

STRANGLERS FORM MURDER SOCIETY AS 'WHITE WOLVES'

Chinamen Terrorize France With Oriental Death-Brother of Black Hand.

PARIS, Sept. 3.—A secret Chinese society known as the "White Wolves," and similar in its workings to the Italian "Black Hand," has been unearthed by the police. The society is said to deal in robbery and murder and that victims were strangled when they failed to pay tribute to the society. The organization extorted money from the Chinese coolies and its ramifications extended into Algeria.

The "White Wolves" have been operating chiefly among the coolies near Toulon, Marseilles and Nice.

A strangled Chinaman was discovered in the village of Ollioules which led to the original investigation. The French police failed to track the murderer and called in a Chinese detective. He spent some time in Chinese labor camps and discovered the "White Wolves," the chief being an ex-policeman.

The society's specialty was extorting three-quarters of their wages from Chinese workmen. If the men refused to give up they were strangled.

Agents of the band worked in all of the Chinese camps in France and Algeria.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Anna Held's famous $100,000 pearl necklace was sold for $52,000 yesterday at Charles Roberts, at an exhibition and sale of her jewels, costumes and personal effects held in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

This necklace started the auction when Miss Held appeared in a Broadway production more than ten years ago. It has forty-three pearls and is sixteen inches long. The bidding started at $30,000.

Others of the actress's jewels will be sold today by Thomas Henry Keough, Miss Held's attorney.

Close friends and admirers of the comedienne who is bidding for Miss Held's personal effects, which they desired to keep as mementoes. Liane Carrara, daughter of Anna Held, was one of the largest buyers, purchasing all her mother's lingerie and her scrap book.

Included in the sale were seventy hats, fifty colorful stage gowns and 150 pairs of shoes and slippers. The lowest sale was ten cents for a little Tam-o-shanter hat, and the largest sale, outside of jewelry, was $400 for several gowns and other belongings.

Many who bought loved Anna Held almost as their own, and tears were much in evidence as each bought a little keepsake.

Marshall was born in Orange, N. J. On his travels he met and married his Irish sweetheart in 1910. They resided in Orange and in various parts of Ireland until June, 1918. Then Marshall joined the Red Cross in France and served abroad until his return to Ireland last July.

AMERICAN DOLLARS IN JAP BOOMERANG

How willing Japan is for the extension of American financing and development of Chinese resources is shown in a translation from the Japanese magazine "Jitsugyo No Sekai" (The Industrial World), which appeared recently.

"Compared with Europe, our Japanese goods are not yet high priced; and there is no reason why they cannot compete with the goods of other countries. To compete in the Far East with the goods made in ordinarily high priced America should truly be an easy matter.

"Therefore, it appears clear as light that, by increasing the wealth of China and Siberia, their purchasing power is increased, and that in turn means increased profit for our country.

"Consequently, our people should not become alarmed, but rather welcome the operation of America so that together we may strive to develop Asia.

"America will be prevented for economic reasons from extending that power in the Far East. The country which will receive the profit from the increased wealth is in reality our own Japan."
