FOURTEEN TEACHERS STUDY VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE HERE

Teachers' Training and Administrative Problems Stressed During Short Conference

The conference of teachers of vocational agriculture in South Alabama, called by Superintendent of Education Spright Powell, and which was in session at the Capitol January 9th and 10th, concluded its two day session Saturday afternoon. Fourteen teachers, representing a like number of South Alabama schools, were present at these meetings where much stress was laid upon teachers training and administrative problems. Plans were also discussed for the arrangement of group and home project work for vocational pupils during 1936.

In addition to the teachers present the following notable educators were in attendance: H. O. Sargent, of the Federal Board of Vocational Training, with headquarters in Atlanta, Ga.; E. A. Haynie, State supervisor for Florida; Prof. Zebulon Judd, of the Department of Education, Auburn and Prof. E. D. Stivers, in charge of teachers' training work at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute.

In future, all teachers of vocational agriculture, will be required to take at least one month of professional training each year. A similar conference of North Alabama agricultural vocational teachers will be held in Birmingham, January 16 and 17.

The purpose of electing chairman and delegates to the membership council for the current year.

Group meetings will be conducted by Leopold Strauss, vice-president and chairman of the membership council, and Bruce Kennedy, the general secretary. There are to be thirty-three such gatherings. Ten a day will be held until the machinery of organization is completed.

Mr. Kennedy stated it will take only a few minutes to make the selections, and Mr. Strauss makes an earnest call on the members of the Chamber of Commerce to respond promptly so that the work may be completed rapidly.

DID ME WORLDS OF GOOD, SAYS THIS MOBILE MAN

Stomach Trouble, Pains in Limbs, Nervousness, Made Life Miserable For Him Until He Found Dreo, the New Remedy

There are a great many persons who do not realize how important it is to keep the stomach in first class condition. It is one of the most important organs of the body; through it we receive all of our strength; it is like pulling the fire out of an engine to let the stomach fail in its duty.

"This new medicine Dreo is sure quick in its action, as well as pleasant to take," said the well known Mobile, Ala., tailor, Mr. E. W. Walther of 53 South Conception Street.

"For a long time I have had an aggravated case of kidney trouble; my stomach did not digest my food well; my bowels were constipated daily and I became quite nervous. I tried many remedies, but none did the work until I tried Dreo. After taking this medicine I have made me feel like a new person. I'm sure it is the greatest medicine ever sold here."

People who are rundown, tired out, debilitated—no matter what the cause—advised to try this little pill. Set from any well-stocked drug store a bottle of Dreo. Take a spoonful with each meal for a few days and watch how the change works through the entire body. The appetite increases, everything you eat seems to taste better. There is no dyspepsia or gas after your meals. The bowels, kidneys, liver and stomach work in harmony and the rich red blood goes coursing through the veins. This is what hundreds of men and women of this section say Dreo has done for them. Isn't it reasonable to expect it to do the same for you?

Dreo is now sold by all leading druggists throughout the country and is highly recommended in Montgomery by J. D. Burke's Drug Store.

DANNED REPORTS FIELD SECRETARIES HELD GOOD MEETING

Over Seventy Workers Attended Meeting in Hot Springs, Ark.

Clarence M. Dannelly, Field Secretary of the Alabama Conference Sunday School Board, returned Saturday afternoon from a meeting of Sunday School workers of the Methodist church, at Hot Springs, Ark. The meeting took place on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. An attendance of over seventy workers was recorded, coming all the way from California, New Mexico, Illinois and Maryland.

Mr. Dannelly reports a most enthusiastic gathering and has the following to say about it:

"The largest gathering in the history of this conference took place with an unusual amount of business transacted. Of the thirty-one Field Secretaries in the Southern Methodist connection there were thirty present, the only absent one being sick. Practically the entire General Staff from Nashville was in attendance; quite a number of Conference Board Chairmen; eight members of the General Sunday School Board; several other field workers; in all an attendance of seventy-odd."

"The three day program was crowded with from eight to nine hours of discussion daily. Neither relaxation nor recreation was afforded during the time, but the interesting and important program was afforded practically one hundred percent attendance at all sessions. The Conference voted for a day session at its next annual gathering, so that the enormous amount of business might be transacted without undue haste and without much strain on those in attendance."

"Among the important problems presented were better organized Districts; Teacher Training Schools; Elementary, Intermediate, Senior and Young People-Adult work; the Centenary Movement with the Evangelistic Campaign in the Sunday Schools; the Rural Sunday School; Standards; Church Extension; and the Forward look in our Sunday School activity."

"Miss Minnie E. Kennedy, Elementary Superintendent of the General Board, particularly emphasized the importance of the District, stating that her entire time through August had already been scheduled for District work."

"Teacher Training progress throughout the connection was strong. All kinds of programs of study for future leadership were reported, including the Teacher Training Class at the Sunday School hour, and the class composed of the local Workers council. Thousands of dollars are being spent in the Teacher Training Movement."

