

TRIAL HALTED BY R. R. WRECK

Jamesburg Liquor Case Deferred—Perth Amboy Man
on Trial This Morning

NEW BRUNSWICK, Jan. 22.—The first cases listed in the county court for trial this morning before Judge Daly were held up due to a train wreck at Monmouth Junction, August 11th, 1922, chief of police of Jamesburg telephoned to the prosecutor's office advised the court that many of the witnesses scheduled to appear in the court to testify in the Jamesburg liquor cases would not be able to reach there in time.

The case of John Budish, who operates a saloon in Perth Amboy went on trial this morning. The state is represented by John E. Toolan, assistant prosecutor while John Seaman appears for the defendant. Budish is expressly charged with the possession and sale of liquor on January 22. The arrest came about a fight which originated in his saloon on that day, when it was alleged John Roscheck and Lawrence Scheraga, employees of the American Smelting and Refining Company dropped into the Budish saloon and ordered beer. Budish is said to have offered and sold them whiskey and after indulging in plenty of liquor the men started a fight which resulted in their arrest. At that time they formed the police where the strong beverage came from.

EXPECT VETO BY GOVERNOR

TRENTON, Jan. 22. (By The Associated Press.)—The legislature convenes tonight and probably will receive from Governor Silzer his first veto of first measures passed at this session. These are the three bills by Assemblyman Rowland designed to abolish Camden's board of works, police and fire boards and board of finance. In the event of a veto the measures may be passed again by both branches of the legislature within a week and thus become law.

Dr. Paul Reinsch Dying
SHANGHAI, Jan. 22. (By The Associated Press.)—Dr. Paul Reinsch, former United States minister to China, is believed to be dying from bronchial pneumonia, which set in as a complication. He is unconscious. Dr. Reinsch came here from the interior of China some time ago suffering from a complete breakdown.

Continue Oil Probe
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Examination of Harry Sinclair by the senate oil investigation committee, under the subpoena issued last week, proceeded smoothly during the first hour today and it appeared that the expected clash between the witness and the committee would be averted.

Train Is Delayed
The 8:12 o'clock Central railroad train for New York City was delayed for several minutes at the Central station here this morning when a hot box developed on one of the rear wheels of the baggage car. The car was cut from the train and switched to a side track after which the train proceeded to Jersey City.

LOST HAT AND AUTO RECOVERED BY POLICE

NEW BRUNSWICK, Jan. 22.—Like a movie plot reads the story of a lost hat. John Moore, colored of this city, reported to the local police that about 8 o'clock Saturday night a passing auto at the corner of George and Bayard streets struck his car and his hat vanished there and then. He was able however to note the license number which was N. J. 209,056, that of a Ford sedan.

Two hours later the Somerville police reported here that a car bearing given license number was stolen from Anthony Orlovsky, of Bound Brook. At about the same time the police found the automobile abandoned at New street, this place, and Moore's black fedora hat plucked at the side of a wheel. Moore seemed to display great anxiety to recover the hat. He was filled with joy when he identified his property. The car was towed into a garage for repairs by its owner, Orlovsky, who came here to claim his loss.

THREE ACCIDENTS HERE, BUT NO ONE INJURED

Report of three accidents, two of which were collisions, was made to the local police over the week-end. An automobile owned by Thomas Major of 71 Center street, started down grade from a position along-side the drug store on the Smith street corner and rained into a large door of the Puritan Dairy Company. The automobile owner agreed to settle for the damage according to a report made at headquarters by Sergeant John Landon. Paul Petrollo, of 884 Stanford street reported to Officer Frank Genacki last night that a man had been struck by a car bearing N. Y. license 772,981 opposite St. Mary's cemetery on Amboy avenue and that four men got out of the car, placed the injured man in same and drove away. Ignatz Panak of 872 Amboy avenue had been struck by an automobile belonging to Robert Gate of New York City. Panak was taken to the local hospital where he was attended by Dr. M. S. Meizer and then removed to his home. Officer William Seiboth was informed on Saturday by Charles Lagone of 459 Brace avenue that a touring car damaged the fender of his truck N. J. X36,222.

BAD WEATHER KEEPS PRESIDENT INDOORS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Inclement weather prevented President Harding from venturing from the White House to the executive offices today after having been confined to his room for nearly a week with grippe. The President was said to have virtually recovered and was able to do some work on important papers, but his physician, Dr. C. E. Sawyer, thought it inadvisable to take any chances. The day was chilly and the atmosphere muggy, and although all of the stretch to the executive offices is roofed over, there is a space of a hundred feet or so exposed to the open air. Among the callers who went to the executive offices in a futile attempt to see Mr. Harding were Senators Lodge of Massachusetts and Watson of Indiana, two of the leaders of the senate Republicans.

MISSING ILLINOIS GIRL FOUND

Catherine Dunbar, 20, Moline, Ill., object of a country-wide search when reported missing from her home, has been found in Racine, Wis., where, according to the story police say she told them, she had gone to be married.

MURDER TRIAL FEB. 5

NEW BRUNSWICK, Jan. 22.—Supreme Court Justice James J. Bergen has set February 5 as the date for the murder trial in Middlesex county of Antonio Quagliarello of Oak Tree, who is charged with felonious murder of Peter Meleon October 22. Robert Crane, attorney of Plainfield, represents the defendant.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—An earthquake, described as of very marked intensity, was recorded on the seismograph at the Georgetown University Observatory here early today. The first shocks occurred at 3:55 a. m., the disturbance reaching its greatest intensity at 4 and continuing until 5:30. Director Tondrof of the observatory estimated the disturbance was 2,600 miles distant from Washington.

