LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

The great luxury of the season—large Guilford Clams, as dished by COWELL, 366 State street.

Bridgeport gives $850 to the Irish relief fund. Waterbury donates $6,000. Litchfield has contributed $14.

There was a slight snow fall Sunday up New Milford way, and further up the Housatonic road the fall was heavier.

The Hartford skating rink is growing in popularity. The Courant says the Saturday assemblies of last week were the best thus far of the season. There must have been fifteen hundred people in the rink during the day.

A Plymouth Rock hen belonging to Peter Poppy, a hostler at the West Haven horse railroad stables, who lives on Savin avenue, West Haven, laid an egg on Sunday measuring eight and a half by six and a half inches.

Adolf Nahmer will discuss "The Relations of Capital and Labor" and other social problems at Turn Hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 18. The speaker has frequently addressed large audiences on this and kindred subjects.

Two extra ice trains were sent up the Housatonic railroad yesterday, and two will be sent up each day this week. Each train consists of eighteen cars and each car brings down twelve tons of ice on an average. With two trains running daily an immense quantity will be handled during the week. From Bridgeport it is shipped in barges to New York.

A Dog Bite.

About two years ago a five-year-old son of Diedrich Dobener, a machinist living on Mill street, Middletown, was bitten by a dog belonging to a neighbor. The wound healed up and no ill effects came from it. Friday evening last the boy was taken sick with symptoms of hydrophobia and several spasms. He was better yesterday. The dog which bit him is still living.

Committee on Claims.

The new Common Council Committee on Claims held their first meeting at room 10 City Hall last evening, Alderman States presiding.

Maurice F. Brennan was re-elected clerk for the ensuing year.

After looking over the several petitions referred to them the committee adjourned subject to call of the chairman.

New Steam Yacht.

Caleb Ludington and Isaac Brown, oyster dealers, Fair Haven East, are about to build a steam yacht to be used for dredging purposes. She will be of an improved model, especially adapted for the business for which she is designed. The contracts have not been given out as yet, but it is quite probable she will be built by George Graves and completed for the coming oyster season.

Marine.

The Nova Scotian schooner Zulu anchored at Long dock yesterday afternoon, having just arrived from Ponce after a voyage of eight days, with a cargo of molasses for E. G. Stoddard & Co.

Several of the barges which have been carrying ice from this city to New York for the Knickerbocker Ice Company were lying at Canal dock yesterday waiting the arrival of more ice.

Death of Peter J. Bree.

Peter J. Bree died of pneumonia at his residence, No. 92 Fillmore street, Fair Haven, Sunday morning, after an illness of a few days. He was of a genial, agreeable temperament, and his good qualities made him many friends. He was a member of the last Board of Aldermen and previously served as a Councilman. He was at one time a carpenter and builder, but for some time past was proprietor of a grocery store on Fillmore street. He leaves a widow and four children to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father.

Removal of the Lyons'.

The enterprising dry goods merchants F. & L. Lyons are to remove from their present location in the Insurance building to stores Nos. 362 and 364 Chapel street in Glebe building. No. 362 was formerly occupied by Sawyer as a variety store, and 364 is still occupied by Fullerton & Bradbury, the Boston grocers. The owner of the building is going to have these stores thrown into one large store, and they will make as fine a front as there is on the street. These stores are located the same as those occupied by the Messrs. Lyons in the old Glebe building ten or twelve years ago.

Not a Suicide.

The people of Portland were greatly excited, Sunday morning, at the finding of an overcoat, hat and boot lying on the river bank in that town. It was, of course, a supposed case of suicide. An examination of the pockets in the coat brought a memorandum to light, which revealed the name of the owner of the coat. Some persons suggested going to the man's house to make inquiries respecting him, which was done, and he was found asleep in bed. He was roused from his slumbers, but could not tell how his overcoat, etc., came to be on the bank of the river. He was "on a bender" Saturday night.—Hartford Post.

Telegraph Messengers.

An effort is being made to collect a suitable library of boys' books for the use of the telegraph messengers who have many unemployed half hours during the day and evening. Readable books or bound magazines, numbers of the St. Nicholas or other suitable illustrated newspapers, will be gladly received by the Society of United Workers for this purpose. Any one having even one or two volumes outgrown by the members of the family will confer a favor by leaving them at Mr. Peck's bookstore or at 32 High street. They will be covered, marked and placed in the boys' waiting rooms. Dominoes, backgammon or other suitable games will also be very acceptable for the same destination.

