

ASSAULTED AS SHE GOT FOOD

Mrs. Talley Identifies Thomas as Negro Who Attacked Her

PRISONER HELD WITHOUT BAIL

Visibly affected when brought face to face with Ernest Thomas, Negro, whom she charged with committing a felonious assault upon her at her home, near Dexter's Corner, in Blackbird hundred, last Thursday morning, Mrs. Emma Talley, aged 58 years, white, identified the prisoner in Magistrate Gillis' office yesterday afternoon as the man who had attacked her. Thomas, who was handcuffed to Chief of Police Leo Cochran, of Smyrna, and guarded by State Detective McCoy and Constable Whittington, was sullen and refused to make any statements or ask any questions. The hearing before Magistrate Gillis lasted but a few minutes, Thomas being held without bail to answer the charge of felonious assault and committed to prison to await trial.

According to Mrs. Talley's testimony, she was attacked by Thomas while she was preparing him some food he had asked for. Thomas was arrested near Smyrna by Chief of Police Cochran, following the alleged assault and brought here for safe keeping.

HEAD OF CHRISTIANA PASTOR RESIGNS

Special to The Evening Journal. NEWARK, July 28.—The Rev. Walter R. Clyde, pastor of Head of Christiana Church for the past three years, announced his resignation at the services last Sunday morning. Mr. Clyde has accepted a call to the Presbyterian Church at Hesperia, Sioux county, Iowa. His resignation at Head of Christiana is effective August 22 and he will take up his duties in Iowa the first of September. Head of Christiana was Mr. Clyde's first charge and he has made a host of friends in Newark and vicinity during his three-year pastorate.

WOMEN OPEN COFFEE HOUSE

Hundreds of Wilmingtonians enjoyed the Betsy Montgomery Coffee House, which opened yesterday at 214 West Ninth street. It is under the direction of the Business and Professional Women's Club of this city.

The house is open daily, including Sunday and three meals will be served and afternoon tea will be served from 3 until 5 o'clock. The house welcomes both men and women guests.

There are three rooms in the new house, attractively done in white, with artistic hangings of gay color. The furnishings are in typical Colonial style. Even the waitresses wear quaint gray dresses. On each table is a cozy little lamp with colored shade. Attractive linen center, with blue edging also adorns the tables. Baskets of flowers added to the general attractiveness yesterday.

In the room set aside for the men patrons are three long tables.

Mrs. Ruth Van Doren Todd is in charge of the house. The head chef is Miss Hilda E. Olson, who has had wide experience before coming to this city. She was manager of the duPont Club at Carney's Point, N. J., and of the Women's Cafeteria at Carney's Point, and was formerly manager of a mountain resort hotel.

Two delegates of the local club, Miss Helen Garrett, president and Miss Helen Davis, corresponding secretary, are this week attending the convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs at St. Paul.

WANT INSPECTION FOR ALL PLANES

SEATTLE—Aviator R. I. Ehrlichman, who made the first flight from here to Yakima, over the Cascade mountains with a cargo of mail, is urging State or city inspection of all airplanes. "Same as elevator inspection," he says, "it will give the flying public greater safety."

HARRY T. MOREY IN "THE GAUNTLET"

Harry T. Morey has another fighting role in "The Gauntlet," a story of life in the mountains of Tennessee. He goes into the moonshine district to learn why a syndicate is anxious to purchase some land belonging to his father and has many unusual adventures. It is a story in which he fights his way every inch of the film.

At the Majestic Beginning Thursday.

"OUT OF THE SHADOW"

Pauline Frederick's picture "Out of the Shadow" will constitute the feature for today at the Rialto. This picture is one of the most absorbing that ever demanded the dramatic beauty and personality of a fervent Polly. A murder, the mystery surrounding it, the suspicion that rests upon an innocent woman and the further developments of the future furnish the real story of the picture. Wyndham Standing assumes the leading masculine role.

"THE TOWER OF IVORY"

The Queen Theatre is continuing its showing of the special double bill inaugurated last Monday. The feature of this program is "The Tower of Ivory" and the comedy, Mack Sennett's "Let 'Er Go."

"THE TOWER OF IVORY"

Gertrude Atherton wrote the story "The Tower of Ivory" upon which

"Out of the Storm" is based. This picture is a shining example of the unusual merit that comes with the selection of a famous story and the choosing for it of types best suited for its presentation.

Margery Hill who is the heroine of the story, is played by Barbara Castleton.

John Bowers plays the role of the young English nobleman who falls in love with Margery Hill. As usual Mr. Bowers gives his very best to an exceptionally worthy role.

"THE LUCK OF THE IRISH"

Some persons are under the impression that "The Luck of the Irish," now closing its run at the Majestic Theatre, is a picture of the Irish conditions and the state of affairs on the Emerald Isle. This is not the case. The picture is based on Harold MacGrath's story of the same name and deals with an Irish hero, a genial journeyman plumber of the U. S. A.

James Kirkwood and Anna Q. Nilsson play the leads effectively. The comedy in this program is "Edgar's Hamlet."

Harry Morey is coming tomorrow in his latest picture "The Gauntlet." This is a story of the mountains of Tennessee.

"EVE IN EXILE"

Charlotte Walker's picture "Eve in Exile" now showing at the Playhouse will finish its engagement following the required showings of today.

