LOCAL NEWS.

Brief Mention.

The Irish famine relief fund in Bridgeport now amounts to $1,084.

The two ice trains on the Housatonic railroad last week brought down daily 500 tons of ice.

McGrail & Shanley, the dry goods dealers, are extending their business and advertise today chances for bargains.

A unique and handsome sign, executed by Jule Rida for Smith & Stone, dealers in gents' furnishings, has just been put up at their store, 352 Chapel street, corner Church.

It is noted as a demonstrated fact, and worthy of the attention of the curious on such subjects, that many more books on poetry are taken out of the Young Men's Institute by male members than by those of the fair sex.

Our friend the Register should take the beam out of its own eye while finding a mote in ours. In asserting New Haven's population to be over 65,000 it makes us out to be one of the smallest cities in the Union—with 6,000 inhabitants.

The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Seaman's Friend Society takes place at 124 High street this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meeting is held one week earlier than usual, owing to important business to be considered in connection with the "Bethel."

The banks will be closed to-day, it being a legal holiday. The postoffice will be open from 8 a. m. to 12 noon, and all mails will close at 1 p. m. The carriers make but one delivery, leaving the office at 9. The vestibule will be open all day and till midnight as usual.

A paper on "The Early Legislation of Connecticut" will be read before the New Haven Colony Historical Society this (Monday) evening, in the chamber of the Court of Common Pleas, by Henry Bronson, M. D. The society will meet at half-past 7; the reading will begin at 8. The public are invited.

Mr. John F. Marshal, dealer in gas fixtures at No. 298 Grand street, died while sitting in his chair, at his residence, No. 300 Grand street, Saturday evening. He had been ill about a week and had been troubled with a heart difficulty. He was an estimable citizen and long a much valued member of the St. John street M. E. church. He was 72 years of age.

The Railroads.

At a meeting of the directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, held in this city Saturday, the proposed scheme for a reduction of fares and freights along the line was discussed at length. Another special meeting of the board will be held next Saturday when the same subject will be discussed further.

Pastoral.

The Rev. Mr. Harriman, of the Episcopal church in Winsted, has accepted a call to the church in Portland and will go there in April.

Rev. Mr. Bray, formerly of this city, and Mr. Bailey, president of the Reform League in Danbury, spoke in the cause of temperance in Wolcottville yesterday.

Rev. M. H. Pogson, the eloquent temperance lecturer of Bridgeport, (Baptist) lately addressed the Catholic temperance society of that place. His action is warmly commended in various quarters.

The Charter Revision.

The committee on the revision of the city charter held another meeting on Saturday afternoon. The charter, with its alterations and modifications, has been printed in book form and is now ready for the action of the Court of Common Council and will probably come before the Board of Aldermen to-night. The committee will meet again this afternoon at 2 o'clock, when the officials whose salaries it is proposed to reduce will appear before the committee and have their say regarding the proposed change.

A Horse Runaway.

At about half-past nine o'clock Saturday evening, as Mr. Frederick Manville, of this city, was returning from West Haven to the city with a friend, driving in, the king bolt gave way and the occupants of the carriage were thrown out. Mr. M. retained his hold of the reins and was dragged a short distance when he let go his hold. Neither of the parties were hurt excepting slight bruises. The horse, with the shafts and the forward wheels attached, came in town at a rapid gait and went direct to his home, at Mr. Addison T. Hall's stables, where the team had been engaged. Mr. Manville hired a West Haven man, who got out his team and brought himself and friend to the city. Mr. Hall was surprised to find it reported that it was "a disastrous" affair, and says the damage will be covered by 25 cents.

Personal.

F. W. Etheridge and John E. Scanlan, of Hartford, and Leverett N. Austin, of Suffield, were admitted to the bar at Hartford Saturday.

Lawyer James I. Hayes, of this city, was announced in the Bridgeport papers to speak in that city last evening on the temperance question from a lawyer's standpoint before a Catholic temperance meeting.

