Deep Reductions on This Good Clothing

Kronheim Clothing is made with a little more care, designed with a little more smartness and made out of a little finer grade of woollens than you commonly see. It's these features that have given it the recognition it has with discriminating dressers.

It's these features of superiority that give added significance to the reductions I have made. Deep, for I have cut radically. General, for I have included every three-piece suit in the house—Young Men's or Conservative—plain colors and fancy effects.

$40 Suits	$29.75	$65 Suits	$44.75
$45 Suits	$33.75	$70 Suits	$49.75
$55 Suits	$39.75	$75 Suits	$59.75

Tropical Suits of the excellently tailored sort—Palm Beach, Silk Mohair, Gabardine, etc. Beginning at $20—and worth it.

POWER SURCHARGE WOULD HIT PUBLIC

Means Increase in Prices of Goods, Business Men Say at Pepee Hearing.

If the Public Utilities Commission grants the petition of the Potomac Electric Power Company to add a surcharge to the bills of wholesale users of current as the price of coal goes up, this surcharge will be felt by the people in the prices they pay for everyday commodities.

This was predicted by several business men at the hearing before the commission yesterday afternoon on the company's application. The whole sale users of current told the commission that they could not afford to absorb the extra charge to meet the price of coal and would have to place it on the prices of the goods they sell.

The company asked that this extra charge to meet the cost of coal be applied only to "schedule E" customers, who are eighty-five in number, and the largest users of current. Some of the merchants argued that it would be more equitable to distribute the extra charge among all electric current users, since the coal increase affects all current generated.

Furnish Current at Loss.

William F. Ham, president of the company, testified that, while the Potomac Electric Power Company as a whole is making a profit, it is furnishing current to "schedule E" customers at less than cost. Mr. Ham pointed out that the company must furnish service upon request, and warned the commission that if the "schedule E" business expands much more at the present rate it will tie the company up so that it may not be able to furnish current.

Engineer Commissioner Kutz called attention to the fact that the electric rate for small consumers is still before the District Supreme Court, and said there was some question in his mind whether the commission could change any of the electric schedules while the case is before the court.

S. R. Bowen, counsel for the company, replied that in his judgment the injunction issued by the court to prevent the reduction from 10 to 8 cents per kilowatt hour for private users of current did not affect schedule E, and therefore does not tie the commission's hands with respect to this schedule.

The Commissioner then suggested that if the surcharge to cover coal increases should be applied to schedule E only the users of current under that schedule might easily contest the order in court on the ground that they were discriminated against in favor of other users of current.

May Renew Own Plants.

Representatives of several large firms warned Mr. Ham that if the surcharge is allowed they may resume the manufacture of their own current and withdraw from the Potomac company as soon as possible. They protested that they gave up their own power plants to take Potomac current at the company's solicitation.

Mr. Ham advised the business men to consider the items of expense very carefully before going back to their own power plants.

At the request of Justin M. Chamberlin, attorney for the Washington Steel and Ordnance Company, the commission continued the hearing until 10 o'clock on the morning of July 1 to permit the users of current under schedule E to study the company's evidence and reply to it.

It was testified that the surcharge would amount to about a 24 per cent increase in the bills of the schedule E customers.

THIEVES' LOOT IS VARIED.

Copper Coils, Money, Jewelry and Clothing Stolen.

Two copper coils, valued at $70, the property of John J. Jackson, Riggs building, have been stolen from South Capitol and R streets.

Mrs. D. F. Thompson, 2611 Mozart place, reported the theft of a pocket-book containing $50. It was taken from her automobile at 14th and I streets.

An attempt was made to rob the residence of Archibald L. Falk, 3810 Livingston street, last night about 9:30 o'clock. The would-be intruder was frightened away.

Report of thefts of wearing apparel and jewelry worth $20 from the rooms of W. M. Cooper and Martha F. Miller, 1119 K street, has been made.

KRASSIN MEETS COUNCIL.

No American Observer at 45-Minute London Conference.

LONDON, June 17.—M. Krassin, Russian bolshevik minister of trade and commerce, who has been in London for three weeks, met the permanent committee of the supreme economic council for the first time yesterday afternoon. The conference, according to a cryptic official communique issued at its termination, lasted forty-five minutes. Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium were represented, but there was no American observer present.

The communique indicates the negotiations with the bolshevik emissary are moving slowly.

EDWARDS STAYS IN N. J.

Says Business Prevented Accompanying Delegates.

NEWARK, N. J., June 18.—Gov. Edward Edwards, a candidate for the presidential nomination on the democratic ticket, did not accompany the New Jersey delegates to their special train today for the democratic convention at San Francisco. Pressing official business at Trenton was given as the reason for his remaining behind. Delegates said he would probably attend the convention, however, if his official duties would permit his leaving in time.

Plans were made for a number of stops during the trip, principally at the Grand Canyon and in southern California.

Gov. Edwards later announced that he expected to leave for San Francisco about the middle of next week.

Tell Chicagoans Gov. Smith and Murphy Will Meet Leaders.

CHICAGO, June 18.—En route to the democratic national convention at San Francisco, New York's delegation stopped in Chicago last night.

It was announced that Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Charles F. Murphy of New York would arrive in Chicago tomorrow from French Lick, Ind., to confer with democratic leaders here and from other sections on plans for the San Francisco convention.

FLORIDA NAMES DELEGATES.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., June 18.—James E. Alexander of Deland, T. J. Appleby of Tallahassee, Congressman Frank Clark of Gainesville and ex-Gov. Albert W. Gilchrist of Punta Gorda have been declared elected delegates at large to the democratic national convention by the state canvassing board, which met here.

World Gem Center May Be Removed From Maiden Lane

NEW YORK, June 18.—Maiden Lane, in the heart of the downtown business district, may lose its identity as the diamond and jewelry center of the world if members of the jewelry and allied trades there decide to move uptown.

Great increase in rents recently caused the tradesmen to appoint a committee to consider a proposal to shift the entire trade center. This committee, it was learned today, has recommended several new sites—and a change will soon be taken on the proposition. More than seventy-five leading firms, including large manufacturers, are said to be considering moving.

CENTRAL RECREATIONAL FACILITIES OPEN JULY 2

Recreational and athletic facilities of Central High School will be thrown open to the use of the public on July 2 for the summer, under the direction of the community center department of the public schools. This announcement was made today by Miss Cecil B. Norton, general community secretary.

The athletic facilities consist of a large swimming pool, tennis courts, volleyball, basketball and hand ball courts, base ball diamond suitable for practice work and a quarter-mile cinder track. Swimming will be taught free. Swimmers must provide themselves with one-piece bathing suits and caps and towels.

Miss Norton pointed out that every precaution is taken to make the use of the swimming pool safe. Qualified instructors and lifeguards are employed, and the pool is cleaned and the water purified according to the strictest requirements of the health department. Women will have the use of the pool at periods beginning at 7:30 on Tuesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, and men at 9:30 on the same nights. Arrangements have been made for bathing for children under fifteen years of age on Wednesday and Thursday at periods beginning at 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. Weekly dances at Central will not be held this year. However, arrangements are being made by Miss Norton for several novelty dances during the season.
