Enclose a two-cent stamp for the return of your photograph. Or if you want it in a gold pin you can take advantage of an arrangement made by the Evening Journal whereby you can have your choice of half a dozen different styles at a very moderate cost. But if you want only the miniature the Evening Journal will send that to you free. The miniature can be copied from any distinct photograph—even a tintype. Or a single likeness can be taken from a group. No headings dated June 3 will be accepted that reach the office later than Saturday, June 16. PEACH OUTLOOK IS GRATIFYING

I. N. Mills' Estimate This Year is 4,034,845 Baskets

Indications That Quality Will Surpass That of Any Season for the Past Ten Years

Clayton, July 3.—Special Agent I. N. Mills, of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, has compiled his annual estimate of the peach crop of the Delaware and Maryland Peninsula for 1900. It is very gratifying, and there is every indication that the quality of the fruit will far surpass any season for the past ten years. The "yellow" which in previous years have played such havoc in many orchards, especially in the northern part of the Peninsula, has almost entirely disappeared, and the small knobby fruit which in past seasons has helped to ruin the price of good fruit will not be seen this season. The "June drop" was unusually light, but the trees are not heavily loaded. Quite a number of new orchards were set out last year which will come in bearing in two years and the year's estimate includes a number of orchards set out three years ago. The estimate is as follows:

AGENT MILLS' ESTIMATE.

Delaware railroad, from Wilmington to Delmar, 1,500,000 baskets.

Queen Anne and Kent railroad, from Townsend to Centreville, Md., 567,520 baskets.

Delaware and Chesapeake railway, from Clayton to Oxford, Md., 809,625 baskets.

Baltimore and Delaware Bay railroad, from Clayton to Chestertown, Md., 460,800.

Cambridge and Seaford railroad, from Seaford to Cambridge, 129,900 baskets.

Delaware, Maryland and Virginia railroad, upper division, from Harrington to Rehoboth, 500,000 baskets.

Delaware, Maryland and Virginia railroad, lower division, from Georgetown to Franklin City, Va., 130,000 baskets.

Total for the Peninsula, 4,034,845 baskets.

The principal shipping points will be Bridgeville and Wyoming, on the Delaware railroad; Millington and Prices, on the Q. A. & K. R. R.; Ridgely and Greensboro, on the D. & C. R. R.; Kentville, on the B. & D. R. R.; East New Market, on the C. & S. R. R.; Milford, on the upper division of the D. M. & V. R. R., and Selbyville, on the lower division.

PEAR CROP ALSO GOOD.

The Keiffer pear crop is also becoming quite an industry, and Mr. Mills has also made an estimate of this crop, as follows:

Delaware railroad 176,015
Q. A. & K. R. R. 41,310
D. & C. R. R. 31,460
B. & D. R. R. 164,100
C. & S. R. R. 1,582
D. M. & V. R. R., upper division, 15,334
D. M. & V. R. R., lower division, 2,560

Total 432,241