Twenty-Eight Thousand Inhabitants.

The school enumeration of Bridgeport, or, in other words, the census of the children between the ages of 4 and 16, has just been completed. The agent's report shows that the total number of children for whose schooling the town is entitled to receive State aid is 6,641. They are divided between the various districts, or former districts, as follows: Barnum, 843; East Bridgeport, 272; Union, 332; Bridgeport, 1,040; Golden Hill, 480; Island Brook, 190; Tolleston, 48; Washington, 664; Old South, 239; Black Rock, 83; Pembroke, 123; Waltersville, 922. The number in attendance upon the public schools is 4,287; attending private schools, 217; attending no school, 2,137; too young, 1,203; taught at home, 27; disability, 59; working, 439; absent through neglect to send, 308; increase over last year's enumeration, 279. The census of all the inhabitants of the town shows the population to be 27,812.

The Boundary Question.

Connecticut's Voice in the Matter—The General Assembly.

The General Assembly this week will consider the plan proposed for settling the boundary lines between this State and New York. In the Senate, Thursday, majority and minority reports were submitted from the Judiciary Committee, the minority report being signed by Lewis E. Stanton of Hartford and C. M. Whittlesey of Old Saybrook. The majority of the committee are in favor of the report of the boundary commission consisting of Origen S. Seymour, Lafayette S. Foster and William F. Minor. The settlement as agreed upon by the commissioners is that the boundary on the land constituting the western boundary of Connecticut and the eastern boundary of the State of New York shall be, and is, as the same was defined by monuments erected by commissioners appointed by the Legislature of the State of New York, and completed in the year 1860, the line extending from Byram Point (formerly called Lyons Point) on the south to the line of the State of Massachusetts on the north. The boundary on the sound shall be, and is, as follows: Beginning at a point in the center of the channel, about 600 feet south of the extreme rocks of Byram Point; thence running in a true southeast course three and one-quarter statute miles; thence in a straight line (the arc of a great circle) northeasterly to a point four statute miles true south of New London lighthouse; thence northeasterly to a point on the survey chart of Fisher's Island Sound, which point is on the long E. ¾ N. sailing course, and is about 1,000 feet northerly from the hammock or N. Dumpling lighthouse; thence following the same E. ¾ N. sailing course, as laid down on the map, easterly to a point marked No. 2 on said map; thence southeasterly toward a point marked No. 3 on said map, so far as said States are coterminous; provided, however, that nothing in the foregoing agreement contained shall be construed to affect existing titles to property, corporeal or incorporeal, held under grants heretofore made by either of said States, nor to affect existing rights which said State, or either of them, or which the citizens of either of said States may have by grant, letters patent, or prescription of fishing in the waters of said sound, whether for shell or floating fish, irrespective of the boundary line hereby established, it not being the purpose of this agreement to define, limit or interfere with any such right, rights or privileges, whatever the same may be.

By this agreement Fisher's Island is surrendered to New York, and also an area of 4½ square miles, or 2,975 acres of land on the west boundary is abandoned by Connecticut to the adjoining State of New York. The minority's objections have already been referred to.

St. Patrick's Day.

A convention of Bridgeport Irish societies for the purpose of making arrangements for celebrating St. Patrick's day was held Saturday evening. It was voted to have no parade this year in consequence of the great distress in Ireland.

Looking for the Drowned Man.

Men were engaged yesterday afternoon in dredging the river near Tin bridge in search of the body of him who was supposed to have fallen from the bridge early Sunday morning. Owen McGrail is supposed still to be the man who was drowned, as he has not been seen since late Saturday night. He was an inspector of molders at Sargent's. The dredging yesterday was being done under the direction of his brother John McGrail.

Match Game of Checkers.

A match game of checkers, for fifty dollars a side, was played at room 34, Hoadley building, yesterday, between J. R. Patterson, of Hartford, and P. F. Conway, president of the New Haven Checker Club. Sixteen games were played, of which Conway won five, Patterson four, and seven were drawn. A. O. Cleggett, champion of the State, was referee, and D. O'Reilly, of Wallingford, time keeper.