The will of the late Treasurer Brown of Hartford leaves an estate of $50,000 to his wife. The will of George Affleck, also of Hartford, disposes likewise of $50,000. He leaves $3,000 to the Hartford Protestant Asylum, $2,000 to the Hartford Hospital, to the Rt. Rev. Bishop Williams and his successors $9,000, to be expended as he shall see fit for the benefit of the poor of Hartford, to the Larabee fund $1,000, and the remainder to his relatives.

Lodge and Society.

The literary committee of the New Haven Labor Lyceum have been making efforts to form a free public library and reading room in connection with the lyceum, which holds regular meetings at its rooms in the Insurance building. They have issued a circular calling upon all who like to aid a good cause to donate money, books, magazines, etc., and the literary committee, Mr. H. B. Wright chairman, has appointed a committee to receive all such aid for the laudable object. They announce that their reading room is now open every Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

The members of Horeb Lodge No. 25, I. O. B. B., and their friends, of this city, are to pay a return visit to Ararat Lodge, I. O. B. B., of Hartford, on Sunday, March 7. They will go on a special train. The Ararat Lodge were here on a visit to the Horeb a few weeks ago.

Washington's Birthday.

Commemorative Services — At the Church of the Messiah—At the First Baptist Church—Admiral Foote G. A. R. Post, Pioneer and Washington Councils O. U. A. M.

Commemorative services in honor of the birthday of "The Father of His Country" were held at the Church of the Messiah and at the First Baptist church last evening. Both services were very numerously attended, and at both churches sermons appropriate to the occasion were given. At the Church of the Messiah Admiral Foote Post G. A. R. attended in a body, occupying seats reserved for them in the body of the church. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Houghton, preached an admirable discourse, and there were specially interesting vocal and instrumental exercises. The church was not only completely filled, but also the doorways, up stairs and down, and much interest was shown. "Keller's American Hymn" was rendered by the Choral orchestra. This body of musicians occupied seats in the choir gallery in the rear of the singers. Following came a cornet solo by Mr. J. P. Stack, "The Star Spangled Banner," and next the choir gave the "Gloria in Excelsis," the orchestra accompanying. The church service then followed, the pastor reading selections from the Scriptures and the choir responding. W. R. Wallace's "National Anthem" was then given, sung to the tune of "Park Street" by the choir and congregation, the orchestra also assisting. The sermon by Mr. Houghton was eloquent, and listened to with wrapt attention. In the course of his remarks he spoke finely of the boys in blue and of their services for the preservation of the republic and the perpetuation of the glorious institutions handed down as a legacy from Washington and the other heroes, whose names will ever live in history's pages. He spoke of the demonstration of the principle of self-government, and urged all to exercise the power of the ballot conscientiously and from principle. Good men should also sink distinction of creeds, in so far at least as not to war upon one another, and work for the best good of humanity unitedly. Churches must stop quarreling over sectarian differences and work together to put down ignorance and vice, and imitate the example of the Saviour of mankind. Let us never forget the heroic lives laid down for the old flag. May that old flag forever wave, may it continually shine, and perish the hand that would rise against these stars and stripes. May it always wave, the emblem of liberty, a blessing to mankind.

The preacher announced that the Young People's Social club would give another of their entertainments on Wednesday evening of this week. Following, Mr. Butricks finely sang "The Battle Prayer," his bass voice being heard to much advantage. The pastor then called upon all to join in the new hymn "Columbia." This is the famous new composition by P. S. Gilmore, of Boston Jubilee fame. It was given spiritedly and with fine effect, two verses being rendered by the Choral orchestra and the choir, and one more, the sixth, as a solo by Miss Chapin, the blind vocalist. The congregation turned by common consent and faced the orchestra to hear the spirited and beautiful music. Many lingered after the benediction to exchange congratulatory remarks over the interesting character of the evening's programme. A beautiful array of immortelles and other flowers with fern leaves stood upon the communion table, the gift of Mrs. L. A. Miller, of the New Haven School of Music on Chapel street.

