The clock has again struck twelve for a winning baseball team in Rockville and a team is in the making which promises to more than uphold the honors won in other days. Those familiar with county baseball lore know that Rockville is capable of developing a winning team every few years. The good year is again here and also the team. If any reliable team in the county, with some kind of a good record behind it, doubts this fact, a game can be secured for most any day in the week. Sunday excepted. There have been four official games played and four won by the team, the next game being with Berwyn next Saturday at the Fair Grounds. The team is rich in material for every position and is capable of putting four distinct batteries on the field, also it is especially good with the hickory at critical places in a game. Come, see the team play some Saturday. "You'd be surprised."

Miss Eunice Louise Bagd gave an exhibition of perfect impersonation of human characters at the Seco Theatre here on Monday evening last to help swell the organ fund of the Rockville Episcopal Church. "Peg O' My Heart" is a story laid in England and has for its heroine a person whose name is taken as a title for it. She sprang from an Irishman and an English lady. Her mother died in America and she was taken back to England to be reared by her aristocratic relatives, including "her aunts, uncles and cousins." The many different characteristics of these persons, of their servant attendants, and of the Irish father, who was always ready for either a fight or frolic, were artistically impersonated by Miss Bagd, as were the English accent and the Irish brogue. She acted the life of Peg O' My Heart in innocent childhood, in girlhood, on to womanhood and her married life of gaiety and opulence. She melted the auditor's heart with pathos and lightened it with cheer. She alternated the serious with the comic, and the ridiculous with the sublime. She left her large audience with the conviction that she is a star of the first magnitude in the role of an impersonator.

On Tuesday last ten of the thirteen pieces of real property of the estate of the late N. D. Kelchner, of Rockville. Lots 2 and 3, double house, on Court street, $3,250, to Charles H. Vieth, of Rockville. Lot 4, brick house, on Commerce Lane, $2,050, to C. H. Vieth. Lot 13, Black Rock mill, near Darnestown, not sold.

To The Memory Of P. D. Laird.

The Directors of the Farmers' Bank and Trust Company took the occasion of the death of Mr. Philip D. Laird to place on the records of the Company their high appreciation of his many estimable qualities.

When the Company began its official life Mr. Laird was chosen its first Secretary, and as such had practically its operations under his direction. The Company succeeded and contributed to the financial development of Montgomery county and performed well the trust it was created to administer. Naturally, as he bore a prominent part in this success, he was elected its President when the occasion required a new chief executive officer.

As President, Mr. Laird continued his usefulness to the Company until his infirmities warned him to cease the performance of his arduous and responsible duties. It affords the Directors of this Company great pleasure to place on their records this certificate testifying to the purity of Mr. Laird's administration of its affairs, his unremitting attention to its business, his uniform kindness to all, and his great interest that the Company should perform in the highest manner the public service which it was created to serve.

The R. L. Dollings Company, Investment Bankers, Opens Office in Rockville, Md.

Mr. P. E. Waters, lifelong resident of Montgomery county and for the past four years Supervisor of Assessments for Montgomery county, will be our local representative.

They have established 268 offices throughout Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware and New Jersey. This company handles only seasoned individual securities of corporations, over which it has supervision and control as long as any of its customers' money is invested. Mr. Waters becomes associated with the Dollings Company only after a very personal rigid investigation of their affairs, satisfying himself that the securities which they offer are of the highest character. The many friends of Mr. Waters wish him the greatest success in this new work.

Memorial Day.

On June 3rd, the birthday of Jefferson Davis, the first and only President of the Confederate States of America, there assembled at Monocacy cemetery, Beallsville, Md., a large crowd to join in the annual memorial services and to strew wreaths and flowers upon the graves of the soldiers who followed the great Lee.

Six members of the E. V. White Chapter of the U. D. C. were remembered by the placing of wreaths on their graves. Two who lie elsewhere were not forgotten. Each veteran's mound had a marker of the Stars and Bars, and wreaths of laurel and roses seemed very appropriate as the majority belonged to the Laurel Brigade. The abundance of blossoms transformed this stately City of the Dead into a beautiful bower—all scattered over the ground in every direction, the flags waving in the breeze, showing where each soldier was sleeping, awaiting the resurrection, and 'who knows their leader might be Lee,' who followed as faithfully the Banner of the Cross as he did the flag of the Confederacy.

Then the children formed in line and marched to the monument which bears the name of each soldier, placed near the entrance by the untiring labor of love by the widow of one of the soldiers who fought under the daring leadership of Col. E. V. White, of the 35th Virginia cavalry, that received warm praise from Lee.

The Hon. Whitehead Klutz, of North Carolina, was introduced by Mrs. Dawson Trundle in such glowing terms that when he arose to speak he said he was so embarrassed that if he were a lady his face would be covered with blushes. He was the orator of the occasion and received hearty applause. He proved that this old State's oratory has not lost its power in the younger generation. All were pleased with his address, as they showed from the frequent applause given it. He took for his subject "The Past and the Present," and said what as a nation we could become by letting wisdom and duty be our watchword for the future in upbuilding, and not pulling down, of the great structure that makes a country great, and especially now when we are passing through a state of upheaval and unrest, due to the great war that has shaken nations.

After this we repaired to the tables where refreshments were served, as no function is complete until the inner man is satisfied. Here in this sacred spot the Daughters of the Confederacy, through their efforts and the hearty support given them, have erected a beautiful chapel as a memorial to the soldiers of the South, who left home and friends to battle for the right, and whose memory will go down the ages in history and story as soldiers under Lee, proud of the cause they represented and which will never die; a sacred trust they have left to us as a heritage, and we will ever keep their memory green, and Memorial Day, when we have passed, will be a day kept sacred by those we leave behind.

The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's parents, which was attractively decorated with cut flowers, pot plants and evergreens, and was attended by a small company of relatives and friends of the couple. Later the couple left for their honeymoon trip.

The Farmer's World, especially these June days, is a wonderful world, that many a city man secretly or openly envies. As he looks over his cultivated land and his cattle browsing contentedly, he must find a real pride and inspiration in his work. As thoughtfully as he cares for his soil, his animals and every detail about the farm, so thoughtfully should he care for the financial returns they bring. Use our facilities, Mr. Farmer. ## Quality Cows.

"Quality cows" means cows entitled to a place on the honor roll of the Montgomery County Cow Testing Association. To win a place on the honor roll a cow must produce either 40 pounds of butter fat or 1200 pounds of milk, or both, within a month. A cow must have quality to do it. The association, through its testing work, during the month of May found 42 quality cows in the herds of its members. These are the cows that pay. No boards here, though these cows are doubtless helping to pay the board of some that stand next to them in the stable. These are the cows to breed from to build up production in the herd. Many of them are grades. Their owners can well be proud of them. There are vacancies for nearly three hundred head and dairymen wishing to get into this paying work can have a representative call and talk over the matter by addressing F. J. Van Hoesen, County Agent, at Rockville, Md.

ONLY A CENT AND A HALF A YEAR!

THE VALUE of the property used in furnishing telephone service in Maryland, outside of Baltimore City, is $7,745,000.

AT THE PRESENT TIME our operations, outside of Baltimore City, show

A Loss of $127,400 per Annum.

THE RATES the Company is asking would increase its net revenues by $226,700 per annum, outside of Baltimore, and would turn the loss into

A Net Earning of $99,336 per Annum.

THIS IS ONLY 1.28 per cent. on the value of the property.

IN OTHER WORDS, we are asking that our dollars invested in the counties of Maryland be allowed to earn less than a cent and one-half a year. Your dollars deposited in a savings bank would earn four cents in the same period.