In addition to these Messrs. Cleggett and St. Clair played five games, winning one each and three were drawn.

Messrs. D. O'Reilly and St. Clair played six games, winning one each and four draws.

Messrs. D. O'Reilly and E. B. Lawrence played six games, winning one each and four draws.

Funeral of Mr. Kirby.

The funeral of John B. Kirby took place yesterday afternoon from his late residence, No. 518 Chapel street, at two o'clock. The Rev. Dr. Harwood, of Trinity, where the deceased had many years worshiped, and the Rev. Dr. Beardsley conducted the exercises, which were very impressive. There were many and elegant floral offerings. The jewelry stores of the city were closed for the occasion from 2 till 4 o'clock. Messrs. F. W. Burwell, H. H. Smith, N. D. Sperry, Jas. M. Mason, C. J. Monson and Samuel Noyes were the bearers. The remains were interred in the Grove street cemetery.

John L. Smith, of Middletown, the oldest jeweler in the State, 90 years of age, was in attendance at the services.

Entertainments.

DEARER THAN LIFE.

The Happy Hour Dramatic Association give "Dearer than Life" and the farce "The German Emigrant" at the Athenæum this evening. The company expect to make this one of their very best efforts, sure to please all. Popular prices.

IN AND OUT OF BONDAGE.

To-morrow evening the Hyers Sisters' Combination, with Sam Lucas, the great colored comedian, will give one of their pleasant performances at Coe's Opera House, where they will present their great moral music drama, "In and Out of Bondage." This is the only colored dramatic and operatic troupe in the world, and there is no doubt but that they possess real merit. They should and no doubt will have a crowded house.

SCENES IN MESMERISM.

Prof. Cadwell's return to this city was greeted by a good audience at the Grand Opera House last evening. The lecture by the professor was full of interesting thoughts and his "Scenes in Mesmerism" were greatly enjoyed. He was particularly favored last evening with some fine subjects for the exhibition of his wonderful powers and the audience were kept in a mirthful mood from the beginning to the close. This evening will be the last opportunity to see the professor for some time to come, and the house should be crowded to overflowing.

GRAND ITALIAN OPERA.

The sale of seats for the Strakosch Grand Italian Opera at Coe's Opera House on Friday evening will commence at the box office tomorrow morning. The new romantic opera of "Carmen," which is to be presented, will come to us with all freshness and novelty. The musical circles of the city are stirred up to no small extent, and the community at large join them in appreciating the significance of this musical event. The Boston papers speak in terms of highest praise of the orchestra, the chorus and the singers. Our citizens are to be congratulated on the prospect of so magnificent an entertainment, the like of which will not probably be given in New Haven during the present season at least. It will certainly be the first and only appearance of the great prima donna, Mlle. Anna de Boloccs.

MISS CAYVAN'S READINGS.

The Davenport church was crowded to its utmost capacity last evening on the occasion of Miss Georgia E. Cayvan's select readings. Miss Cayvan is well known in New England as a pretty, pleasing, piquant artist, who never attempts anything she cannot do well. Her readings, or rather we should say, her dramatic recitations, were the best we have witnessed in this city for a long time. The audience was enthusiastic and encored the lady repeatedly, to which she always graciously responded. The first selection, the "Legend of the Organ Builder," was inimitably rendered and received an encore, at which Burdette's "Hatchet Story" was given. But it was in the selection from Tennyson's "Queen Mary" and Knowles' play of "The Hunchback" that Miss Cayvan's dramatic ability was made most apparent. These scenes showed not only careful study and fine elocutionary powers, but what is even more rare—true genius. On the whole the entertainment was a complete success, and we hope that the artist's engagements will soon recall her to this city. The musical part of the programme consisted of organ selections by Mr. H. Rowe Shelly of this city. His reputation was fully sustained by his efforts last evening. Perhaps the most enjoyed selections were "Andantino" (Shelley) and "Marsch Lenore" (Raff.)

Lodge and Society.

An Odd Fellow Lodge's Tenth Anniversary—Relief Lodge—Encampment Visit.