Shakes Coast Cities
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Jan. 22.—An earthquake, which lasted for several seconds, shook Sacramento and towns in the Sacramento valley early today. At Sacramento, according to N. A. Taylor, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau, the tremor stopped the clock in the weather bureau office. A report received here said the shock damaged a gas tank at Willows, Cal. The quake was felt in Sacramento between 1:05 and 1:08 a. m.

THEATRES

"Thorns and Orange Blossoms" at Dittmas

Today, tomorrow and Wednesday, the Dittmas theatre, presents a photoplay that has proven a sensation wherever shown. It is taken from that famous novel by Bertha M. Clay, entitled "Thorns and Orange Blossoms." Everyone some time or another has read this great novel by Bertha M. Clay, that startled the world when it was first printed. In fact it was the sensation of its day and today the story is just as popular as when it was written many years ago.

The gowns worn by the actresses are charming and the picture has never yet failed to create a sensation wherever shown. It is with pleasure that the Dittmas management offers such a wonderful production to the photoplay lovers of this city and vicinity. Have you heard the Dittmas music? This has become one of the popular questions about the city, and if you are one of the few who have still to hear the beautiful orchestra music we urge you not to delay longer in visiting the Dittmas and hearing the orchestra which is under the direction of Ralph Gunst.

All Star Show at Crescent
Today, tomorrow and Wednesday the Crescent theatre presents to the people of this city and vicinity one of the finest shows in its history. Every act is a headliner and the bill throughout is one that no one can afford to miss. The photoplay is considered one of the best and most recent productions. The vaudeville program contains the following acts: Ralph DeMund's Jazz Steppers, a whirlwind dance novelty with five people; Lenox Sisters, character comedienne; Dance Gambol, a unique dance novelty; Regal & Lucky, clever comedians, and Earl Cavanaugh Review, up-to-date singing and dancing.

The photoplay is taken from one of James Oliver Curwood's most popular stories and is entitled "The Man from Hell's River." Here is a photoplay that is considered a super-feature in every scene of the word.

Double Bill at Strand
Arrow Film Corporation, which has enriched the motion picture screen with some of the greatest successes of recent times, is again to the fore with another. This is the Ben Wilson special production, "The Innocent Cheat," in which Roy Stewart, Kathleen Kirkham, Rhea Mitchell, George Hernandez, Joe Girard and other finished screen artists are seen. Today, Tuesday and Wednesday "The Innocent Cheat" will play at the Strand theatre. And it is safe to assert that the heart of every woman in the community will be reached by the story, dramatically told and graphically unfolded. Also "The Referee," which comes to the Strand theatre today for a run of three days, offers Conway Tearle the type of role his admirers have long wished he would play. There is perhaps no screen star of the day more fitted to play the part of a fighting referee forced by circumstances into the most trying situation of his thrilling life.

John McArdle has a conscience cultivated and strengthened from his youth up by the teaching of his mother. At twenty-four he is the recognized middle-weight champion of the world. But a motor-car accident injured his arm so badly that he is forced to abandon his career when it is at its crest. So John McArdle enters the business world. But the lure of the prize-ring is too strong for McArdle to deny, and he becomes a referee. Thus matters stand when the present middle-weight champion is scheduled to fight another tough customer, Rudy Metzger, promoter of the fight, plans to make the battle a dishonest one for the good of his own purse.

TWO SMALL FIRES HERE OVER THE WEEK-END

Two alarms were sent in for fires over the week-end, one on Saturday afternoon and the second at mid-night last night. The fire on Saturday afternoon was in the home of Peter Kocaris, 37 Smith street, and was caused by an oil stove. The damage was slight as the woman of the house picked up the stove and threw it out a rear window. Insurance covered the damage. The alarm was turned in from box 35 at Smith and High streets and Officer Joseph Dwyer received the report of the fire.

Officers Hugh Steed and Lester Seaman were called to 100 Fayette street shortly before midnight last night for a fire in the rear of Thomas Higgins' confectionery store at that address. The Lincoln

TO HEAR ASSAULT CHARGE

The assault charge against Fred H. Krumwiede, Newark driver of the General Baking company truck which figured in an accident at the corner of Lawrence street and Amboy avenue during the latter part of last week, will be heard as soon as the condition of Mrs. Bertha Pesolka of 459 Brick avenue is finally made known. It was at first said that a reckless driving charge was being pressed against Krumwiede but this has been found to be incorrect. The automobile truck struck a rut in the road, it is said, causing the driver to lose control of the machine. The rear of the truck skidded and broke a window and a fence, and at the same time the woman was injured.

Why One Advertising Appropriation Was Increased

Two partners were debating their advertising policy—planning the campaign for the next six months.

There is a retail store which spent in one year $12,000 on its advertising which was 5% of their yearly volume, a fair expenditure in their line of business.

In growth of sales they could easily point out the homecoming of $12,000 with a fair and reasonable profit in its train. For these two partners that expenditure was a profitable short-term investment.

One of the partners spoke up:
"John," he said, "we have a cash profit in the bank from that $12,000 but we have a greater intangible profit by far—it is piled up for us in the minds of every man and woman in the city."

"It is reflected in the attitude of our bankers."
"It is present in the minds of the manufacturers who sell us."
"It is working on the minds and purses of every one of our customers."
"Why," he continued, "this business because of the advertising we have done, is worth $12,000 more than it was before we began."

The two partners increased their appropriation, modestly, it is true. That was five years ago. Today, for it is in a large city, their appropriation is eight times their original amount. Their standing, with bankers, manufacturers and customers is A-1. Their business has grown and grown in a healthy way. And still as one of them put it—

"In the last five years advertising has made money for us. Every cent we have spent has come back to us, and brought another with it. But, our real profit—our big profit from that advertising is banked in the minds of the people. Ours is the best known business of its kind in town. And that is worth a lot of money to us."