Sermon by Rev. Dr. Stifler—Interesting Services—The Order of United American Mechanics in Attendance.

The services at the First Baptist church last evening were of more than ordinary interest, owing to the fact that it being Washington's birth day, the patriotic order of United American Mechanics were to attend in a body. The members of the order arrived a few minutes before the time for service to commence, and took seats in the body of the church that had been reserved for them.

The services were opened by an organ voluntary followed by singing the familiar hymn,

My country, 'tis of thee
Sweet land of liberty.

A scripture lesson by the pastor followed, the selection being the 13th chapter of Romans. After a prayer by the pastor appropriate to the occasion, Dr. Walker and wife sang in a very effective manner as a duett, "O that will be glory for me."

Rev. Dr. Stifler announced as the basis of his discourse the words in Romans 13th chapter, 8th verse: "Owe no man anything, but to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law." The preacher spoke in substance as follows: If you ask what love is, you have the answer in the text. It is a debt, and not an oppressive load. To illustrate, a man digging in his garden finds a golden eagle that, having been long buried in the earth, has become dull and dingy. He cleans it again and again and at last it shines with its original lustre. Now put a man in the place of the piece of money; smiles have long since fled from his face, and if we can only make his face beam with pleasure again, we have done what was done with the golden eagle. Love for the man will make us do for him just what we did for the eagle. Love is a purpose; a plan to help a poor man up. Love is not mere sentiment; it is thought, intelligence and help. Love lifts us above law, as it fulfills the law. If the law says do this or do that and I do it, I have fulfilled the law. Law is not made for a righteous man. Love has got all the law in it and something more; it takes the place of law. When I have love in my heart I can break the two stones on which the law is written. The weakest thing in the world is law; put a man behind it, a man with a heart, and it amounts to something. A man who only loves himself will never keep God's law. It is all very well to preach that we shall visit the orphans and the fatherless, and do unto others as we would have others do unto us, but we never do it without we have love to impel us. There is a great deal of forced virtue in the world. There is now and then a man who does right by sheer force of will, just as a man takes hold of a galvanic battery when, if he has strong nerves, he holds on; but the better way is to do things under the impetus of love. Give men love for their fellowmen, and our jails and prisons will be emptied. Forced virtue is no virtue; God's plan is to send so much love into men's hearts as will lift them above the law.

It is nearly a century and a half ago since God gave to this land a man who was a bright example of the law of love. It was because of Washington's valor and virtue that we have our noble free institutions, that makes every American his own king. How are we to preserve these institutions? It is vain to try to do it by law. We must love our institutions if we would perpetuate them. If the love of liberty and manhood dies out of our hearts our institutions have begun to rot. Rich men can be free anywhere; but we who have not riches must depend upon our love of country. The only reason why Bright or Gladstone cannot wear the crown of England is because they were rocked in the wrong cradle. But in this country who was born on its soil has a birthright to the presidency of it. A man who thinks about his country and thinks well is a statesman; a man who thinks about his tools and thinks well is an artisan. As a man thinks so is he, and his dignity is just equal to his central moving thought. There is rank and grade in high and low, and it should be so. A man's rank depends upon his heart and brain power. You may not be an Edison, or a Vanderbilt, or a Stewart, but you may be like Jesus Christ and go about doing good. Piety is the only undisputed patent to nobility. Be true to your fellow man and your kingship will be established. I cannot be like Washington one whit; but you and I can be like Christ if we love our fellows. Let me help my brother into a higher and better life and I will not envy any man what he may do. As man is the grandest thing on earth, so work is the grandest thing for him to do. Let us not chase the butterflies of this life, and this we will not do if we love our brother. He who loves his brother fulfills the law, and only he can go where Christ has gone before.

The above, which is only a brief abstract of Dr. Stifler's very able discourse, was listened to with deep attention by the large audience in attendance.

