

ZION HOSTS REVOLT

"Elijah III." Hears Multitude of the Faithful Murmur.

"BACK TO CHICAGO!" IS THE CRY

Zionists, Tired of the "Prophet's" Chiding and Sick From Lack of Proper Food, Want to Return to the Windy City.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—The leaders of Zionism, from "Elijah" himself down to the lowliest deputy overseer, were obliged to look meekly on while multitudes of the faithful began to take up the shout "Back to Chicago!" and to start for the railroad stations.

Dowie stamped and raged in vain. Weary and footsore with their pilgrimage among the unregenerate and afflicted with ill that failed to yield to treatment, they decided that little old Chicago was good enough for them and shed tears when any one mentioned the stock yards or the drainage canal.

Here in New York he has been peevish, querulous and irritable, chiding alike the just and unjust, until he has driven his own away from him and broken his power utterly.

The specialists will resemble hospital trains. Nearly 100 of the 750 who return to Zion are sick and will have to be taken to the trains in ambulances or carriages and nursed on the way home. The illness of many of these is declared to be due to improper food and lack of comfortable sleeping quarters.

It was predicted at Madison Square Garden even among the followers of "Elijah III." that he would give up his attempt to "restore New York to Zion" and that the entire host would take its departure.

M'LAUGHLIN SPEAKS.

Says Present Campaign Is One of Decency Against Crime.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—War to the knife between Mr. McLaughlin, the veteran leader of the Kings county Democracy, and Tammany Hall has been declared by Mr. McLaughlin in an interview published with his approval.

Mr. McLaughlin was asked whether the action of the special committee involved or would necessitate any change in his own attitude in the campaign. "Not in the least," was the answer. Continuing, he said:

"I take back nothing that I have said and abate none of my desire to have the community roused in antagonism to all the evils with which Tammany is identified.

"I see in the present campaign that deeper than any political issue lies the great moral issue of decency against crime, purity of life against 'red light' honesty in public office against graft.

"It would be impossible for me to give any countenance to what Tammany is and is doing without being false to the people of Brooklyn, false to my own convictions and doubly false to the whole cause of good government."

Will Try Lamar and Eastman Gang.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 23.—Prosecutor John E. Foster of Monmouth county, N. J., after consultation, has announced that he would move the trial of the indictment against David Lamar, "Monk" Eastman, Joseph Brown, Herbert Thompson and Bernard Smith for actual assault upon James McMahon, Lamar's former coachman. When the grand jury found the original indictment against the men for conspiracy to commit the assault it also found the one which the prosecutor proposes to try.

NOTICE

Look for our ad. Monday night, we are going to institute two special sales on Tuesday and Saturday each week. It will be to your advantage to look after our offerings.

Curious Superstition.

A correspondent of the "Field" mentions a curious superstition respecting bees dying on the death of their owner. "I have been," he writes, "to the sale of the effects of a gentleman who died about a fortnight since. In the catalogue three stocks of bees were entered for sale, but when the man went to move them out they were all dead. This is the third time I have personally known such an occurrence."

How He Knew.

Simpkins—How is it that you are always dressed to suit the weather and carry an umbrella at the right time? I read the government indications carefully, but I get left.

Timpkins—Oh, I don't bother with the forecasts. Got a better scheme than that.

Simpkins—What is it? Timpkins—My wife. Always get her opinion and do just the reverse.—N. Y. Times.

Railway Accidents in Holland. Railways in Holland are so carefully managed that the accidental deaths on them average only one a year for the entire country.

Brazil's Coffee Crop.

Brazil's crop of coffee this year equals fifteen-sixteenths of the world's consumption.

In After Years.

Wife—You used to say I was beautiful. Have I changed? Husband—No, but I have since I joined church.—Chicago Daily News.

Well Placed.

"Bob seems to be always in hot water." "Well, that's the place for a lobster."—Brooklyn Life.

Kind Not Uncommon.

Gentleman—You can't work on account of paralysis! Nonsense, you look as strong as I do.

Tramp—Well, ye see, boss, it's paralysis of de will dat I'm troubled wit.—Town and Country.

Earnings of Englishmen.

Of the 41,000,000 people in England, more than half of them live on an income of less than $12 a week, and the earnings of 7,000,000 of this number do not exceed $8 a week for the family.