Relief Lodge of Odd Fellows held its 10th anniversary last evening at its lodge room, old Odd Fellows' Hall. The lodge is a strong and still growing organization and has many workers and influential men in its members. Speeches, singing and a banquet were on the programme. The large and spacious lodge room was thronged with members and friends, including a large representation of the feminine creation, in their most fascinating mood. The lodge was opened in due form, after which Past Grand Donovan in the chair, Past Grand Deming delivered an address in which he reviewed the career of Relief Lodge and spoke of its success and prosperity, and alluding to the beneficent mission of Odd Fellowship. The occasion was specially honored with the presence of the Rev. Dr. Stifler, the pastor of the First Baptist church, and also with very appropriate and interesting remarks from that gentleman, contributing much to the occasion. Also interesting remarks were made by Grand Master Geo. N. Moses and Grand Secretary Frederick Botsford. Following Past Grand Hadley was the center of interest. In recognition of the regard and esteem of the lodge for him a fine loaf of cake was presented him. The speech of presentation was made by Past Grand Deming. This comprised the speaking. A very interesting and much enjoyed portion of the programme was the vocal and instrumental music. Mr. F. A. Fowler accompanied in his usual accomplished style. Mr. S. S. Thompson sang "The Raft," from Pinsuti, also "The Warrior Old." Mrs. E. Louise Thompson sang "Tell me my Heart" and to an encore responded with "The Owl and the Pussy Cat" with equal success in pleasing. She also sang "Bonnie Sweet Bessie." Miss Chapin, the blind vocalist, sang "The Flower Girl," and was warmly encored. She responded with "The Maid Milking the Cow," in both efforts giving great pleasure. She also recited, creating great amusement, the boy's "Composition on a Hen." Mr. A. B. Roberts sang finely "The Old Sexton," and Brother Gruner, of Westville, delighted the assembly with several comic songs. The banquet was served between 10 and 11, and the supplies were abundant and very inviting, although at least 400 persons participated in the feast. The pleasant occasion was much enjoyed by all. The committee of arrangements were J. O'Donovan, chairman, Henry J. Ruck, George Merwin of Hubbell & Merwin, R. J. Everett and F. A. Camp.

Sassacus Encampment goes to Meriden Friday night to visit the Meriden Encampment, and it will doubtless be one of the most interesting events of the year in the records of Sassacus.

Yesterday's Waterbury American says: After the funeral services at the house, Rev. Dr. Bingham officiating, Sunday afternoon, the remains of the late Capt. James M. Granniss were escorted by Clark Commandery, K. T., to Riverside Cemetery and by them laid in their last resting place. Six past masters of Harmony Lodge, James Spruce, F. H. LaForge, J. E. Coer, Henry Church, Alfred Shipley and Charles B. Vaill, acted as pallbearers. The guard of honor was composed of Dr. J. O. Cook, D. B. Hamilton, George W. Tucker, H. H. Peck, George S. Chatfield and J. B. King.

Knights of Pythias.

Annual Session of the Grand Lodge of Connecticut.

The annual session of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of Connecticut, will be held in Castle Hall of Washington Lodge, No. 297 Main street, Hartford, to-day, commencing at 10 a. m. The Supreme Chancellor, D. W. Woodruff of Georgia, arrived in Hartford yesterday afternoon, and will attend the grand session. The Connecticut grand officers are William H. Williams of Seymour, Grand Chancellor; George A. Staples of Bridgeport, Grand Vice Chancellor; J. K. Bundy of New Haven, Grand Prelate; William L. Morgan of New Britain, G. M. of E.; Horace O. Case of Hartford, C. K. of R. and S.; T. W. Greenslitt of Danielsonville, G. M. at A.; John H. Hall of Ansonia, G. J. G.; Daniel H. Brown of Fair Haven, G. O. G. The Hartford representatives to the Grand Lodge are George M. Deming and Charles A. Fisher of St. Bernard Lodge, and William H. Fletcher and C. W. Snow of Washington Lodge.

Accidents.

John Whims, of Birmingham, was run over by a two horse team Saturday evening and one leg was broken.

A team went off the dock into the harbor at Canal Dock yesterday morning. The teamster, Mr. O'Rourke, was turning his horse around in a too narrow space. It was low tide and the horse after floundering around in the cold clam mud and water two hours was hoisted out.

A blind horse also took a bath yesterday morning. The scene of his exploits was Long Wharf, off which he walked into the water. Seventy-five men and boys saved him.