"Eve in Exile" is an unusual picture and the audiences at this theatre have been unusually large in addition to being unusually appreciative of the splendid worth of this production.

Miss Walker's undeniable beauty, her sincerity and her appreciation of the character presented her, has found for her a place in the affectionate regard of the patrons of the theatre.

Beginning tomorrow the feature will be "The Thirtieth Piece of Silver." This photoplay is founded on a story by Albert Payson Terhune, a well-known magazine writer.

AT THE SAVOY.

"Passers By" will have its last showing at The Savoy Theatre today. If J. Stuart Blackton has ever produced a better picture than "Passers By" it has slipped our memory. Herbert Havkinson is in the leading role, but it is more than a one star picture, for every member of the cast measures up to the part cast for them.

"Passers By" is a novel story of a wealthy young bachelor who wanted the friendship of the strange people who passed his window. So he invited them in and learned their varied philosophies of life. In this way he also found the love he thought he had lost forever. James Aubrey in a Big "V" Special Comedy, "He Laughs Last" is the added attraction. Tomorrow and for the balance of the

DOINGS OF THE DUFFS

HELLO, MRS. DUFF! GLAD TO SEE YOU! HAVE YOU BEEN AWAY THIS SUMMER YET?

NO, WE'RE JUST TRYING TO DECIDE WHERE WE'LL GO THIS SUMMER. I JUST GOT SOME PAMPHLETS ABOUT BOAT TRIPS TO LOOK OVER!

BOAT! DON'T MENTION BOAT TO ME - IT MAKES ME SICK TO MY STOMACH WHEN I THINK OF IT!

DID YOU GO ON A BOAT TRIP, MRS. PEARCE?

WE'RE JUST BACK FROM ONE, TWO WEEKS AGO - YESTERDAY IS THE FIRST DAY I'VE BEEN OUT SINCE WE GOT BACK! I WAS SEASICK THE WHOLE TRIP - IT STORMED AND RAINED AND OF COURSE WE COULDN'T GET OFF THE BOAT - DON'T SAY BOAT TO ME - NEVER AGAIN!

WELL, THAT WAS TOO BAD, MRS. PEARCE!

WELL, I GUESS THERE IS NO USE CARRYING THESE THINGS HOME!

CAPTAIN INSLEY OUT FOR SENATOR

Special to The Evening Journal. GEORGETOWN, July 28.—Miss Eliza P. Webb, daughter of Morris Webb, Greenwood, and Henry Glendaniel, son of John H. Glendaniel, Milton, were married Saturday by the Rev. Thomas S. Barrett, of Ellendale.

Miss Elizabeth Derriekson, daughter of Levin H. Derriekson, of near Frankford, and Victor S. Banks, 3556 Pine street, Philadelphia, were married last Thursday by the Rev. G. Everett Holt of Roxana.

An active Democrat, has announced his candidacy for the office of State Senator from the Second Senatorial district.

Richard Hawley, a poultry fancier of Little Creek district, claims to have the champion pullet of lower Delaware. The pullet is of the white orpington strain and started laying when three months and twenty-eight days old. The eggs are of normal weight and size. The pullet has established a record for early laying.

Funeral services of Mrs. Ida M. Carmine, wife of Otha Carmine, who died at her home on West Pine street, Saturday, were held yesterday afternoon.

DIG UP CANNON BALLS. Special to The Evening Journal. ELKTON, July 28.—The automobile of Warren Sentman, was recently stolen in North East.

While workmen were digging for the new Elkton sewer, several cannon balls were found many feet below the surface, in the "Hollow" on Main street.

HORRORS! NEVER HEARD OF CHAPLIN. LONDON.—M. Millerand, premier of France, and Auston Chamberlain, member of the British cabinet, had never heard of Charlie Chaplin, until the other day, a critic here says. Lloyd George has been a Chaplin fan for a long time.

SHE SOLD HOUSE—DIDN'T OWN IT. SEATTLE—Cope had Mrs. Marion Perkins arrested in Spokane for selling a house here. The trouble was that she didn't own the house. They're looking up Mrs. Perkins' past.

CELEBRATES 91ST BIRTHDAY. MILFORD, July 28.—Garrett L. Hynson, a well-known citizen of Milford, celebrated his ninety-first birthday Monday. Mr. Hynson has always been prominent in public affairs and is a former member of the Delaware General Assembly. He is the father of George B. Hynson, who was the candidate for Governor on the Progressive ticket in this State some years ago. The occasion was celebrated by his many friends calling and extending congratulations.

WEEK DAY CROWDS AT PARK.

Shoptop and Brandywine Springs Parks are entertaining more than the usual number of midweek visitors. There was a time when most of the park business was done on Saturdays and Sundays but this is no more the case with the Wilmington parks. Of course Sunday holds the record because that is the day on which most people can make pleasure trips but other days are also big and there does not appear to be much choice between them. The traction company is maintaining excellent trolley service to both parks.

FALLS ON AUTO: BREAKS SHOULDER

Special to The Evening Journal. LEWES, July 28.—Falling backward and striking the running board of an automobile from which he attempted to alight, Charles G. Hickman broke his shoulder blade, the bone was protruding through the flesh. As soon as he can be moved he will be taken to a hospital for an X-ray photograph to determine the extent of the fracture.