Washington's Birthday Notes.

Washington's birthday will be celebrated to-day by the Washington Union Brotherhood. A larger gathering of the organization than usual is expected. The secretary, Mr. Oviatt, speaks of the probability of many absent members abroad sitting again around the festive board with their old associates. The committee have arranged with their brother, Mr. C. W. Bradley, of the Florence House, to provide the annual banquet, which is to be eaten at two o'clock. The business meeting for choice of officers will be held at headquarters at one o'clock.

Washington's birthday was finely celebrated in New Britain Saturday evening by the New Britain Council, No. 8, O. U. A. M., at Humphrey Hall. Responses to toasts were made by William Parker, Dr. Comings, Rev. Dr. Richardson and ex-Mayor Camp of New Britain, and by Mr. Gilmore of this city, and E. W. Munson of West Meriden. A fine banquet was served.

To-day at twelve o'clock, noon, Washington Council, O. U. A. M., fire a salute of thirty-eight guns on the Green. The council also gives a Washington's birthday sociable at Union armory on Wednesday evening.

Found Dead in Bed.

An Actress Dies from Heart Disease—The Coroner's Inquest and Finding of the Jury.

Maggie Pearl was a variety actress and for the past week had been playing at McFadden's variety theatre. On Saturday she went to Meriden and played for a show in that city, returning to New Haven on the midnight train. She repaired to her boarding house, No. 14 Prindle Alley, in apparently good health, and was last seen about 2 o'clock on Sunday morning when she retired. She did not get up at the breakfast hour, and the inmates of the house supposing that she was weary from the labors of the week did not try to awaken her. At 12 o'clock noon she had not made her appearance and one of the boarders went to her door and rapped loudly, but there was no response. The family were notified, and suspicions being aroused the door was forced. On entering the woman was found in bed lying upon her side with one hand under her head and in an apparent quiet sleep. On attempting to arouse her it was found that she was icy cold, and the true state of the case was suddenly revealed. She was dead. Dr. Frank Whittemore was called and gave it as his opinion that the woman had died from disease of the heart. Acting Coroner Hugh Dailey was notified, and after inquiring into the facts caused a jury of inquest to be summoned as follows: Michael Herrity (foreman), James B. Hickox, George M. Downes, Henry Peck, Frank H. Trusdell and George Graham. The jury viewed the body, and after hearing the evidence they returned a verdict that in their opinion the deceased died from heart disease. In her room was found a trunk of clothing, a gold open faced watch, three finger rings, a set of earrings, a canary bird and cage, an empty pocketbook, and under her pillow thirty-one dollars in bills and silver. It is said that she lived in New York, was about thirty-six years of age and had a child five years of age. A letter found in her room disclosed the fact that her husband had gone to Florida. The remains were taken to Newton & Keller's undertaking establishment on Orange street, and should nothing be heard from friends within a day or two she will probably be buried.

A Mysterious Affair.

On Saturday afternoon a dead body was placed on board a train of the Consolidated road at New York, directed to Milford, Conn. No person appeared at Milford to claim the body and at last accounts it was still there awaiting an owner. The usual fare was paid in New York by an unknown man. On the coffin plate is the following: "Louis V. Penney, died Feb. 19th, aged 21 years.

Police Notes.

Michael Corcoran and Alexander Cummings were arrested yesterday for drunkenness and breach of the peace. They assaulted John Higgins and then went to Malloy's store on the corner of St. John and Wallace streets and kicked in the door. They will be called upon to answer before Judge Pardee in the City Court this morning.

About 9 o'clock Saturday night a fight took place between Thomas Powers and Timothy Crowley in Powers' saloon on St. John street near the Grand street bridge. During the fight Powers got Crowley's lower lip between his teeth and bit it entirely off and the piece of lip was not found. This being a case of mayhem is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison. Both parties were arrested and will be brought before the City Court this morning.

