Intelligence has been received here of the sudden death of Mr. Percy Thomas in Culpeper, Va. Mr. Thomas was a native of this county, and left here a short while ago to engage in business in Culpeper. During the Christmas holidays he was married at that place, and his widow survives him. His death was due to acute pneumonia. He was aged twenty-four years.

Mrs. Martha E. Hardesty, wife of Mr. Wm. M. Hardesty, a resident of this county, died on Wednesday of last week at her home near Burnt Mills, aged 68 years. Her death was very sudden and was caused by heart failure. Her husband and a daughter, Mrs. Stone, survive her. She also leaves two brothers—Samuel and Thomas Renshaw, and a sister, Mrs. John Bohrer.

Richard Watkins, a young white man, whose home is near Damascus, this county, has been lodged in jail here to answer a charge of horse stealing. It is charged that he stole a valuable horse belonging to Mr. D. W. Snorb of the vicinity of Boyd's. The animal was recovered in the upper section of the county. The accused denies all connection with the disappearance of the horse.

A dispatch from Annapolis to the Baltimore Herald, dated Feb. 2, says: "Delegate Williams, of Montgomery, will in a few days introduce a bill requiring the Washington and Rockville Electric Railway Company to reduce its fare between Washington and Rockville from 20 to 15 cents. This company runs its line to the edge of Rockville, but does not enter the town, owing to differences with the municipal authorities.

In the District of Columbia Supreme Court last Friday, Reuben B. Detrick and B. H. Warner filed suit against Wm. H. Walker and others to compel the defendants to contribute to the payment of a debt for which the parties are held to be liable. The debt originated in the indorsement by the parties of a note of the Chevy Chase and Kensington Electric Railway Company. The note was for $7,000, and about half the amount remains unpaid. The company is insolvent.

Mr. George H. Harris and Miss Mary J. Taylor, both of Washington, were married last week at Olney, this county, by Father Thomas D. Williams, of this town. The ceremony was performed in St. Peter's Catholic Church. The young folks had planned to have the ceremony performed at Rockville, but upon reaching here found that Father Williams had gone to Olney. The young folks hired a team and drove to Olney with the result stated. The groom formerly resided in this county.

The leap year ball given in the Opera House here last Friday evening by the young ladies of Rockville was well attended, guests being present from Washington, different sections of this county and other points. It was an enjoyable affair in every particular. The committee of arrangements was composed of Mrs. Harry Dawson, Mrs Lee Dorsey, Mrs. Benjamin Riggs and Miss Margaret Dawson. Mrs. R. H. Stokes, Mrs. Wm. Dorsey, Mrs. W. V. Boaic and Miss Mamie Hogg were the chaperons. The music was furnished by a Washington orchestra, and at midnight refreshments were served. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion.

A fleeing chicken thief, the town bailiff, a constable and a couple of revolvers caused considerable excitement on the main street of Rockville about 11 o'clock last Friday night. Bailiff Green noticed a colored man named Richard Bruner with a suspicious looking bag on his back and called him to stop. Instead of complying with the officer's command the negro dropped his burden and started to run. Officer Green started in pursuit and was joined by Constable Beavers, the two firing several shots at the fleeing negro. He was finally captured and admitted that he had taken the chickens, seven in number, from the roost of W. R. Pumphrey. He was committed to jail for the action of the grand jury.

The committee appointed by the congregation of the Warner Memorial Presbyterian Church, Kensington, to wait upon the pastor, Rev. James T. Marshall, to urge him to remain as pastor of that church, has been advised by Mr. Marshall that it is his pleasure to remain at this charge. More than a month ago Mr. Marshall received a formal call from the Presbyterian Church in West Knottingham, Cecil county, Md., which is the largest church in the Newcastle Presbytery. When intimation of this call reached Kensington the members of Warner Memorial Presbyterian Church and many of those not members urged him to remain in work here, and it was this evidence of esteem and concern for the church which caused him to decide to remain at this charge.

