ARCHITECTS HERE ENTER ALL SOULS' COMPETITION

G. O. Totten and Don & Deming Among Six Named to Submit Plans for Church.

George Oakley Totten, a Washington architect, and the architectural firm of Don & Deming, also of this city, have been named by the board of trustees of All Souls' Unitarian Church among the six firms which will compete for the design of the new edifice, which will be located at 16th and Harvard streets.

In the report submitted to the congregation by George A. Ricker, chairman of the board, it was stated that the competition will be under the direction of Prof. Warren P. Laird, director of the department of architecture at the University of Pennsylvania.

Besides the Washington firms, other architects who will enter the competition are Coolidge & Shattuck, Putnam & Cox and Allan W. Jackson of Boston, and A. & J. McDonald of Omaha, Neb.

It is anticipated that several weeks will be occupied in this competition. Mr. Ricker says that "conditions are so unusual in the construction world, however, that delay at this time will be to our advantage. Not only are materials and labor probably at their highest mark, but no assurance can be given by any manufacturer of shipment of his products."

The plan of All Souls' Church is to build a church building and a parish house. It has been agreed that if either building takes priority in construction the church proper will come first, but, according to the trustees' report, it has been "agreed that every possible effort would be made to construct the whole plant."

The Knickerbocker Theater is being used for temporary purposes, and Dr. Pierce preaches there every Sunday.

ASKS MORE TRADE ROUTES FROM COASTS OF SOUTH

Southern Commercial Congress Committee's Plea for Shippers of Atlantic and Gulf Sections.

The shipping committee of the Southern Commercial Congress, in a memorandum submitted to Admiral Benson of the Shipping Board, urges establishment of additional trade routes from ports on the south Atlantic and gulf coasts to provide shippers of the manufacturing sections of the middle west a freer access to the sea.

The memorandum suggested that as new trade lines develop, prompt allocation of ships by the Shipping Board should be made to take care of the growing requirements of the shippers. In assigning these ships the commercial congress committee asked that preference be given companies backed financially by business interests of the localities interested in the development of new routes. The committee also urged revision of the agency agreement now in force so as to protect local companies developing new trade routes from outside companies "coming in at the last minute" with Shipping Board vessels to take advantage of their efforts toward route extensions.

The memorandum urged the board not to dispose of vessels which might be needed for the operating of the new routes "until such routes have been permanently established, or have been proven unprofitable and, in the opinion of the board, should be abandoned."

Five years would be a reasonable time, the memorandum stated, within which to determine definitely whether the new routes "have been permanently established or have been proved to be unpromising of profitable operation." The committee is composed of Clarence J. Owens, Senator Fletcher of Florida, Thomas R. Preston, Hugh McRae, J. J. Logan and William Allen.

PRESIDENT GREETS YOUNG D. C. HEALTH CRUSADERS

Reading of Message Feature of Pageant Event Tomorrow at Central High Stadium.

President Wilson has sent a message to the 35,000 young health crusaders of the District of Columbia, and through them to the six million health crusaders in the United States, which will be read at the modern health crusade pageant to be given at the Central High School Stadium tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The first part of the program will consist of the presentation of a play, "King Good Health Wins," by 300 children of the Dennison School, who have been carefully trained by Miss Lackey, their principal. The play was written by Miss Alberta Walker, dramatic instructor, Wilson Normal School.

Following the pageant-play, Surgeon Gen. Ireland of the United States Army will present two banners, one to the white school division, and one to the colored school division, which have enrolled the largest percentage of knights and knightsbannerets in the health crusade. Pennants—78 in all—will be awarded to the different grades in each division which have made the highest score in the contest. Four children from each of these grades will represent their classes and will march past Gen. Ireland to receive their awards.

Supt. Thurston will be master of ceremonies and the United States Marine Band will furnish the marches and other music for the occasion. Twenty thousand tickets of admission have been distributed to those pupils who have won knighthood honors. The parents of these children are also invited.

LOSES WALLET AND $55.50

Woman Guest at Hotel Reports Theft—Other Robberies.

Mrs. John W. Sommers, Connellsville, Pa., who registered at a local hotel, told police of the sixth precinct of the theft of a wallet containing $55.50 from her room. It was taken during her temporary absence, she stated.