Jottings at the Churches.

Rev. Dr. Walker, of Hartford, occupied the pulpit of the Center church yesterday morning and afternoon, preaching two admirable sermons. Very large congregations were present, evidently much pleased to hear again their former pastor.

A very large and interesting meeting was held last evening at the chapel of the First Congregational church, Fair Haven, it being the evening devoted to temperance. Mr. Samuel Thrasher, city missionary among the sailors, addressed the meeting, and although suffering from a severe cold gave a very interesting and thrilling talk, with incidents of his own life to illustrate the power of strong drink to degrade and drag down those within its power. Rev. Mr. Hart, the pastor, preceded the speaker with a short address of welcome, in which he referred to the work being accomplished by the brother among the seafaring men of the city and bid him God speed in his noble work.

Rev. Father Briscoe preached a fine sermon at St. Patrick's yesterday morning on the sin of swearing.

There was a large meeting at the Seamen's reading room yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The services were conducted by Charles J. Noble. Three persons signified their determination to become Christians.

A Sunday School Occupying New Quarters.

Yesterday afternoon the Cedar Hill mission Sunday school held its first session in its new quarters—the chapel recently purchased of the First Congregational church, Fair Haven, and moved to a leased lot on Middletown avenue, directly in front of its old place of worship. The chapel has been much improved since placed in its new position and presents a very pleasant interior. Over the superintendent's platform is hanging a large illuminated text—"Who went about doing good"—and many other appropriate mottoes are seen on the walls. The society has also built an addition 15x25½ on the north end of the chapel for the accommodation of the infant class, which already numbers 33 scholars and with a prospect of soon having a membership of 50. The school is evidently in a very prosperous condition and seemed much pleased with its new quarters. The respective teachers seem to enter into the work with much zeal and earnestness. The school has already an enrolled membership of 125 scholars, 13 teachers and 7 officers. The attendance yesterday, according to the secretary's report, was 6 officers, 12 teachers, 79 scholars and 10 visitors. At the close of the regular lesson the school rehearsed for a concert which is to be given next Sunday, and which is looked forward to with much interest.

Entertainments.

HERMANN.

The renowned Hermann, the great prestidigitateur, will appear at Coe's Opera House, supported by M'lle. Addie in her specialties and those elfin sprites "The Sorrellas," and Val. Vose, the great ventriloquist, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon, February 26, 27, 28.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY SOCIABLE.

Washington Council, O. U. A. M., give a sociable in honor of Washington's birthday, at Union armory, on Wednesday evening. The organization is large and flourishing and a goodly party will trip the "light fantastic." Music by Thomas, prompting by Robinson. See advertisement.

HAVERLY'S MINSTRELS.

Haverly's great mastodon minstrel troupe visit this city again at Peck's Grand Opera House to-morrow (Tuesday) evening, with an unrivalled programme, made up of the latest novelties, all being entirely new, racy and original. The troupe is one of the strongest and best in the country. Mr. Haverly has a national reputation in his profession. Seats may be secured at Loomis'.

MR. SPAULDING'S LECTURES.

Mr. Spaulding's next lecture on "Catacombs and Churches" will doubtless prove of as absorbing interest as the previous ones in this interesting course have been. The two remaining lectures on Christian Rome, touching as they do upon early Christian history and the relation of Christianity to the Roman religion, will attract a good many who may not have cared about Pagan Rome. The catacombs, though of the highest antiquity, are especially important to Christian people as the tombs of martyrs and the abode of the primitive saints. The construction and ornamentation of these famous underground burial places will be made even more intelligible by this illustrated lecture than by the actual sight of the objects themselves. Those who go to the Grand Opera House Wednesday evening will enjoy an interesting study of early Christian history and Christian art, a study which will be extended beyond the catacombs by sketches and illustrations of some of the Roman churches and Basilicas. Admission tickets can be obtained at Judd's for 50 and 75 cents.

Connecticut Institutions.