Electric Railroad Schedule.—The following schedule of the Washington and Rockville Electric Railway went in effect Monday, March 11, 1901:

Cars leave Georgetown for Rockville at 5:30 A. M., then every hour till 11:30 P. M.

Cars leave Rockville for Georgetown at 6:30 A. M., then every hour till 12:30 A. M

Death of Judge Lynch.

Ex-Judge John A. Lynch died at his home on West Second street, at 2 o'clock Sunday morning last, as the result of a fall which he sustained two weeks ago. At that time he slipped on the ice on the postoffice pavement and fractured his hip. He was 78 years of age, having been born October 3, 1825.

John Alexander Lynch was one of the most prominent men in that community. He was a native of Frederick county, having been born near Jefferson, in Middletown valley, and was the son of William Lynch, one of the most respected citizens of the county. Judge Lynch was well known throughout Maryland, having occupied positions of honor and trust for many years. He was twice elected state's attorney for Frederick county, in 1855 and 1859, serving eight years.

He was elected associate judge of the Sixth judicial circuit of this State, embracing Frederick and Montgomery counties, in 1867 for fifteen years, and was re-elected to the same office in 1882, serving in his high and honorable position for the period of thirty years. Having attained the age limit of 70 years during his latter term, it was extended by legislative action.

Judge Lynch was for years a communicant in the Protestant Episcopal Church, All Saint's parish, being a member of the vestry. He was very prominent in the Masonic order, to which he was much attached, having received the lodge degrees in Alabama when a young man.

He died respected and revered by all classes of the community. His probity and purity of life were universally acknowledged. His reputation as a judge was without reproach, and the members of the Masonic order held him in veneration and affectionate esteem.

Travilah Items.

Mr. Charles R. McCrossin, while chopping wood on last Thursday, came near losing his right eye—a piece of wood which he was cutting flying up and striking him in that organ. As our report closes we learn that he is rapidly improving.

The attendance at the public school here is very large, despite the unfavorable weather.

The action of our representatives in the lower house of the Legislature, Messrs. Johnston, Williams, Lansdale and Amiss, in voting for that tribune of the people, Isidor Rayner, for United States Senator, is heartily commended by nearly every Democrat in this community.

Mr. Sylvester G. Thrift, who recently returned from the hospital in Washington, where he underwent an operation for appendicitis, has been quite ill from the effects of a severe cold, is reported considerably better this morning.

The Amateur Musical and Literary Club will meet on Friday evening next at the residence of Mr. M. B. Montgomery. The topic for discussion will be St. Valentine.

Miss Sadie B. Magruder is visiting in Washington.

The recent snow has been the cause of a number sleighs being seen going through our village. Sitting at my window yesterday I saw Mr. Charles Roberts in a two-horse slide loaded down with some of Travilah's handsome belles, and Mr. Clinton Conuell in a handsome cutter go dashing by. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Rice behind their high-stepping black steed, Frank, leisurely slipping along; Mr. Garrett Ward and Mr. H. A. Waters behind their blooded 3 year olds in a rapid canter, and other spanking teams with merry jingle of the bells passed along in more or less rapid gates.

February 1, 1904. JUNIOR.

Will Probably Be Minister.—Mr. W. W. Russell, at present secretary of legation at Caracas, Venezuela, has been appointed charge of the American legation at Panama, and he will conduct the business of the latter legation after the departure of Minister Buchanan, who sailed from Colon last Tuesday for the United States. Mr. Buchanan will resign as soon as he reaches Washington, in accordance with the understanding he had when he accepted the mission to Panama. He has thoroughly satisfied the State Department with his work, and as conditions now stand his further presence on the isthmus is not required. Mr. Buchanan will represent an American corporation in London.