Matthew O'Brien, while busy at work dumping coal into the tender of a locomotive at the yard of the road in this city, fell, striking on his back. The severe shock received leaves him in a very sad plight and internal injuries are feared. He lives on Liberty street near Carlisle.

Police Notes.

Yesterday C. B. Sheppard, who drives a wagon for the New Haven Baking Company, arrested a boy named James McDonald, who was stealing cakes from his wagon on Olive street. Later Detective Reilly arrested David Maloney and John Golden, boys, who were engaged with the McDonald boy in the raid on the baker's wagon.

Asbury Jober, a cigar maker, who lives at No. 39 Eaton street, made matters lively at his residence last night. He went home drunk, assaulted his wife, and not satisfied with this took her sewing machine and pitched it out of the window, breaking it into pieces. He then threw some corsets that his wife had been stitching out after the machine, not forgetting to put some of these female indispensables into the stove and burn them up. He was arrested and locked up.

A raid was made on Saturday night by Deputy Sheriff Morgan and five assistants on a place of ill repute in Wallingford known as the "Red House." Four women and twelve men were arrested.

Out of Danger.

The steamer Bridgeport, of the Bridgeport line, which ran ashore at old Ferry Point in the fog of Friday night, was floated at high water tide Sunday afternoon. The company's men blocked up her bow, and after covering the leaks with canvas, pumped the water from her stern. The injuries to her hull were found to be less serious than at first feared Yesterday she was put on the dry dock for repairs. The steamer is eighteen years old.

Nine years ago a new gallows frame, new engine keelsons and new sister keelsons were put in her. Standing as she did on a few rocks under her centre, she would have gone to pieces had she not possessed remarkable strength. She met with a similar but less serious accident five years ago.

The cargo of the Bridgeport was safely transferred to the steamer Laura Saturday and brought to Bridgeport by the latter steamer Sunday. The Bridgeport had on but one passenger at the time of her accident, and he was put ashore Saturday morning.

Looking For a Bigamist.

Yesterday Mrs. Mary G. Penney, of Rockville, came to this city to search out her husband John G. Penney, who deserted her and his three children some time ago and she learned went to Meriden to live. She followed him there, where she learned that he had removed to this city and had married a girl named Kate Bond. Arriving here she went to the office of the Registrar of Vital Statistics and found that Penney was married to Miss Bond, Sept. 9th, 1878, by Rev. C. S. Wing. She then went to Prosecuting Attorney Pickett and made a complaint against him for bigamy. A warrant was issued and placed in an officer's hands to make the arrest. It was ascertained that Penney was living with wife number two on Factory street and that he was employed at the repair shops of the Consolidated railroad. Further inquiry revealed the fact that he went away on Saturday night and had not returned. The police authorities were indignant last evening over the premature report of the affair in an evening paper and declare that the ends of justice have been defeated thereby. They have but little hope now of catching the bigamist, as they think his friends will notify him that the officers are after him and he will keep out of their reach.

Fires.

At Windsor Locks—In New Britain.

Fire was discovered in the jewelry store of Arthur West, Windsor Locks, about 11:30 Saturday evening, and, although the building was saved, the goods were pretty completely destroyed. The stock was roughly estimated to be worth $2,700, on which there is an insurance of $500 in the Orient Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford. The building was insured in the same company for a like amount. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary, as the rear door was found unfastened when the fire was first discovered.

The fire alarm sounded Saturday night in New Britain, shortly after midnight, the alarm coming from box 41, at the corner of Lexton and North streets. Thomas Crow's barn had been set on fire, and, although the department responded promptly, the barn, which was small, was nearly destroyed. It is one of the most difficult places within the city limits for the fire department to reach, owing to its being on the top of Dublin Hill, with approaches very steep. A young cow was somewhat burned, but not fatally. The loss will not exceed $250. The barn stood within a few feet of Luke Crow's barn, which was also set on fire some few months ago.

Pictures and Artists.