The Legislators' Visit to the Industrial School for Girls—The Girls' School—The Appeal for More Accommodations.

The tenth annual report of the directors of the Connecticut Industrial School for Girls shows there were 186 girls already in the school and received during the year 1879. Of the 56 who were received during the year, some were "returned" girls—previous occupants. A pressing need of a new building is urged. The inmates, mostly young girls of 10 to 17, are increasing in numbers, and already fill the four buildings, or houses, to overflowing, so that besides 146 that are kept there, 80 have been "sent out" to other houses—private families. Not all of these girls are prone to lives of vice; many of them are merely wayward, and are sent to the Industrial School because they cannot otherwise be well managed. Some of them are only 8 and 9 years old; a few are 18. They are of all varieties of character, and should not be allowed to mix too much together, since the bad ones spoil those that might be saved. For this reason, as well as because the school is full to overflowing, the directors ask the Legislature to give $20,000 to build an additional home, as a part of the establishment. About one-fifth of the whole number are "bad girls"—prone to vice, and require prolonged and strict discipline. Some of these are quite young—scarcely more than children. The directors say:

"It is scarcely credible that girls so young can have fallen so far; but it is useless to shut our eyes to the fact. These girls can less frequently be placed with safety in families, and consequently the proportion of them remaining in the school tends to increase, while they exercise a corrupting influence upon the others."

For this reason the management desires to separate them from the others, and the new building is for this reason alone sorely needed.

The State, independently of its current appropriation for board, has given in all $30,000. Private benefactions aggregate about $97,000. The town of Middletown gave land and buildings, valued at the time at $11,500. This is but a quarter of the cost of the permanent establishment. Private gifts are doing much for the school, but State aid is now really needed. Many girls are not only saved by this institution, but are taught trades and habits of industry which are useful to them in after years. It is a curious coincidence that the total (31) for Hartford corresponds identically with the number from New Haven, and also that the number of commitments for 1879 was the same in the two cities.

Fully 150 members of the Legislature visited the institution Friday. Many of them were accompanied by their wives. They went by a special train, and, arriving at the station, went by carriages to this home for girls. A dinner was served them the first thing on their arrival. All the premises were visited. The box shop earned $2,050 last year. The laundry, the dormitories,—all was in fine order. The school was in session, and it was viewed with much approbation. The legislators found their hearts enlisted in the school and its objects, and in the plan for extending its usefulness.

The Buchholz Case.

The Buchholz case at Bridgeport is resumed to-morrow morning. Heineman the forger's examination was concluded Friday afternoon and the testimony of the jailer, Mr. Wells, was taken before the adjournment. Heineman or Wills admitted to having served a term in Pennsylvania State prison for a series of forgeries amounting to $5,400 on the Philadelphia National bank, made five or six years ago. He was finally sustained in his refusal to give the name of his sister. He was pardoned out of prison after serving three years.

The Presidential Sentiment in Connecticut.

For the purpose of getting an idea of the drift of political sentiment in the State, the Courant has given an opportunity to the members of the General Assembly to express their preference for Presidential candidates. As the members come from every part of the State it is to be supposed that their opinions represent very fairly the opinions of the intelligent voters of the State. Of the fifteen Republican Senators present, the first choice for President is as follows: Grant 6, Edmunds 3, Washburn 3, Blaine 2, Garfield 1. In the House a complete tally has not been concluded, but estimating from the returns received from two-thirds of the members, Grant is the favorite by about 15 plurality over Blaine, and 35 over Sherman. The remaining votes are divided between Hawley, Washburn, Hayes and Garfield in the order named, the first named having, of the votes returned, one less than Sherman. The votes given for second and third choice would seem to advocate that while there is a diversity of opinion there are no antagonisms. Mr. Blaine has the lead for second choice by a few votes, while Mr. Sherman is a good third. It is evident that as yet there has been very little effort to work up a "boom" for any candidate.

