ST. LOUIS FIRMS REDUCE WHOLESALE SHOE PRICES

Various Styles of Footwear Lowered, Varying From 25 Cents to $2 a Pair.

ST. LOUIS, June 9.—Reductions in the wholesale prices of various styles of shoes of from 25 cents to $2 a pair were announced yesterday by officials of three of the largest shoe-manufacturing establishments here. Officials of the three establishments emphasized that the new prices were not the result of an agreement by the three firms.

A. C. Brown, president of one company, asserted that "tight money" and the resultant difficulty met by retailers in borrowing money was the chief cause of the lowered prices. Reduced prices on certain grades of leather were assigned as a contributory cause.

CARUSO IS ROBBED OF $500,000 IN GEMS

Theft at East Hampton, N. Y., Is Believed to Have Been "Inside Job."

EAST HAMPTON, N. Y., June 9.—Although all roads leading from the home of Enrico Caruso, opera singer, have been closely guarded since the $500,000 jewel robbery there last night, detectives today expressed belief that the theft was an "inside job." The way in which the jewels were taken, the police say, indicates that the burglars were familiar with the inside of the house.

The robbery was discovered by Mrs. Caruso about 10:30 o'clock last night. In addition to the diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, valued at between $75,000 and $100,000, the bridal gift of Mr. Caruso, also was taken. A partial list of stolen jewels, made public by the police, includes eight diamond rings, a pair of diamond earrings, two diamond hairpins, a flexible diamond bracelet and two gold watches.

Mrs. Caruso said later that she was in the parlor sewing when the burglar alarm began to ring. She rushed upstairs and found the window in her bedroom broken and the steel safe gone. There were no signs of a ladder, but entrance could have been gained by climbing to a roof, she said.

The safe was found later on the lawn about 200 yards from the house, which is situated in a lonely spot about two miles from the center of the village. The police, who were unable to obtain an accurate description of the robbers, said the manner in which they worked indicated a familiarity with the premises.

Caruso has been the victim of several other robberies. His villa near Florence, Italy, has been ransacked three times, and on the last occasion, in 1912, several valuable articles were stolen. A collection of stamps, rated high by experts, was taken from a trunk which the opera singer had sent from New York to Naples in 1916.

Thirty barrels of wine and an automobile owned by Caruso were "commandeered" from his Italian villa by a "work committee" during disorders around Florence last July.

SURE WOMEN WILL BE HALF OF POLICE FORCE

Mrs. Mina Van Winkle Makes Prediction to International Association of Chiefs.

DETROIT, June 9.—Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, director of the women's bureau of the Washington police, told the International Association of Police Chiefs the time was near when the various police forces of the United States would employ as many women as men. Women, she said, can effect necessary social adjustments where men fail by the use of prosecution as a corrective measure.

Closer co-operation between police departments in this and foreign countries was urged by Maj. Richard Sylvester, former chief of the Washington, D. C., police.

Interchange of motion picture films, photographs and literature, the veteran officer asserted, would result in a united offense against international criminals.

ANGLERS ELECT BOARD.

Association Holds Annual Meeting Near Great Falls.

The annual meeting of the Anglers' Association of the District of Columbia was held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the clubhouse on Conduit road, near Great Falls.

A feature of the meeting was the annual election of officers, which resulted as follows: President, N. L. Chew; vice president, George C. Pumphrey; secretary-treasurer, J. C. Lawrence; directors, John R. Wright and Jesse J. Haas.

Theodore F. Hubbs one of the organizers of the club fifty years ago, was elected an honorary member for life, in view of his activities and never-failing interest in the organization.

The Anglers' Association is the oldest fishing club in existence today, having been organized in the spring of 1870 and the clubhouse used continuously by members since that date.

Originating in a clock bought at the international exhibition in Vienna in 1873, the clock in Japan has grown until now its export trade amounts to more than $700,000 a year.

FARE RAISE BY W., B. A. FOUGHT IN BALTIMORE

Patrons' Protests Cause Members of Public Service Commission File Complaint.

BALTIMORE, June 9 (Special).—Members of the public service commission today filed, on their own account, a complaint against the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis electric railway, in which are set forth charges that the increased rates asked by the company are unfair, unjust and unreasonable.

This action is due to the flood of protests from patrons of the line, the principal one being from the Commuters' Club of Washington, with more than 200 members, which has poured into the office of the commission since the filing of the application for higher fares, and instead of waiting for some person or organization to draw up the formal complaint, the commissioners have acted for the public.

Copies of the complaints were sent by the commission to the railroad today and the date for a public hearing on the proposed increases will be set after a reply is received. The company has ten days in which to make answer.

Herbert Tareyton London Cigarettes

Adlon pleases the smoker who wants real enjoyment in a cigar.

Few honors are more gratifying than that which comes to a man from pleasing his fellowmen with the things he produces.

All through my forty years' experience in the tobacco industry, my one aim has been to produce a cigar of clearly defined superiority;

—a cigar that would not simply meet the average smoker's taste, but which would command the conscious recognition of its distinctiveness every time a fresh one was lit.

Today I have that cigar. The ADLON! The ADLON is different from ordinary cigars because I make it differently;

The tobacco I use in its manufacture is prepared differently—I remove the effects of the gums which make so many ordinary cigars off-taste; which cause the stubs to become laden with bitter, saliva-exciting influences.

I blend the ADLON into a Havana-filler-and-shade-grown-wrapper smoke so finely and evenly balanced that it isn't one whit too strong to be thoroughly enjoyable, nor one jot too mild to be completely satisfying.

The ADLON is the most scientifically made cigar you can buy. And it is produced under absolutely sanitary conditions and rules.

Ask the dealer for the ADLON and see how logical—how true!—my claims are.