Friendly Suggestion.

Biggs—I'm proud of my family tree. Diggs—You ought to whitewash it. "Whitewash it! What for?" "To keep the insects off."—Chicago Daily News.

HOW JAPS PLAY KEN.

Old Game Gives Belles of Far East Opportunity to Display Their Beautiful Hands.

In its most widely practiced form the basis of the Japanese game of ken is that the fully outstretched hand signifies paper; the fully closed hand, a stone; and two fingers alone extended, the rest being closed, scissors. Each of the players, says the Japan Mail, counting one, two, three, throws out his hand, at the moment of pronouncing three, and the out whose manual symbol is superior to that of the others, according to the theory of the game, was the trial.

Superiority is determined on the hypothesis that whereas scissors cannot cut a stone, they can cut paper, and whereas paper is cut by scissors, it can wrap up a stone. Consequently scissors is inferior to stone, but conquers paper; stone is inferior to paper, but conquers scissors, and paper is inferior to scissors, but conquers stone. There are innumerable varieties of the game—for it is not a mere method of determining a dispute of priority—and they are constantly added to by ingenious young ladies, the dancing-girl class especially, who play it with exquisite grace and judicious enhancement of beautiful hands and arms.

Matter of Orthography.

"And what is your first name, Mr. Peck?" asked the directory canvasser. "It was 'Claude' before I jumped the matrimonial hurdle," replied the scanty-haired Peck.

"Am I to understand that marriage altered your name?" queried the directory man.

"N—no, not exactly," replied the victim of circumstances, "only I spell it 'C-l-a-u-d-e' now."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

ORGANIZED LABOR.

Worcester, Mass., has a union of typewriter girls and stenographers. No men are allowed to join.

Labor Commissioner Hatchford, of Ohio, says that the average weekly earnings in the large cities of this State is $4.83, and their living expenses $5.23 per week. Whose prosperity is it?

Fifty-eight cents for ten hours' labor with needle and thread, represents the average earnings of hundreds of women in the tenement districts in New York, according to the report of John McMackin, commissioner of labor.

Canton wants a labor temple and $50,000 one at that. As one of the means of raising finance for the labor temple fund, a league of nurse for workingmen will be introduced in Canton this winter. There have been practically no nurses in Samuel Gompers' union.

President Gubbins, of the Bricklayers and Stone Masons' International Union, makes the statement that the "national body" will absorb the "local" stone cutters and the stone masons' international union.

John J. Duffy, of East Liverpool, is the youngest national president of a labor union in this country. He is 26 years old when he was elected president of the International Brotherhood of Potters of America.

The American Railway Union has twelve members and now numbers 100 in the United States. It was established in 1887, and its membership plan, and it has received $12,000,000 in benefits to widows and orphans.

X-RAY COLORS DIAMONDS.

Dr. J. J. G. discovers Method of Giving Stones Any Color Chosen. Also of Bleaching Them Again.

From Chicago the following dispatch has been received: Predictions of a new color for diamonds in the town of Edward, the Hope diamond and other famous gems of the kind can be practically duplicated at will were made by W. C. Fuchs at a Chicago X-ray experiment station. Mr. Fuchs announced the discovery of a process by which he is able to change a diamond to any color chosen and make such coloration permanent by the use of the Roentgen rays.

The method consists in directing the X-ray through the substances from which the color is to be obtained before the rays touch and penetrate the diamond. Various metals and chemicals have been used to color the diamonds, and it has been found that by reversing the method, the color may also be removed.

It is thought by Mr. Fuchs that when he has completely perfected his experiments he will be able to bleach yellow diamonds with ease.

To Wash a White Lace Veil.

Put the veil into a strong lather of white soap and clean water and let it simmer for a quarter of an hour; then take it out of the suds and squeeze it well, taking care not to rub it. Rinse twice in cold water, adding a drop or two of liquid blue to the second water. Have ready some very clear, weak gum arabic water or some thin starch or rice water. Pass the veil through this and clear it by slapping; then stretch it out evenly and pin it to dry on a linen cloth, having the edge as straight as possible, and letting each scallop be fastened with a pin. When dry, lay a piece of thin linen over it and iron it on the wrong side.—American Queen.