The Democratic members are apparently in a somewhat chaotic state of mind, the majority evidently caring only for an available candidate who will make a good run. Horatio Seymour leads handsomely in the voting for first choice, having about half the votes of all the votes returned. The other votes are divided between Tilden, Hubbard, Ingersoll, English, Davis, Bayard and Barnum. The vote for Mr. Tilden does not indicate any great love for the cipher statesman, being small enough to be called scattering.—Hartford Courant.

The Manufacturing Boom.

The Waterbury Brass Company are preparing to erect a new building, same size as the rolling mill and adjoining it on the north, to be used as a wire mill. Another building is to be erected on the west side of the rolling mill.

The East Haven Wire Works break ground to-day for a frame addition 100x200 feet.

Benedict & Barnum, Waterbury, are employing 700 hands and are increasing their capacity for more.

The Farrel Foundry and Machine Works have 110 hands in Waterbury and 170 at their works in Ansonia. In the Waterbury establishment they smelt seven tons of iron per day. This concern has made the largest sugar mill ever constructed, with rolls weighing 20 tons each, driven by a 250 horse power engine.

The Waterbury Clock Company is just finishing a three story addition to their "case" works.

The Scoville Manufacturing Company employ 450 hands in Waterbury and about 200 more in New Haven and New York. Holmes, Booth & Hayden's immense works employ 600 hands and use an engine of 1,000 horse power. They have recently finished an addition to their concern three stories high and 124x50 feet area, with a wing 70 feet long by 50 wide.

The Brown Bros., Waterbury, are full of work. Their immense rolling mill, 200x175, is full of men, and every department is busy. This concern makes the largest drawn tubes in the world—fourteen inches in diameter and five feet long—on a gigantic machine weighing seventy-five tons and worked by hydraulic power. The other departments of their work require the entire power of a 650 horse power engine.

College Notes.

Professor Wheeler lectures before Linonia this evening. Subject, "Iceland."

The hour of the Friday evening university prayer meeting has been changed from 6:30 to 6:40 p. m.

The Harvard Crimson, speaking of their crew, says: "If the present faithful training is continued no fear need be felt for the result next July."

Professor Dana will deliver a lecture two weeks from last Saturday to the senior class on first chapter of Genesis.

Reserved seats to the winter athletic contests are on sale at Beers'. As the seats are limited they had better be secured at once.

Bowdoin has graduated one President, one Secretary of Treasury, eight Senators, eight Governors, twenty-five Congressmen, sixteen presidents of colleges, thirteen judges and eighty professors.

The fourteenth annual reunion of the Harvard Club was held at Delmonico's Friday evening. President Eliot and Professor Agassiz were among the speakers. The action of the trustees in declaring Dr. Bellows disqualified to be an overseer of the college provoked quite a spirited discussion.

Prof. G. Browne Goode, of Wesleyan, has been appointed to represent the Government at the International Fishery Exhibition at Berlin this spring, and has appointed Arthur T. Neale, of Middletown, to act as his secretary.

The freshmen who sported bangers at church yesterday are to be congratulated. So far as "giving away" both themselves and the college is concerned, their action was a decided success. Why a freshman need carry a stick of cord-wood to distinguish him from the rest of the college is hard to see. Indeed, to the average freshman such an "ounce" is entirely superfluous, for his general greenness will serve sufficiently well as a mark of distinction.

We shall never cease to endorse the good qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; for without its good effect our paper would have been short of reading matter this week; we had a shocking cough.—Weekly Union.

Inventory at Malley's.
Only 5 days more for bargains. Hurry up.

Tremendous Convulsions
of the stomach are produced by many of the remedies for activity and constipation. Milk of Magnesia produces no such internal earthquakes, but relieves the acid stomach or the overburdened bowels gently but effectually. Sold by all Druggists.

Fancy colored shirts at Smith & Stone's.

will be closed Friday for inventory. Astonishing low prices will be made on the entire stock in order to reduce it as much as possible. Be sure and visit the mammoth establishment this week.

