NACHMAN MEERTIEF

BOOK NOTICES.

One of the most unique publications we have recently seen is "The Downing Legends," by J. W. DeForest. It contains The Witch of Shiloh, The Last of the Wampanoags, The Gentle Earl and the Enchanted Ride, detailing the remarkable adventures of a modern Orlando Furioso named Adah Downing, styling himself "Shiloh's Lion." The stories are written in the octosyllabic style of Walter Scott. The hero went through some wonderful and whimsical experiences, all of which are very entertainingly told by the author. Published by Tuttle, Morehouse and Taylor, New Haven, Conn.

From The Abbey Press, New York, we have a handsomely gotten-up little volume entitled Octavia, the Octonary, by Dr. J. F. Lee of Wilcox County. It is an interesting story of life and conditions in Alabama about the time of the civil war, and its style and local coloring commend it to readers in this section.

SEEKS AN INJUNCTION

CLAIM THAT PROPERTY WILL BE DAMAGED.

Mr. A. P. Tyson Complains of New First National Bank Building. Other News of the Courts.

A bill praying for an injunction was filed in the City Court in Equity yesterday by A. P. Tyson against The First National Bank.

The plaintiff alleges that he owns the building, No. 12 Commerce Street, occupied by the Merchants and Planters' National Bank. He avers that the First National Bank is erecting a building on a lot adjoining his property. It is alleged that the First National Bank intends to erect several stone columns or posts in front of its building as an ornament. These posts will extend about two feet on the sidewalk and Mr. Tyson claims that it is not only a nuisance, but will greatly damage his adjacent property. He says that he has made verbal and written requests of the bank officials that the erection of the posts be not made in the manner above set forth, but that they have not heeded and have gone on with preparations to finish the work. The plaintiff prays for an injunction and on a hearing of the case asks that the injunction be made perpetual. The hearing is set for Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Under Peace Bond.
The peace proceedings against Antonio D. Frabitis were heard before Judge Thomas of the City Court yesterday. This case was appealed from the decision of Justice St. H. Jones who put Frabitis under bond. Judge Thomas sustained the decision of the Justice and ordered Frabitis to be placed under a $100 bond to keep the peace against all persons, particularly P. Pennacchio, for the next six months.

Other Court Items.
Ben Jackson, Jr., Randall Jackson and Dick Jackson, the small negro boys who were sent to jail a few days ago by Justice J. B. Fuller, had a hearing yesterday. The evidence was not sufficiently strong and the boys were discharged.

J. C. Pritchett, the wife-beater, was tried before Justice R. H. Jones yesterday afternoon on a charge of assault to murder. He was held under a $300 bond. Pritchett was also bound over on a charge of trespass after warning. The bond in this case was $100. It was alleged that Pritchett went to the home of his former wife and forced an entrance and then struck her across the head with the butt of a revolver.

Albert Ray, charged with murder, was arraigned before Judge Thomas yesterday and his case was set for trial August 15.

A marriage license was issued yesterday to John Everett Nelson and Annie Ross Rembert.

Zeb Fountain and Ben Griffin of Chilton County, were arrested yesterday by Deputy Marshal Green, charged with intimidating a United States witness. The men had a falling out before Commissioner Elmore and were held under $300 bonds each.

In the Recorder's Court yesterday afternoon John T. Sampson, a contractor, was fined $2 and costs for repairing and changing paving or sidewalk without permission.

Louis Gilmer and John Harris, charged with fighting were discharged.

NEWS OF ASSOCIATION

The Reports of Montgomery's Live Business Organization Are Attracting Attention.

The annual meeting of the Alabama Commercial and Industrial Association held in Montgomery June 30 has attracted considerable attention from the outside world. The papers read by Dr. E. O. Kasserman of Winchester, Tenn., upon the "Reclaiming of Waste Farm Lands" and by Mr. Henry C. Jones of Montgomery upon "Alabama's Underdeveloped Water Powers" have been the subject of much comment, the latter being extensively quoted in The Manufacturers' Record of the past week.

The report of Secretary Gilbert touched upon the questions of Municipal Government and the Worcester Magazine of Worcester, Mass., a publication devoted to good citizenship and municipal development, has requested permission to incorporate that portion of the report in its August number. The same magazine also desires the paper read by Hon. John B. Weakley of Florence upon "Municipal Ownership of Public Utilities."

A few days ago the association received the following request from the Manufacturers' Association of Kansas City, showing how widespread is the interest in this important subject: Kansas City, U. S. A., July 18, 1901. Mr. L. L. Gilbert, Secretary Montgomery Commercial and Industrial Association, Montgomery, Ala. Dear Sir:—We have taken much interest in reading reports of the annual meeting of the Commercial and Industrial Association of Montgomery, and have been particularly interested in your remarks in your annual report, upon the study of municipal government and to awaken a greater interest in our city upon this subject, the Board of Directors desire to advise you that it would be a favor much appreciated if we might receive printed copies of these annual reports.

Thanking you in advance for this favor, we are Very truly yours,

W. C. Winsborough, Secretary.

The Commercial and Industrial Association is in receipt of requests for copies of its annual reports and lists of committees from various organizations over the State. The last requests are from Gadsden and Meridian, Miss.

Alexander City is to have a fall carnival. The Industrial and Development Association of that place is taking the matter in hand and has written the Montgomery Association for information as to entertainers and attractions.

