was severely handled in the 1907 crash. Arthur E. Stowell, who built the Kansas City Southern railway and had it taken away from him after it was built, and who later organized the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway to build a new transcontinental line on the Gulf of California; and who, again, had the property when construction was nearing completion, taken from him and placed in the hands of receivers, because of financial backing could no longer be procured.

Moore To Be Called.

James A. Moore, of Seattle, president of the Western Steel Corporation, who has claimed that he was forced to go to France for capital, and got it; that afterward American financiers, seeing that he was prepared to be independent of them, gave him accommodations; and after they had him in their power, used the power to break the credit of his company.

Bernard N. Baker, of Baltimore, who tried to finance a steamship company independent of railroad and in financial control, and, failing, complained that the money power closed avenues of credit to him.

Charles W. Morse, who, after becoming a power in shipping and banking, was broken in the 1907 crash, and, afterward, sent to the penitentiary. These are only a few of the men of big affairs who will be required to tell their stories before the Fyfe committee. It was declared today that the truth of the inquiry is not more than well begun. A leader in the House said today:

Story of Panic.

The story of the panic of 1907, it is declared, is to be developed in great detail from several new points of view. This will involve testimony of Grant B. Schley, of the firm of Moore and Schley; Oakleigh Thorne, head of the Trust Company of America; Charles W. Morse, F. Augustus and Otto Heinke, and a number of men who were involved in the Tennessee Coal and Iron transaction. It was declared today that

Declares Reform Is Needed.

James O'Connell, President of the Metal Trades department of the American Federation of Labor for the last two years, and nominated by President Taft as a member of the new Industrial Commission, said today that he believed the commission if confirmed by the Senate, would take up, among other things, investigation of possible extension of the clause of the Erdman act which authorizes Federal intervention to conciliate labor and capital when threatened.

False Fire Alarm Charged to Boys

Charged with sounding a false alarm of fire, Milton Links, fourteen years old, and Ralph Gray were arraigned in the Juvenile Court today. The boys were arrested by Policemen Lambert and Harbin of the Ninth precinct. It is alleged they sent in an alarm from the box at Seventh and L streets northeast last evening "because they wanted some excitement in the neighborhood."

An undertaker's wagon driven by Zacharia Miller was struck by a City and Suburban car at the Rhode Island avenue entrance to Harmony Cemetery today. Miller was thrown from his seat. A manie about the shoulders and arms. He was taken to the Emergency Hospital. The wagon was slightly damaged.

1307 F St. N.W.

Just as ever since the election of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Bryan today refused to discuss the matter of his taking a place in the Wilson cabinet.

Mr. Bryan was met by his son and grandchildren and driven to the home of William J. Bryan, Jr., 1320 Belmont road, where he had luncheon. Later in the afternoon Mr. Bryan received a few of his close personal and political friends of the District, including C. T. Bridge.

Mr. Bryan said he could not say whether he would spend the night here and go to New York tomorrow, or leave late tonight for the metropolis.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Mrs. Helen Reynolds, a manufacturer, had her pocketbook nicked of 25 cents while she remained safely in her stocking. "The stocking bank for me," she said.

Two Are Arrested As Counterfeiters

The Secret Service Bureau today announced the arrest of James Antonelli and Joseph Vitano, at Boston, for counterfeiting. When arrested the men were in the act of making money, it is alleged. Several molds and other counterfeiting paraphernalia, along with 141 quarters and four dimes were taken. The Secret Service agents in the central and middle West are looking for the makers of a $20 gold certificate that has been placed in circulation to the amount of several thousand dollars during the past six or seven months.
