The Western District Baptist Association will meet with the Rockville church this year. The Association was originally invited to meet at Rockville this year, but the probability of building operations being on about the time set for the meeting of the association, forced the Rockville church to ask that the association meet elsewhere. The Baltimore Sun on the 17th instant celebrated its sixty-eighth anniversary, and during all these years has gradually risen from a humble beginning to the proud station of one of the leading journals of the United States. This high position has been reached, not by the modern methods of sensationalism, but by a safe and independent course in advocating sound principles and striving for the best interests of all the people. Outside of its immense circulation in Baltimore the Sun has been for many years a welcome visitor to thousands of families in this and adjoining States. The people of Baltimore are to be congratulated upon having so able a defender of their interests as this journal has proven itself to be.

Corner-Stone Laid.

With impressive exercises the cornerstone of the Grace Methodist Episcopal Church South, recently begun in Gaithersburg, this county, was laid last Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large assemblage of people from every section of the county. The exercises were held in the grove of the old public school building, speaking taking place on the entrance steps. Those participating were Rev. T. J. Lambert, who presided; Rev. T. H. Campbell, of the Rockville Baptist Church, who offered the invocation; Rev. Dr. E. V. Gov. Wardfield was introduced in a pleasing address representing the laity of the church by Mr. Thomas J. Owen. The Governor arrived from Annapolis that morning on the 10:30 express train and was met at the station by Mayor Ward, Rev. Mr. Lambert, a delegation of business men and the Travilah Cornet Band and escorted through the streets to the Masonic Hall, where the ladies of the church served luncheon. More Light Wanted.
Mr. Editor:—Somebody is responsible for the nasty note into which the so-called primary election law for Montgomery county has gotten into, and it seems to me it is up to the gentlemen representing Montgomery county in the last session of the Legislature to explain their connection with the matter over their own signatures.
While the law was introduced by Senator Jones, no one who knows the Senator would accuse him of having drawn it, or for that matter any other law. If the people knew that Jones had drafted this act, they would be in a better position to judge of the motives, good or evil, that started it on its tortuous course through the Legislature.
What the people want is more light. Let the light shine.
L. J. CRITCH.

SUNSHINE.

Your grumbler never gets on. Nature in a sarcastic mood seems to have ordained that the persistent whiner shall wait for everything except something to whine about. Disappointment sardonically meets him at every turn. Misfortune even turns in his shadow.

The whine is a signal-call to a thousand and one little demons of distress and disaster, which mock and lash, hinder and dishearten.

Psychology has pretty well established the theory that ghosts are creations of the subjective mind—and trouble-finding is very much like ghost-seeking. You see blurs and blotches which, if properly traced, will be found to begin and end their actual existence in your own eye or stomach or liver.

There is nothing else you can look for with so much certainty of finding it as trouble. But have you never noticed that most of your troubles are of to-morrow, that few of them are really present to-day, that there are hardly any worth mentioning in all your past?

If anticipation did not go more than half way to meet troubles most of them might miss their way and never get near you.

He who whines does himself injury such as his meanness cannot do to him if he would. He warps his own mind; he weakens his own arm; he enervates his own strength; he deadens within himself the divine gifts of cheer and hope, and he dams up his own soul against the sweet inspirations of human sympathy.

Never yet did success worthy of the name abate with a man with a whine in his heart. A whine is premeditated and prearranged failure.

They say that one of the things you can not make or alter is environment—that it is fixed, inflexible, and that you are its slave. This is a pessimistic lie.

To our modern environment is a looking glass; it smiles back at us if we smile; if we frown, it frowns.

He who thinks the world is full of good people and kindly blessings is much richer than he who thinks the contrary. Each man's imagination largely peoples the world for himself.

Some live in a world peopled with princes of the royal blood; some in a world of paupers and privation. You have your choice.

This is a big, busy world. It cares precious little what you think of it or what faults or troubles you find in it. It is a choice that concerns yourself more than all others combined, whether you crouch in the gloom, the companion of hateful goblins, or stride in the sunshine, seeing smiles and catching shades of song.

Men and women in God's image were not made as whining, groveling things. They were made to stand, mentally as well as physically, to labor well and joyously; to take the gifts of providence, whether they be joy or sorrow, and bear them cheerfully and with courage; to add ever something to the world's store of happiness, if it be only a smile.

Look up! See how flooded with sunshine this beautiful world is when faced with smiling eyes!

Washington Grove New Auditorium.

For many years it has been the regret of the authorities at Washington Grove that adequate seating capacity in the Tabernacle could not be furnished the crowds of friends from the surrounding country who have attended the annual Camp Meeting, especially upon the great days, and many plans have been discussed to obviate this difficulty.

