She is survived by four sons and two daughters, as follows: Arthur, Thomas, Vinson and Irvin Mullican, Mrs. Ricketts and Mrs. John C. Powers.

Mr. Harry S. Beall, son of Mr. W. V. Beall, of Layhill, this county, has been appointed to a position as instructor in the faculty of Western Maryland College, from which he graduated in June. Aside from the work as instructor, Mr. Beall will be the director of the gymnasium and assistant coach of athletics.

A peach tree standing on the small farm of Mr. George M. Hunter, near the dwelling house, at the limits of this town, this season was heavily laden with luscious fruit—in quantity its crop was estimated at six bushels. Mr. Hunter looked forward to the pleasure that he and his family would derive next winter from the peaches, some canned and some preserved. Lo and behold! he arose one morning lately to find the tree stripped of its fruit, save about a peck. Some fellow had visited the premises the night before and committed the theft, to the sore disappointment of Mr. Hunter.

John William O'Brien, the eight-year-old son of George O'Brien, living at Bethesda, was run over by a motor delivery truck on Wednesday afternoon and instantly killed. The boy had been on an errand to the store and postoffice and was crossing the road to his home, almost directly opposite the postoffice. Running behind a wagon, the boy stepped directly in front of a motor truck of Eisner Bros. lumber yard. The truck struck him and ran entirely over his body before the operator was able to bring the machine to a stop. When the boy was picked up and taken to his home it was found life was extinct.

The couple left on a late train for the West, the bride traveling in a suit of dark blue serge, with hat to match. Upon their return to Washington, Mr. and Mrs. Kolquist will be at home to their friends after October 1st at 721 Harvard street.

Fisher, The Slayer Of Altdorfer, Bailed At $3,000.

William J. Fisher, held for killing his friend, Wm. D. Altdorfer, on Friday night last, at Chevy Chase, had his preliminary hearing Tuesday afternoon before Police Justice Mace at this place and was held for the grand jury.

His attorneys immediately swore out a writ of habeas corpus and the testimony offered at the hearing was read before Judge Edward C. Peter and Fisher was admitted to bail in the sum of $3,000.

Justice Mace said some phases of the case had not been brought out to his entire satisfaction and he believed that he was justified in holding the man for the grand jury. When Fisher's attorneys asked for bail Justice Mace stated that he did not want to take the responsibility.

So confident were attorneys for Fisher of a dismissal that they did not put him on the stand. The defense had no other witnesses, but built up its case on the testimony of the State's witnesses. The two principal witnesses were Mrs. Altdorfer, wife of the slain man, and Miss Lillian Reeves, who made her home with the Altdorfers.

The State attempted to prove a motive other than self-defense for the killing and in doing so endeavored to show that Fisher went beyond the bounds of the law in defending himself.

Rumors that sensational testimony would be sprung at the hearing attracted a large crowd and when court was opened the court room was well packed.

The nearest approach to a sensation came while Mrs. Altdorfer, wife of the dead man, was being examined. Mrs. Altdorfer testified that her husband had never given her any money. She said she was compelled to leave home for fear of her life and went to an apartment house in Washington, where she registered as "Miss Fisher," her maiden name.

"If your husband gave you no money, who paid your expenses while you were at the apartment?" asked State's Attorney Spates.

"I went to my mother and asked her for money to support myself," calmly replied Mrs. Altdorfer.

Mrs. Altdorfer portrayed her husband as having been a man of disreputable morals. Because of his conduct toward her, she stated that she had been forced to leave him four times. She told the court of returning home one evening and finding her husband entertaining a strange woman in their home. She asked the woman to leave and when her husband turned against her, Mrs. Altdorfer said she left home for several days.

By far the most important testimony given at the hearing was that of Miss Reeves. She stated that she was 17 years old. Her mother and father had died early in her life, how long ago she did not know. She was placed in a home and later adopted by people living in Florida. She did not like her surroundings and came to live with Mr. and Mrs. Altdorfer, with whom she has made her home for two years. She witnessed the altercations between Fisher and Altdorfer and was but a few feet away when Fisher stabbed Altdorfer.

She said Altdorfer and Fisher had always been good friends and whenever Altdorfer would come home intoxicated, Fisher would leave the house. She said Altdorfer on several occasions had beaten Mrs. Altdorfer and her. Speaking of the tragedy Miss Reeves said:

"After Altdorfer was carried in the house and undressed, he came into the kitchen, where I was. He wanted a tomato. I went to the ice-box and got two. He made several improper advances to me and then he kept a grocery store. He retired 11 years ago, when he went to Baltimore. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunkel, one sister, Mrs. Otto Hunkel, and one brother in Germany.

"Mr. Fisher turned to me and said: 'My God, Lillian, I did it, but I had to. I then rose next morning and got Mr. Turner and then Fisher came running over and we all three went back into the house and telephoned for a doctor.'

