NEBRASKA AND BEATRICE WON FROM IOWA SATURDAY 47-0

Nebraska and Beatrice defeated Iowa at Lincoln Saturday, for sport writers in giving their versions of the football game at the Nebraska stadium give Shellenberg, Hubka, Day and Cook practically all of the glory.

Shellenberg they say was the hero of the game and of the 699 yards Nebraska gained from scrimmage, the Beatrice trio seems to have made about 698.

Miles Greenleaf of the World-Herald says Shellenberg was the spectacular hero of the day, although he made but one touchdown. "He is one of the hardest men to stop that ever lugged the oval at Lincoln, and he simply shed Iowa tacklers as if he were a rubber raincoat and they were so many drops of water," says Greenleaf.

Until he was knocked out in the third period the diminutive Johnny Cook was another of the Beatrice celebrities who made things miserable for the Hawkeyes. He twice crossed the Iowa line for touchdowns and was heavy in defense.

Hubka at right end was used more in the defensive work though he helped to manipulate some forward passes that netted good gains. Will Day worked at center and from the fact that Iowa's total yards gained from scrimmage were only 75 it is known Day was fighting.

The score was Nebraska 47, Iowa 0. Two of the touchdowns were made by Cook, one by Shellenberg and one by Hubka.

Ted Riddell, the other Beatrice man on the Cornhusker eleven, was unable to be in the game Saturday.

CORTLAND MERCHANT SUES FARMER FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed in district court late Saturday afternoon by William A. Compton, hardware merchant at Cortland, against August Umbefund, a farmer residing in the Cortland vicinity. Compton alleges Umbefund has circulated and caused to be circulated certain slanderous statements regarding his character and as a result he has been damaged in the sum of $10,000.

Settle Arson Case

Harry Young, implicated with George Booth in the burning of a barn at the Samuel Rinaker residence some time ago pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to burn Saturday afternoon and was fined $50 and costs, which he paid. The charge of arson against him was dismissed.

The case against George Booth comes up for hearing next week.

A letter from N. L. Packard

In attending the recent Gage County Sunday school association at Beatrice my working relation with county associates is brought to a close. Just a farewell word may perhaps be granted me through the columns of the Beatrice Daily Express. First of all let me heartily thank the Express for the kindly words given and the many courtesies extended me during recent years. I still greatly enjoy reading the paper and find it in matter of news abreast of the times and ahead of larger and more pretentious journals.

The fellowship with Sunday school workers of the county has been a delightful one. My official task has been made easy by the cheerful and efficient assistance rendered. I feel that Rev. R. B. Favoright of the Baptist church is entitled to much of the credit for the successful county convention recently held in his church. Mrs. D. P. Chamberlain, the county secretary has proved herself just the one for the place. She has been untiring in her efforts to secure full reports from all the schools in the county and has been rewarded by securing more such reports than have been available for many years. Other Beatrice workers have very materially assisted the late convention and the county work. The hospitality of the Beatrice people was most generous and free while the music under the direction of Prof. Tilton was exceptionally fine.

S. A. Kinney should be commended for his faithful Sunday school visitation in the southern part of the county. While the writer is now a resident of Saunders county he can never forget the warm hearted friends and loyal fellow workers of his old parish in Liberty and of the county of Gage. We are still co-laborers in the service of the divine Master and in the general work of uplift.

N. L. PACKARD,
Wahoo, Nebr., Oct. 13, 1917.
