He was held along closely until he went out doors too soon, which caused a relapse a few days ago. Mr. Hanftman was unmarried. He had been a resident of this county all his life and was a most devoted member of St. Rose's Catholic Church. Father Gilbert McDonald was at his bedside when he died. On Thursday he was up as usual, but about 1 o'clock he suffered an attack from which he failed to rally. Mr. Saffell was born near Galtersburg, this county, and moved to Washington fifty years ago. For the past seven years he had been connected with the Washington Loan and Trust Company. He is survived by his wife, six sons and four daughters.

During a heavy rain and thunder storm, which passed over the upper section of this county last Saturday afternoon, Mr. Bates Elchison, son of Mr. Melvin Elchison, of Damascus district, and Miss Boyer, of the same locality, narrowly escaped being struck by lightning. They were driving along a road a few miles from Damascus on their way to a picnic when their horse was struck by lightning and instantly killed. The young folks noticed a white flash at the horse's head, and the animal dropped in its tracks as if shot. The buggy was unharmed, as was the harness, while the occupants of the vehicle were not even stunned, although badly frightened. It is understood that Miss Boyer is suffering from nervousness as a result of the fright, but is improving.

Fine Summer Resort.

The present season at Cabin John Bridge bids fair to be the most successful in its history. The management are pleased with the evidence of good will manifested to them throughout the county, and with the appreciation shown toward their efforts to give the people a first-class up-to-date summer resort, with the most beautiful surroundings, the best music, the latest attractions, and an ever increasing list of novel amusements. Cabin John Bridge never looked lovelier than this summer. A place of unrivaled natural beauty, the grandeur and uniqueness of its vast place of architecture and the painstaking effort through many years to aid nature by art in the landscape gardening have made Cabin John Bridge a park unequalled in the list of outing resorts throughout the country.

There is no similar resort that can boast of the number of celebrities among its patrons as can Cabin John. One night it is the Chinese Minister and his suite, another a Chief Justice, another a Cabinet officer who seeks here a relaxation from official cares not experienced elsewhere. Many of the Presidents have been regular visitors here. The lamented McKinley had his favorite night at Cabin John. He was better than a horseback ride to the Bridge. Scarcely an evening passes without some famous cotier holding a banquet or quiet dinner in its spacious banqueting hall or smaller private rooms. If walls indeed had ears these rooms could many a tale unfold of the national questions under discussion, of new deals, political or financial, here arranged, of prominent alliances cemented—yes even of Presidents made and unmade in the seclusion of this famous hostelry.

It was here that President Roosevelt brought President Taft to the White House to America, when wearied by the never ending round of ceremonial entertainments, they eluded their followers as well as the curious throng of sight and sound loving horses, dashed out in a pouring rain along the Aqueduct road to Cabin John, where, having admired the great stone arch and the deep ravine, they remounted and rode back to Washington where they arrived at the White House.

Such a place as this, conducted on the careful, liberal lines that its position and many attractions entail cannot fail to be a source of pride to the county that contains it, as it is a source of pleasure and admiration to the many strangers who visit it and go away to spread the report of its loveliness and the grandeur of the single span bridge to all quarters of the globe.

Theopha Brown, an 18-year old colored boy, whose home is near Spencerville, this county, was brought to Rockville last Friday afternoon and lodged in jail on the charge of horse stealing. He was arrested at Sandy Spring on Friday morning.

At the time he was taken into custody it was not known that he had been stolen, but the animal Brown was driving was in such a condition that suspicions were aroused and a warrant was sworn out. The horse was bleeding and exhausted. Deputy Sheriff Carr was notified of the arrest and went at once to Sandy Spring and discovered that the prisoner was also wanted upon the charge of robbing a tenant house on the farm of Mr. Caleb Stabler, near Spencerville, the officer having the warrant in his pocket at the time.

The boy admitted that he took the animal about 2 o'clock Friday morning near Fulton, Howard county. The boy stated that he caught the horse in a public road and that he went to a nearby barn and secured the harness and got the cart from a building on the same farm. The horse was taken from the farm of A. S. Marlow and the vehicle from H. H. Smallwood. Brown has been taken to Elliott City.

In Memoriam.
The death angel has again entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Delaney King, of King's Valley, Md., and called for their midst another one of their little ones, Ika Landella, born November 22nd, 1902, and died July 4th, 1903, aged 8 months and 8 days.

In a snow white casket they placed her, with flowers sweet around her head, Across the sweet road strewn with flowers, To the last they could do for their darling dead.

Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep, From which no one ever wakes, Unbroken by the last of foes, By thy hands the boon was given, Thine last taken but thine own, Lord of earth and God of heaven, Ever more thy will be done.

Weep not for this little one, Because she died so young, The lower the earth she takes the sin, The Lord's will must be done.

Funeral services took place at Damascus M. E. Church Monday, July 6th, at 10 A. M., Rev. Mr. Yonk officiating. Interment in the cemetery adjoining the church.