Mr. Russell, who takes up the retiring minister's duties, will probably in the end be made minister. He ranks high at the State Department because of his excellent service for eight years as secretary of legation at Caracas. He occupied that post when Mr. Loomis, the present assistant secretary of state, was United States minister there, and he continued under Mr. Bowen's administration of the mission. He has frequently been for long periods in entire charge of the legation, and in critical times, such as during Mr. Bowen's long absence in Europe in connection with The Hague arbitration, Mr. Russell managed the diplomatic relations between the United States and Venezuela with delicacy, tact and discretion that won him the high regard of the officials of the State Department.

Mr. Russell is a native of this town and a graduate of the Naval Academy.

Since the above was put in type, the President has sent his nomination to the Senate for confirmation as secretary to the legation at Panama.

School Matters.—The Board of School Commissioners met on Tuesday last and transacted the following business:

The appointment of Isabella Griffith at Snouffer's school, vice F. A. Pearre, resigned, was confirmed.

The appointment of Richard T. Gaither, trustee at Wheaton colored school, was approved.

The question of closing the colored schools was considered and, after due deliberation, it was voted, that inasmuch as the State appropriation is over $3,000 less than in former years, so that the sum of $4,700, including the colored school tax, is all that the Board has at its command to pay toward the colored schools of the county; it is therefore ordered, that the colored schools close on March 4th, notwithstanding it will take about $1,100 from the white school fund to run them to that date.

The Treasurer reported total disbursements to date, $32,088.

The Board adjourned to meet March 8th.

A Cure for Eczema.

My baby had Eczema so bad that its head was a solid mass of scabs, and its hair all came out. I tried many remedies but none seemed to do any permanent good until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The Eczema is cured, the scabs are gone and the little one scalp is perfectly clean and healthy, and its hair is growing beautifully again. I cannot give too much praise to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve.—Frank Farmer, Bluff City, Ky. In buying Witch Hazel Salve look out for counterfeits. DeWitt's is the original and the only one containing pure Witch Hazel. The name E. C. DeWitt's & Co. is on every box. Sold by R. W. Vinson, Rockville, Md.

Dr. I. G. Warfield, of Gaithersburg, has moved to Laytonsville, but will be in Gaithersburg every Friday and Saturday of each week.

Spirited Battle.—We clip the following from the Clarksburg, W. Va., Telegram of January 27th:

The Clarksburg Chess Club held an interesting session at the home of Dr. W. R. Andrews, on West Pike street, this week. Messrs. J. O. Tidler, G. E. Connell, W. H. Pierson, J. L. Rhodes and Dr. Andrews were present. A unique and interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was a spirited battle between Mr. Pierson, who was present at the club meeting, and Dr. Swartz, who was in his study at the Broaddus College, the game being played by telephone and lasting two hours. Both men displayed much skill but Dr. Swartz got the better of his opponent after a two hours struggle, causing Mr. Pierson to resign. The same style of encounter is to be repeated at an early date. Considerable enthusiasm is being developed by the members of the club over this ancient game.

Darnestown Items.

The Fortnightly Social met with Miss Helen Nourse as hostess, on Saturday night last. The fall of snow proved a godsend to the young people, and beaux, belles and sleighs were "in evidence." Progressive games were played, the first two prizes being won by Miss Wenner, of the A. S. A., and Mr. John Williams, of Dawsonville. The "boobies" were won by Mr. Brooke Jones and Miss Albin, of Virginia. The club will be entertained in two weeks by Miss Amo Smoot, and will be a "valentine party.

Iri R. Hicks' Forecast for February.