The name of Miss Sara Bascom Gilbert, of this city, appears in the New York Evening Post among the successful artists at the Water Color Exhibition now in progress in New York city. The exhibition is a prominent art event in the metropolis and the sale of specimens, the Post says, is larger this year than ever before. In fact, "nothing like it ever known before" is the current saying at the exhibition. The names of the successful artists and leading sales are daily gazetted. Miss Gilbert is a sister of Levi C. Gilbert, the coal dealer. The list of sales, afternoon and evening, those of the morning having been previously reported, is as follows:

Mr. George Holston's "Flowers," No. 306; Mr. Kruseman Van Elten's "Oatfields in Connecticut," No. 221, $250; Mr. Frederick S. Cozzens' "Morning off the Isles of Shoals," No. 323, $125; Mr. James D. Smillie's "Old Cedars on the Coast of Maine," No. 47; Mr. Edwin Forbes' "No Trespassing Allowed," No. 668, $60; Miss Sara Bascom Gilbert's "Sewing Bee," No. 545, $75; Mr. Granville Perkins' "Wreckers at Work," No. 264, $75; the same artist's "Coast Scene," No. 377, $75; Mr. Henry Farrer's "On the Beach at Bay Ridge," No. 474 (etching), $8; Mr. E. C. Darby's "Flowers," No. 510; Mr. J. Tuzo's "Petunias," No. 217, $25; Mr. James F. Hind's "Village in Auvergne," No. 637, $50; Mr. J. E. Baker's "Single Peony," No. 122, $15; Miss E. Aspinwall's "Growing Pansies," No. 57, $18; Mr. W. H. Gibson's "New England Roadside," No. 676, $125, and Miss Mary F. Peck's "Pansies," No. 131, $25.

Personal.

Mr. Senator Lines, of Meriden, is quite ill.

Mr. E. S. Hamilton, deputy United States port collector at Hartford, is seriously ill.

Prof. W. C. Richards, the scientist of Chicago, gives four lectures soon in New London.

Hon. Nathaniel Wheeler has given $50 to the Herald famine fund through Judge Blake, the Bridgeport agent.

Prof. Collier gives an informal talk on "Sorghum Growing" in the hall of the House of Representatives at Hartford this evening.

The Rev. W. H. Green, who was sentenced for life for murdering his wife in Litchfield county in 1869, is said to be dangerously ill in the State prison.

The Rev. Thomas A. Davis, missionary of the African M. E. church, acknowledges the receipt of $10 from Samuel A. Clemens (Mark Twain) of Hartford.

Capt. Harvey Treat died Saturday in Milford. He was long an old and much respected citizen of Bridgeport. He had lived in Milford for several years past, and was one of the oldest Masons in that section.

The Hartford Courant of yesterday announces that Rev. Mr. Hayden, having a large debt hanging over him in consequence of the expenses of the trial, has decided to follow the publication of his book by the delivery of a lecture entitled "Circumstantial Evidence," and he will make his first appearance at the Opera House on Wednesday evening of this week.

Mr. C. B. Bristol, at Fitch's, found something queer in one of a new lot of grindstones just arrived from Nova Scotia, and investigating found within the solid stone what was undoubtedly a petrified stalk of cane. It had become one in substance with the stone but was easily detached. All the characteristic marking of cane remained. The plant was larger than the ordinary Southern sugar cane.

Walking advertisements: Every man, woman and child who has once tried Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup cannot say enough in its praise, and this is the reason why its sale is constantly increasing.

Dr. S. W. Fiske, the successful Clairvoyant Physician of world-wide reputation, can be consulted at the Tontine Hotel, New Haven, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, February 17th, 18th and 19th, and Friday, the 20th, until 3 p. m. Immense success, a large and growing practice every year attests the good merits of Dr. Fiske as a physician. Coughs, Colds, Liver and Kidney Diseases cured in the shortest possible time. His medicines purify the blood and permanently remove all diseases. Try his vegetable remedies and be cured.

Lyons' great selling out sale continues to draw great crowds of customers to their store daily. The bargains which they offer are immense, especially in their dress goods department. Special bargains are offered this week in housekeeping goods, lace and muslin curtain goods, when close buyers should not fail to attend. f17 2t

For Table linen, table covers, napkins, tray covers, mats, tidies, fine towels and toweling, the cheapest and safest place to buy is the store of [f17 3t] J. N. ADAM & CO.

F. & L. Lyons are selling out everything.

Swiss Muslins, Organdies, Nainsooks, Piques, Fine Lawns, White Terry, and fine white goods generally can be bought best of f17 3t. J. N. ADAM & CO.