"The work of the different departments was emphasized by the General Board Staff and individually discussed. The standards were emphasized as programs for work. Rural Work was magnified by M. W. Brabham, the General Board's Rural Specialist, and a demonstration of what could be done in rural communities was made by the pastor of Hot Springs church."

"The Centenary Special in the Sunday School was presented by J. L. Neill in charge of the Sunday School division of the Centenary and by Dr. Shibley, a returned missionary from China."

"The Evangelistic Campaign in the Sunday School was presented by Dr. Chas. D. Bulla. He stressed the preparation on the part of the officers and teachers through the educational leaflets to be issued for study as follows:

Jan. 18-24: "The Place of the Sunday School in Evangelism."

Jan. 25-31: "The Sunday School Teacher as an Evangelist."

Feb. 1-7: "The Child and Evangelism."

Feb. 8-14: "Enrollment in the Evangelistic Campaign."

Feb. 15-21: "Decision Day."

"Prayerful attention to the needs of the individual child is to be made from then to March 21, when 'Decision Day' will be held. He urged the importance of the three-fold program of (1) Membership Campaign or Religious Census; (2) The Enrollment of those not in attendance at Sunday Schools; (3) The Evangelizing of all Sunday School Members."

"Dr. M. T. Haw, Presiding Elder of the St. Louis District and Member of the General Sunday School Board, placed the Inter-Church Movement before the Conference."

"The Sunday School Forward Movement was the subject of an inspiring address by Dr. E. B. Chapell, General Sunday School Board, Secretary. He stressed the importance of a Protestant religious educational program and a national campaign of child study. His was indeed a most inspiring address."

"His satisfaction with our general 'Standard' was voiced by Mr. Montgomery, Field Secretary of the Virginia Sunday School Board, formerly connected with the Virginia State Department of Education, presented a new Standard, which the body moved to refer to the General Board for their consideration and adoption."

"The Constitution and By-Laws and all previous records were destroyed by fire in Little Rock this past year, the office of the Secretary having been burned. A new Constitution and a new set of By-Laws were adopted, changing the name of the 'Conference to 'Council.' Officers elected for 1936 were J. H. Threlkett, President, Ocala, Fla.; C. E. Hayes, Vice-president, Little Rock, Ark.; Clem Baker, Secretary, Little Rock."

The place of the next annual meeting was left to the executive committee and was to be made if possible in mid-summer."

HAS DEFENSE FOR SECRET DIPLOMACY

LONDON.—Paul Cambon, French Ambassador and dean of the foreign diplomatic service in London, defends secret diplomacy and the methods used by President Wilson and other delegates in framing the peace of Versailles.

"At the present time," said Ambassador Cambon, "diplomacy is receiving but few compliments. People seem to regard us as a little obsolete because we have a habit of speaking in a low voice."

"Yet, before the war, diplomats did not fail to warn their governments of what was being prepared; during the war they strove to extend our alliances and devoted themselves to avoiding the friction that was liable to occur in a coalition such as had never been seen before. But since the war there is constant talk of the uselessness of diplomacy."

"First of all, it is reproached with its attachment to tradition. Another reproach is that of carrying on secret diplomacy. I own that I have never understood what people mean by secret diplomacy in a free country where the government cannot conclude any agreement of a nature to bind the policy of a nation without having recourse to Parliament."

"People mean, perhaps, the negotiations preparatory to a treaty and the efforts to compel us to transact all business in public. Can one imagine in any business, either political or private, negotiations being carried on in the full light of day? Can you see a financier, a merchant, a manufacturer giving his schemes and conversations to publicity? In the case of discussions between governments discretion is still more necessary, because our controversies may arouse national susceptibilities, and questions of settlement between diplomats become insoluble if 'armour' proper comes into play. With publicity for negotiations we should have a war every morning."

"It is said sometimes that if there were no doctors there would be no sick people, and malicious people add that if there were no diplomats there would be no conflicts between the peoples. That shows but little acquaintance with us, and I can certify that the principal care of a diplomat is worthy of the name is to work for compromises and the removal of the causes of conflict—in a word, the maintenance of peace."

"There will always be sick people, there will always be causes of quarrel between the nations, and doctors and diplomats will always have to be called."

MARINE MARKSMEN GET BANQUETS AS PRIZES

PARIS ISLAND, S. C., Jan. 10.—Brig. Gen. Eli K. Cole, commandant of the Marine barracks and training area here, has found a new way to win the hearts of his men, and he has turned it to practical account.

Officers in charge of the rifle practice recently digested ways and means of inspiring the recruits to further efforts to increase their scores. Finally it was put up to Gen. Cole.

"Feed 'em," replied the general. "Now the men will get good enough 'chow' to anybody but the general explained that he meant to give a regular banquet to the men in the recruit companies making the highest scores. So an order was issued that whenever
