cake sale at Dr. W. R. Boyer's drug store at Clarendon Saturday.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion of Arlington county will give a five hundred party for the benefit of the auxiliary Friday night at the home of Mrs. A. J. Porter.

HARDING URGES ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

His Letter to Commissioner Haynes Commends His Course of Action.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 28.—The importance of law enforcement, is referred to by President Harding in a letter, made public here yesterday by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

"I think it is a fine thing that you have this opportunity of stressing the utter importance of full law enforcement in order to sustain the dignity of Government and maintain that necessary respect for law and order which is the security of the republic," President Harding wrote to Haynes when the latter, by letter, informed the President of Harding's contemplated trip to Ohio and his engagement to address a joint session of the State legislature here on "law enforcement."

JUDGE HOLDS HUG WAS CHEAP AT $13.50

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28.—Egbert Cramer's lefthand drive and right-hand squeeze cost him $13.50 when arraigned before Magistrate Stillwagon at Ardmore. Young Cramer, who is twenty years old and lives in Bryn Mawr, was arrested by Motorcycle Policeman Ammon Saturday night driving his car along Lancaster pike with one arm on the wheel and the other around the waist of a girl companion.

"Can't you make it a little cheaper, Judge?" he pleaded when the magistrate had imposed the fine.

"You're certainly my idea of a bum sport," the magistrate retorted. "If you were out with a pretty girl and think $10 and costs is too much for your good time; why, I ought to make it $25 and costs, and—"

"Wait a minute, Judge," Cramer broke in, and produced the cash.

PENITENTIARY FUGITIVE SURRENDERS BY PHONE

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—Daniel St. John, twenty-three, who, with two other convicts, escaped from the penitentiary on Welfare Island last Saturday night, late yesterday gave himself up. Two guards were sent to the spot and St. John was there.

Walls said St. John had given the authorities the details of the escape, but the commissioner said he could not disclose them at the time. The prisoners are said to have stolen a skiff tied up at the island and made their way to a point near Ravenswood Park, Long Island City.

POSTMASTER AT MT. RAINIER NAMED

Eulysse Hoge Gets Temporary Appointment—House Mail Service to Start Soon.

MT. RAINIER, Md., Feb. 28.—Eulysse Hoge was appointed to be temporary postmaster here as a climax to a fight that has been waging for several weeks among local Republicans. The home delivery service is scheduled to begin tomorrow.

A strong movement has been started in the county looking toward the holding of elections in the public schools instead of in rented buildings, as at present. Backers of the move say that the change would result in saving a large sum to the taxpayers and would mean a much larger attendance at the elections. It is expected that official action will be asked of the authorities before the next election.

Feverish, Spasms of Coughing, Watery Eyes, Running Nose, Loss of Appetite.

"GIVE THEM HYPO-COD," SAYS WASHINGTON LADY

"My two boys, aged eleven and thirteen, caught a bad cold. They coughed incessantly and then they grew weak, lost their appetite—became feverish and flushed. Noses ran and eyes watered and I couldn't get either one to eat—they felt so badly. I had been told that Hypo-Cod was the thing for such troubles. I imagine if I had called the doctor he would have pronounced it 'flu', but Hypo-Cod worked like magic on both boys. It stopped the cough and it wasn't but a few days until all symptoms of cold disappeared. Then their appetite started coming back and honestly I could hardly cook enough to fill those boys up. I'm glad to endorse Hypo-Cod. I have also been benefited by it myself. I got to feeling exhausted, worn out and weak and it built and revived me just fine. I think every claim the Hypo-Cod people make is true," declared Mrs. P. C. Crowley, 120 Seaton place, Washington, D. C.

Influenza

Physicians advise keeping the bowels open as a safeguard against Grippe or Influenza.

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication.

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. Try it today.