The storm diagram shows that the month begins on the central day of a regular storm period, with the full moon in perigree on the first, and a Mercury period approaching its center. The first stage of this period will fall in the last two days of January, that is, change to warmer with barometer falling in the west, and winds shifting to easterly and southerly. By the 1st, storm areas will begin to form over the western parts of the country, marked depressions of the barometer will be moving eastward, and wide areas of rain and snow and sleet will pass eastwardly across the country during the 1st to the 4th. Ordinarily a cold wave and blizzard would appear before the 4th, but the moon does not pass the celestial equator until the 4th, hence the storms of this period may not reach blizzardous proportions until after that date. The Mercury disturbance continues up to about the 10th, hence cloudy, murky, sleety weather will continue in all probability into the reactionary period centrai on the 6th, 7th and 8th. Ii heavy snow and sleet storms do not appear during the first four days of the month, such storms will almost certainly develop about the 6th to the 9th But the chances for marked winter storms on and near the first day of the month are many. Upon the whole, much threatening weather, with severe winter storms are almost certainties during the first eight to ten days of February, or until the Mercury influence subsides. This will prove one of the most general and destructive sleet periods of the winter, and at least one severe cold wave may be counted on. Two are quite probable, one not far from the 1st, and another on and about the 7th and 8th. Those who live out on the great plains of the west and north should exercise prudent watchfulness for themselves and their live stock at this time. In the nature of the case the Mercury period groups the first two storms periods of the month into one prolonged spell of threatening weather, and severe winter storms.

The third storm period is central on the 13th and reaches from the 10th to the 16th. Falling barometer and general storms of rain and snow will return about the 14th, 15th and 16th. This period will culminate about the time of the new moon on the 16th, bringing storms of a tropical nature southward, with change to blizzardous features in the north and west. This period is also prolonged by the new moon on the 16th almost up to the reactionary storms about the 18th and 19th It rising barometer and cold wave follow immediately after the new moon on the 16th, a sudden revulsion to storm condition will reappear about the 18th to 20th. These storms will also be followed by a high barometer and cold wave about the 20th to the 22nd.

Our critical friends who love to dwell upon the fact that we cover the whole time with storm periods, will have good opportunities to bring out this argument during this month. The diagram shows that the Earth brace, or the growing Vernal equinox, begins about the 15th of the month. All through the last half of the month this growing Vernal equinox will be felt, prolonging the regular storm periods, causing sporadic squalls of rain wind and snow, and bringing some dangerous tropical storms up from the regions of the equator.

The last regular storm period for February is central on the 24th, its disturbing influence reaching from the 22nd to the 27th. The first stages of this period will bring change to much warmer in western parts—winds will change to southerly and easterly, the barometer will fall, the hygrometer will show increasing humidity and more storms of rain, turning to snow on the north side, will pass eastwardly over the country from the 24th to 27th.

As the month goes out generally fair and colder weather will prevail. In the western extremes, reaction to warmer will have set in, and the barometer will be falling preparatory for the reactionary storms due the first three days of March.

Letter from Virginia.

Mr. Editor:—Newtown, in the northern part of King and Queen County, Va., is a pretty little village on a high plateau, twenty miles from Milford, one of the best stations on the R. F. and P. Railroad, and from which all freight is handled. One can see at a glance, from this rising ground, that the land at one time, years ago, was in a high state of cultivation. A half dozen fine old mansions lie within a radius of a mile or more, but all show the ravages of time and the hand of neglect. Hundreds of acres of level land are in sight, partly grown up in bushes and briers, with here and there a patch of wheat or rye. In the cleared spaces stand many pine poles twelve to fifteen feet high, around which are stacked the cow peas or bundles of fodder blades. No one cuts off corn, cattle run in the fields all through winter and strip the stalks. Many patches of tobacco stubs show where the crop had been planted. This county and the one adjoining, Caroline, it is said, raise the finest tobacco sent to Richmond. No grass seed is sown, and the rotation corn, peas and wheat is continued until the land is exhausted, then a new patch is taken up. Not a dozen owners of land in the district are working their own land, all, or nearly all, are renters. Scarcely a farm here contains less than five hundred acres, running up to fifteen hundred. The one where I am stopping has twelve hundred, and eighteen months ago sold for $7,500. By an old paper found in the garret of the fine brick mansion on this place, the owner 45 years ago had an income of $39,000 and one hundred slaves. To day he is not worth a dollar, I am told.