"Mr. Turner's testimony backed Miss Reeves' statements in most of the essential features. He said she called upon him earlier in the day to help her get Altdorfer into the house. He said he found Altdorfer at the door steps helplessly intoxicated and carried him into the house and undressed him and that he returned again when Miss Reeves rushed over and said that Altdorfer was killing Fisher.

Dr. Thomas Poole, who was summoned to the house shortly after the fight, said he arrived at least three-quarters of an hour after the man was dead. It was he who suggested calling Mrs. Altdorfer. Dr. Thomas Conrad, who conducted the autopsy the following morning, testified that he discovered five wounds on the man, three of which would have been fatal. Sheriff Howard, and Deputy Eugene Flinn, told of the arrest of Fisher.

Money Must Be Tied Up.

Picking up loose money has grown to be such a hardship for the overworked rural free delivery carrier that the Postoffice Department has issued an order warning reckless citizens against leaving loose coins lying around. Hereafter coins must be tied in bundles or inclosed in envelopes whenever the patron of a rural route wants stamps from a carrier and leaves the necessary amount in the wayside box.

"The attention of postmasters at rural delivery offices and of rural carriers," said Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Blakelee, "is again directed to the fact that rural carriers are not required to collect loose coins from rural mail boxes. 'Patrons should inclose coins in an envelope, wrap them securely in paper, or deposit them in a coin-holding receptacle, so they can be easily and quickly taken from boxes, and when accompanied by mail for dispatch, carriers will attach the requisite stamps.'

The department adds, however, that the carrier "will do so purely as a matter of accommodation and not by any direction or requirement of the department."

How The Candidates Answered.

Mr. Editor:—Will you please publish the following in your news columns this week: The questions submitted by the Montgomery County Anti-Slavery League to the candidates for State Senate, House of Delegates and Sheriff have been answered as follows:

Dr. Eugene Jones answered the first question in the affirmative. As to the second question, he says he is "in favor of State-wide Local Option and will work and vote for such legislation if given an opportunity to do so."

J. Dawson Williams answered the first question in the affirmative. Also the second question in the affirmative. The following candidates for the House of Delegates have answered satisfactorily: Francis Snowden, Donald McBow, A. M. Eary and Alfred Wilson. The following did not answer: J. Furr White, Eugene Waters and A. J. Cummings.

All the candidates for Sheriff answered favorably except Thomas L. Lechlider, who did not answer.

JOHN L. LEWIS,

President.

ALFRED WILSON, Secretary.

An Appeal For Snowdens.

Mr. Editor:—As a Democrat who has given a lifetime service to our party and has never sought or held political office, either elective or appointive, I ask my friends throughout the county to vote for Francis Snowden, of Olney district, for the House of Delegates. Up to ten years ago Olney district had been given the Republicans majorities of from 250 to 300 at every election, but we have year after year reduced these majorities until last year, when the county Republican and Democratic majority over Wilson was only 64 and Congressmen Lewis lost the district by only 3 votes. No small part of the credit for that splendid result belongs to Francis Snowden. Mr. Snowden is a most successful business man as well. His father, Lieutenant Nicholas Snowden, was a gallant Confederate soldier and lost his life while defending the "Stars and Bars" at Harrisonburg, Va., June 6th, 1862. I think that I can without selfishness or presumption ask my friends to vote for this sterling Democrat and son of a Confederate soldier.

JOHN JONES,

Brookville, Md., Sept. 2, 1913.

Comforts Of The Rest Room.

The rest room at the Rockville Fair, which was under the auspices of the Social Service League, was extensively patronized, and the accommodations for the care of children and the opportunities for tired people to rest were warmly commended.

Mrs. Bernadine Means, the county nurse, was in constant attendance, and was able to be of assistance in several cases of illness. The rest room was not only a place of service in its purpose as the only place on the grounds where tired people could rest, but also as an advertisement of the good work the League is doing, for, of the five or six hundred people who visited us during the Fair, we feel that, owing to the pleasant atmosphere of the rest room and the evident desire to please shown by all in attendance, a large majority of our visitors went away with a warm feeling in their hearts for the much-beloved county nurse and a new interest in the Social Service League.

The following was the committee in charge of the rest room: Mesdames John Brewley, John Higgins, F. A. Spencer, Robt. Bayles, Henry J. Finley, H. S. Wells, W. C. Beck and Miss Isabel Kingston.

Colds Affect The Kidneys.

Many Rockville people have found this to be true.

Are you wretched in bad weather? Does every cold settle on your kidneys? Does your back ache and become weak? Are urinary passages irregular and distressing? These symptoms are cause to suspect kidney weakness.

Weakened kidneys need quick help. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weak kidneys.

Rockville people recommend them. Bernard Potts, blacksmith, Rockville, Md., says: "I have found Doan's Kidney Pills to be a remedy of great merit. My kidneys bothered me for at least a year and my back was weak. Whenever I caught cold, it settled on my kidneys and caused pains throughout my loins. The kidney secretions also bothered me and were unnatural. Nothing did me any good until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Vinson's Drug Store. Since taking them, I have been free from kidney complaint. I publicly recommend this remedy some time ago and today I gladly say that statement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Pierce Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