In addition, the gratifying success of the Grove Chautauque Assembly for the past three seasons has taxed the Assembly Hall, erected for the purpose, to the utmost, even to provide for the residents of the Grove, and has also compelled plans to be seriously considered for greatly enlarged accommodations, not only for the cottagers of that place, but especially that invitations could be generously given for all in Montgomery county to share in the splendid entertainments in their midst for this fourth and best season of all.

Therefore, both for the Camp Meetings and the Chautauque entertainment crowds, a new Auditorium has been carefully planned and is being constructed in the most central and easily accessible location of Washington Grove by Mr. Ezekiel Day, of Gaithersburg, and will be the largest building of its kind in the county, the seating capacity will be 1,400, but the building itself will accommodate fully 1,700 people.

In architecture and construction the Auditorium is modern in every detail, fine acoustical properties, light, ventilation and ample space add to the comfort of the audience for a summer evening, so that no one need be disappointed or inconvenienced in enjoying the delightful program that will be presented at this fourth Chautauque season.

The citizens of Montgomery county should be proud to have in their midst such an enjoyable, reputable and liberal enterprise and should give it a hearty and liberal support.

Pretty Home Wedding.—Mrs. Eva Russell Carter, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Russell, and widow of Mr. Harry Lee Carter, of Warrenton, Va., was married on Wednesday evening of last week at 8 o'clock to Mr. Harry Vascini Boice, of Baltimore.

The ceremony took place in the home of the bride's late grandfather, Columbus Alexander, of Georgetown, Rev. Father Cahill, of Holy Trinity Church, officiated.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Louise A. Hayes, of Long Island, who acted as matron of honor. The best man was Mr. Frank Brown, Jr., of Baltimore. The bridal party entered the drawing room through an aisle formed of white ribbons, a string orchestra playing the wedding march. They stood in a floral bower and under a marriage bell made of white roses. The bride was gown in soft white satin, trimmed with rare old point lace, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses.

Hayes wore pink silk, trimmed with point applique lace, and carried a bunch of valley, tied with long pink streamers. About 300 guests attended the wedding and reception, which was from 8:30 to 11 o'clock, after which the bride and groom left for a wedding tour of about ten days. Their future home will be in Roland Park, Baltimore.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. V. Boice, of this town, and the bride is a member of one of Georgetown's oldest and best-known families. The old Alexander home, where the wedding took place, is one of the fine old places of Georgetown Heights. The groom is connected with the Subtreasury in Baltimore.

On Tuesday, June 6th, 1905, the first political picnic of the season will be held in the Fair Grounds at Rockville, Maryland. A number of attractions have been arranged to entertain the people.

The classes include a 2:30 pace, a 2:30 trot, a free-for-all, and a special match race, in which four horses will start, one of them being the fast local pacer Dan D, owned by Mr. Lee S. Dorsey, of Rockville.

Also a running race, five-eighths of a mile dash, purse $100.

In Memoriam.

In and loving remembrance of our beloved and only daughter Ethel, who departed this life four years ago today, May 25, 1901, daughter of W. H. and Louise.

Four years have faded away.

Since from us she was borne,

Yet, Oh, God! we miss her every hour,

And still for her we mourn.

No more her cheerful smiles we'll see,

No more her welcome voice,

That always in our troubled hours,

Would make our sad hearts rejoice.

The depths of sorrow long cannot tell

At the loss of her we loved so well,

And while she lies in peaceful sleep

The sacred memory we shall keep.

She is happy with her angel brother.

Her Sad Parents.

In memory of our beloved daughter, Rosie A. Ricketts, who departed this life one year ago today, May 19, 1904.

Dearest Rosie, thou hast left us,

We thy loss most deeply feel,

But 'tis God who has bereft us,

He can all our sorrows heal.

O how he will we miss thee here,

But our cares were all in vain,

Angels came and took her from us,

She is with the Saviour free from pain.

By her Parents.

Alvin Hyatt, son of Mr. Carson Hyatt, departed this life on May 16th, 1905, in the 24th year of his age.

Thus in the prime of strong manhood the withering hand of death touched him, and in a moment he was gone. Another reminder of the frailty of life, to convince us in the midst of life we are in death, and that to none other we can look for aid or deliverance save to Him who is the resurrection and the life, and who will surely bring back those who have fallen asleep in Christ.

For several months he was a great sufferer. At times his pain and agony seemed almost beyond human endurance, but he bore the heavy cross laid upon him with Christian fortitude; his one consuming desire was that God would pardon his sins.

As he commended his body to the ground, looking for the grand resurrection and the life in the world to come, we sorrow not without hope, because we trust that he is at rest in the paradise of glory, and that our tears with the grief-stricken ones left behind, we commend them to the tender, compassionate High Priest who wept at the grave of Lazarus, and pray that they may be granted patience under their affliction, and resignation to the Divine Will.