Novelties in scarfs at Smith & Stone's.

McGrail & Shanley
Have made still further reduction in prices (at 15c. on the $1) on the balance of their Grand street stock. We therefore advise those in need of dry goods required by every housekeeper, to call at McGrail & Shanley's, 276 Chapel street.

Only Five Days More.
Tremendous bargains at Malley's this week, in order to reduce the stock before inventory, which occurs Friday, when the store will be closed.

McGrail & Shanley
Will make one more great sacrifice on the balance of their Cloaks, Dolmans, Ulsters, Blankets, Woolens and Winter dress goods of all kinds at 33½c. on the dollar; last week's prices were 50c. on the dollar for the above goods, but we must sell. We don't want them in the store at any price to carry over. Remember that ours is the popular store for low prices, at 276 Chapel street.

Inventory at Malley's.
Only 5 days more for bargains. Hurry up.

McGrail & Shanley
Have on hand, $10,000 of bleached and unbleached cottons of all widths, at the old prices of 4½c. per yard upwards. Table Linens, Napkins, Toweling and Towels of all kinds, all of which will be sold at the old prices, at 276 Chapel street.

Malley's.
Purchasers of dry goods, &c., are reminded that Malley's will be closed Friday next for inventory, up to which time he will sell his entire stock at marvelously low prices. A word to the wise is sufficient.

From a Prominent Drug House.
H. H. WARNER & Co., ROCHESTER, N. Y.
—DEAR SIR:—It is now only three months since we received your first shipment of Safe Remedies. We have sold drugs in this place for twenty years, and we have never sold a proprietary medicine that gives such universal satisfaction as yours, especially your Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and Safe Diabetes Cure.
We could mention many who have received great benefit in cases of Kidney difficulties, Asthma, Rheumatism, Diabetes, Bright's Disease, etc. Respectfully yours,
SIMSON & FOX, Alexandria Bay, N. Y.

Lyons' Great Sale—Greater Bargains Than Ever.
Good Prints 5c. a yard.
5,000 yards Hamburg Edgings from 3 to 25c.
Bleached, half bleached or a brown cotton less than wholesale prices.
10,000 yards Dress Goods at half price.
All our winter underwear less than cost.
500 yards fine Black Cashmere at 75c. reduced from $1.
Table Linens, Napkins and Towels less than importation prices. Ladies' and Children's Cloaks; only a few left at half value. We have a store full of bargains, which we cannot mention for the want of space. As our stock grows smaller, our bargains will be greater every day. Only a few weeks more before we have to move. Come one and all and often at F. & L. Lyons' great selling out sale.

Weather-Beaten Toilers.
The exposure to all kinds of weather, made necessary by a life of toil in the open air, often causing trifling troubles of the throat and lungs, while not avoidable may be rendered harmless by the timely use of Roberts' Syrup of Tar, Honeset and Wild Cherry. This remedy quiets the distressing cough, promotes sleep at night, and does not debilitate. It lubricates the tubes and passages and allays all inflammation caused by a cold. Sample bottle ten cents, large size fifty cents.

Use Brummell's celebrated Cough Drops. The genuine have A. H. B. on each drop. B. H. Douglass & Son, New Haven, wholesale agents. jan24 2mo

No More White Butter.
No dairyman can afford to make and sell white butter. People who buy butter want it yellow, and are willing to pay several cents per pound more for it than they would for the lardy looking stuff they often have to take. By using Wells, Richardson & Co.'s Perfected Butter Color, every dairyman can have the golden color of June the year round. It is sold by druggists and merchants generally.

Physicians use Kidney-Wort in regular practice and pronounce its action perfect.

Mothers are delighted with Pitcher's Castoria because it makes the children cheerful and well, and children almost cry for Castoria, because it is sweet. Wind Colic, Sour Curd, Rash, Feverishness and Worms soon disappear when Castoria is used.