The statement of carload receipts for June, 1901, shows a decrease of about 8 per cent. compared with that for June, 1900. The report, however, examined in detail shows that the decrease mainly lay in receipts of coal, gravel and sundries, while there was an interesting increase in receipts of brick, lumber, cotton, flour and meal and grain and hay. In fact the entire decrease and more to lay off the one item of sundries, which of course fluctuates from month to month.

The detailed statement compiled by the Commercial and Industrial Association is as follows:

THE WHITE HOUSE FUND.

Work on, work on, work on. Oh, ye noble land of women! The prize ye covet must be won. Gladly give to the "White House" fund.

Work on, work on, preserve every plank. Perpetuate the name we love so well. Be the friend of the highest rank. We fought with the brave soldiers who bled.

Hang the tattered banner o'er the door. For Jefferson Davis stood there. Drive the mean and selfish coach and ice. Valued relics priceless and rare.

Work on, women of the Confederacy. Place the "White House" on Capitol Hill. Leave our children the priceless legacy. Work till our hands are numb.

Our work is done, 'tis finished—See how grandly it stands there, 'Tis the dear old "White House" Preserved by women who paid the fare.

Those who gave we thank with all our heart. We worked on but not in despair: Alas! its ours, the whole, not a part. Bought by woman's hand strong and fair.

REPORT ON MR. GLENN

BOOKS OF TREASURES OF POLYTECHNIC INSTITUTE.

Examination Made of the Accounts by State Examiner Gorman, Who Commends the Officer for their Accuracy.

The Examiner of Public Accounts, Mr. J. T. Gorman, has completed his examination of the books and accounts of Mr. E. T. Glenn, Treasurer of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, and has filed his report with the Governor.

The report, which is highly complimentary to Mr. Glenn, is as follows: Hon. W. D. Jelks, Governor of Alabama.

Sir:—In compliance with your instructions I have made a thorough examination of the books and accounts and vouchers of Mr. E. T. Glenn, Treasurer of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn, from January 17, 1899, to the date of the last examination, to June 1, 1901, and respectfully submit the following report.

On examination I find that Mr. Glenn has properly charged himself with all the moneys coming into his possession and custody as Treasurer of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute from the State and the United States treasuries.

These funds are divided into the "Endowment Fund," "The Morrill Fund," "The Agricultural Fund," and "The Hatch Fund." Separate and distinct accounts are kept of the receipts and disbursements of these funds.

Since the last examination, January 17, 1899, to the date of this report, Mr. Glenn has received the following amounts from these several funds:

From the Endowment Fund, $45,630.00
From the Morrill Fund, $30,774.50
From the Agricultural Fund, $2,226.27

Total received from State, $108,630.77
From Hatch Fund, $3,750.00
Total received from State and Hatch Fund, $112,380.77

Mr. Glenn has also properly charged himself with all the moneys paid in by the head of the different departments of the institution and with amounts paid in by the students on account of tuition, library, incidental and contingent fees. These amounts in the aggregate to $13,221.33, making a total of $155,602.10 receipts from the last examination and this report.

Mr. Glenn holds proper vouchers for all of this amount except the balance of $8,891.77 cash on hand as shown by his report made to the Board of Trustees June 1, 1901, and errors hereinafter stated.

I have carefully examined, checked, and compared each voucher for which Mr. Glenn has taken credit, with his books, and find the same correct except voucher No. 60, in the "Library Account," 1900-01, paid May 18, 1901. In this account he made an error of $1 against the Institute. The voucher is $2.34, but entered on the book $3.34. The vouchers for the "Building and Repairs" account for 1899-1900 are correct, but the addition is erroneous. This account amounts to $14.25, making an error of $5.25 against Mr. Glenn. The vouchers for the "Printing and Advertising" account for 1899-1900 are correct but there is an error in the addition.

This account amounts to $809.69, but is added up on the book $799.69, making an error of $10 against Mr. Glenn. Mr. Glenn has thus made errors of $1 against the Institute, $14.25 against himself, leaving a balance of $14.25 due him. These errors are purely clerical in character and reflect no discredit whatever on Mr. Glenn or his assistants.

Mr. Glenn is a very competent and efficient officer and deserves the highest commendation for the accuracy and method of his bookkeeping and filing his vouchers. Every voucher for each item of the several accounts of the different funds is consecutively numbered, properly dated and, without exception in its place. The several items are all charged to the proper account. This greatly facilitated the examination.

I have compared the books and accounts of Mr. Glenn with his published reports for 1898-1899, 1899-1900 and 1900-1901, and with the report of the Alabama Polytechnic Institute for 1898-99, 1899 and 1900, made by the Board of Trustees to Governor Joseph F. Johnston for transmission to the General Assembly, session of 1900-1901, and find the same correct, except as above mentioned.

Mr. Glenn's report to the Board of Trustees made June 10, 1901, showed a balance of $5,691.77. This belonged to the Agricultural Fund. He keeps his accounts with the Bank of Opelika, Okla. This book was balanced June 5, 1901, and showed a credit of $5,189.15 to this fund.

Mr. J. B. Greene, cashier of said Bank of Opelika, certified under oath as to the correctness of this amount. The difference of $502.62 between Mr. Glenn's published report of June 10, 1901, and the balance to his credit as shown by the statement of the Bank of Opelika of June 5, 1901, had been checked out of said bank by Mr. Glenn.