The land is broken about four inches deep with a right hand plow. Wheat and peas are sown broadcast. Corn is worked with a one horse barshare plow. Everything seems be from hand to mouth No one to wake them, the people all sleep till the sun is up. And with it all they seem to be contented, visiting once in a while, tending strictly to their own affairs and agreeing perfectly. On the Sabbath all, or nearly all, go to church, and mostly every one is of the Baptist faith. One of the finest churches I have ever seen in the country is near Newtown, called the upper King and Queen church. It was built in 1861, and strange to say not a dollar's worth of damage was done to it during the war. A beautiful memorial tablet set in the alcove of the pulpit is dedicated to Rev. Andrew Broaddus, founder of the church and life long pastor. Rev. Frank Beale is now its pastor and is very much appreciated.

In this district on every hand are thousands of acres of timber, pine and oak, and sawmills are busy getting it into lumber for the market. Large flocks of wild geese fly back and forth from Mattapony to the Rappahannock and numbers have been killed by hunters here. The woods are hiding flocks of turkeys. Partridges cling to the timber lands and are hard to hunt.

Snow is now eight inches deep, but melting fast. Such a thing as a sleigh you never see.

Entertainments by private families are the whole thing here, and all enjoy them. Among them which I have attended was a musicale at the residence of Dr. Ritchie, where I found six of the family were musicians, playing accordeon, violin and Guitar very nicely. Needless to say it was enjoyed by all present. May there be many similar occasions, is the wish of your writer.

MOSE ANON.

Newtown, Va., January 30, 1904.

In Memoriam.

When a woman has served her generation well, it seems eminently fitting that some tribute should be paid to her memory.

Mrs. Jane Gassaway Peter was born June 8, 1835, in Montgomery county, Md., and entered into rest January 24, 1904, at her home, Washington, D. C., after a long, honorable and useful life.

She inherited from distinguished English ancestors—men of Revolutionary fame—heroic qualities, and added to these culture, refinement and great nobility of character.

In early womanhood she was married to Mr. Alexander Peter, a son of Major Geo. Peter.

In her native county she was known far and wide for her many ministries of love and to all in sickness, sorrow or need she responded in her own quiet helpful way. A woman of domestic tastes and good old-fashioned household virtues, she found her greatest happiness in making others happy, and spent her life in doing little kindnesses

Which most leave undone or despise,
'Tis naught that sets one's heart at ease,
Or giveth happiness or peace,
Was low esteemed in her eyes," and thus it was that her long illness was daily brightened by the attentions of the many, many friends to whom she had endeared herself.

A most unselfish and devoted mother, her children rise up and call her blessed, and it may be truthfully said:

"None knew her but to love her,
None named her but to praise."

Departed this life at his home, near Glen, Md., on Tuesday, 26th of January, 1904, after a few days of suffering with the gripp, William Henley, in the 36th year of his age. He was the son of Edward and Elizabeth Henley.

Alas! how soon his eyes were closed,
His work on earth is done,
The monster, Death, had thrown his arms
Around our loving one.
Dear brother, you have left us
In this world to mourn,
And to night you are sleeping
In the silent tomb.
It was so hard to give you up,
But God, who knows best,
Sent his angel from above,
And took you home to rest.
A few more troubles, a few more fears.
A few more sorrows and a few more tears;
And we hope to meet you, to part no more,
On that beautiful, bright and happy shore.
Just one year, one month to-day,
Since our other brother was taken away.
We hope to meet you bye and bye.

The odor is taken out of the milk at once, leaving the milk pure and sweet; hence the butter made from the cream is much better than by any other process. My butter is fine, will stay sweeter longer than by the old process, and the milk after cream is raised is splendid for young stock.

A Weak Stomach

Indigestion is often caused by overeating. An eminent authority says the harm done thus exceeds that from the excessive use of alcohol. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. A weak stomach may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you need a good digestant like Kodol, which digests your food without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics Kodol contains soon restore health. Dieting unnecessary. Kodol quickly relieves the feeling of fulness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. Absolutely cures indigestion.