F. & L. Lyons have to move soon, but they don't intend to move any goods. f17 2t

No Hospital Needed.

No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they tell their own story by their certain and absolute cures at home.

F. & L. Lyons are selling out. f17 2t

Silks.

Some very great bargains in summer and trimming silks can be got at J. N. Adam & Co's. Theirs is always the best store to buy silks in, but these are exceptionally good value. They were marked down at stock taking far below their market value in order to close them out. fe16 3t

Hamburg Edgings, new styles, great variety, lowest prices. J. N. ADAM & CO.

To Provident Housekeepers.

It may be many years before you can again buy Dry Goods as cheap as you can to-day. Therefore lay in a good reserve of such things as Linen and Cotton sheeting and pillow casing, cotton shirting, fine cotton for underwear, table linen, towels, diaper, violen and cotton flannels, and all such staple goods. They do not go out of fashion; they are always needed; and bought now, they will prove a good investment. The safest place to "stock up" is at [f17 3t] J. N. ADAM & CO.'s

Make a Note

Of the following things that J. N. Adam & Co. have put on their "closing-out" list, which means of course that you can buy them far below their value:—Cloaks, cloakings, woolen dress goods of all grades, winter underwear and Hosiery, knit goods, a great variety of odds and ends in gentlemen's furnishings, and all odd lots and pieces in every department. It is a general clearing of the decks to be ready for spring goods. Don't miss the chance.

A Crimson Flood.

After the rush of a crimson flood from the tortured lungs, the debilitated patient reflects that a simple and healing remedy at the outset of the irritation of the throat and chest—such a remedy as Roberts' Syrup of Tar, Bonset and Wild Cherry, composed of pure medicaments, scientifically, united in a palatable, healing balsam—might have prevented the exhausting weakness of repeated coughing, and allayed the wearing aggravation of pain in the chest. As a prudential measure, this medicine should be taken at the beginning of a cold. Sample bottle ten cents, large size fifty cents.

KID GLOVES.

We have received, and can now supply those waiting for the Foster Laced Glove. We regret that we have been unable to supply the demand heretofore, and are confident that we can do so in future. In reference to the statement made by some as keeping the same glove, we can say that it is unfounded. We have the exclusive sale for this city. Every pair is marked "Foster Kid Glove" and patented. Therefore none need be imposed upon. Respectfully,

DRY GOODS,

Amounting in the Aggregate to over

$20,000 Worth

Of Seasonable and Saleable Fancy Dry Goods and Millinery,

Partially Damaged

From reason of being handled in packing and removal and is otherwise for all practical purposes equally as good as new. The fact that we have already cleaned and cleared out nearly all odds and ends and unseasonable goods in our own stock makes us the more anxious to get rid of this

At Whatever it Will Bring.

We take occasion to remind our customers that in view of th's fact of New Haven having had such a siege of closing out sales and auction sales of dry goods during the past two months, that in order

To make this Sale Effectual we must make Prices Accordingly. We have done this. Now is your time

To buy Dry Goods and save money before we enter upon the era of New Stocks, New Prices, and the tendency still upward and onward in the general boom of higher prices which is the cry of manufacturers and importers. We will, therefore, in accordance with our usual custom of dealing with

BANKRUPT STOCKS

Give our numerous Patrons and the Public A Grand Benefit!

A Grand Opportunity

To select the most marvelous Bargains which can possibly be derived from a miscellaneous stock of such magnitude.

$20,000

Worth of Fancy Dry Goods and Millinery, &c., thrown upon the market at a time when goods are advancing, almost at the rate of one per cent a minute, and are likely to keep doing so. THE GOODS WILL BE ALL

Rearranged and Marked in Red Figures

On Wednesday, and thrown open to the Public to Select from on

To-day, Feb. 12, 1880.

Be on Hand Early.

Extra Salesmen and Delivery Wagons have been engaged for the occasion, so that proper attention is assured, also six young stock boys, experienced in the business will be kept ready to fill up the assortments of goods in each department as fast as they are sold out; by this means customers will be sure of finding nearly any article they call for. We have received positive instructions to sell every dollars worth of the Middletown Branch Stock irrespective of cost, not wishing to identify one dollar's worth of it with our regular stock. It will be well for the public to bear this in mind, as such another opportunity will not occur again to buy first-class goods at LOW PRICES.