Mrs. Huldah Jackson, 1009 Rhode Island avenue, reported the loss of $68 in bills. The money was taken from her pocketbook yesterday afternoon while she was shopping.

Mrs. F. I. Engler, 1829 Jefferson place, told the police of the tenth precinct that her young son was robbed of his watch and chain, valued at $50, while in Rock Creek Park yesterday. The robbery, she reported, was committed by colored boys.

Nannie Towles, T Street Hill, Anacostia, reported the taking from her home of a bank containing a small sum of money, articles of jewelry and a revolver. She valued the property at $33.

Miss Cora M. Wetzell, room 513, Department of Commerce, Pennsylvania avenue and 19th street, reported the disappearance from her desk yesterday afternoon of a pocketbook containing valuable papers.

CHILD LABOR IS TAXED.

No Change Made by U. S. Officials Pending Court Action.

The child labor tax section of the revenue act will continue to be enforced until the Supreme Court hands down a decision in the case of the Atherton Mills against Johnson, the bureau of internal revenue announced today.

The federal statute places a tax of 10 per cent on the annual net profits of any mill, cannery, workshop, factory or manufacturing establishment in which children between the ages of fourteen and eighteen are employed or permitted to work more than eight hours a day, or more than six days a week, or before 6 a.m. or after 7 p.m.

The Atherton Mills case was appealed to the Supreme Court from the United States district court for North Carolina, which held the federal law unconstitutional.

All in Vain

I was weighing, on the quiet, more than any gent should weigh; so I tried a rigid diet, and I ate but once a day. All the things I like were banished, so my system might grow thin; all the pies and doughnuts vanished from the larder and the bin. I was thicker, I was broader, than a mortal man should be; so I fed on bran and fodder and fresh pumpkins from the tree. Oh, I lived on slaw and gherkins, till my form grew thin and spare, till I lost some seven firkins of the lard I used to wear. But I'm once again devouring grub that pleases every sense, and the horse's feed is souring, with the garbage by the fence. For I'll sleep beneath a hummock in the boneyard's solemn hush ere I'll torture my old stomach with the fat-reducing mush. So I beckon to the waiter and I tell him he may bring ribs of beef and brown potater, pie and cake and everything. For the life we live is worthless if we're eating shredded straw, and the days are dark and mirthless, and there ought to be a law. You may feel yourself grow fatter as you face the groaning board; what the dickens does it matter? Eat the best you can afford. Through the victuals take a header, eat while you are drawing breath; for there is no dead man deader than the one who starved to death. WALT MASON.

MAY AID OFFICER.

Obtaining Horse to Replace One Killed to Be Discussed.

Methods of obtaining a horse for Policeman Everett Grimes, whose mount was killed by lightning during the storm Sunday afternoon, probably will be discussed by members of the Chevy Chase Citizens' Association at their meeting in the Elizabeth V. Brown School tonight at 8 o'clock.

It has been pointed out that the police department does not furnish mounted officers with horses and Policeman Grimes will have to bear the expense of another mount.

BISHOP HARDING LAUDS LAYMEN IN CHURCH LIFE

Service Association Rally Is Held at St. Alban's Parish Hall, With Chapter Reception.

The laymen of the diocese are the backbone of the church in Washington, according to Bishop Harding, who addressed a rally of the Laymen's Service Association last night at St. Alban's parish hall. The rally followed a reception given the association by members of the St. Alban's chapter.

Bishop Harding said the laymen should take pride in the national Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul, which is being erected on the heights of Mount St. Alban. He paid tribute to his predecessor, Bishop Satterlee, whose vision planned the edifice that will be one of the most elaborate cathedrals of the world.

Other speakers were George R. Wales, Claude H. Woodward, Capt. Sheridan Ferree, Rev. Charles T. Warner, George B. Selden, Byron S. Adams and Louis Addison Dent.

A surprise luncheon was given Bishop Harding Monday at the Willard. He was presented with a purse, a miniature boat and a tiny motor car. The bishop, his wife and daughter, Miss Charlotte Harding, will attend the Lambeth conference in England next month. While in London they will be the guests of Bishop Montgomery. Bishop Harding will preach at Westminster Abbey the last day of the conference.

Tokio has about 45,000 telephones and 60,000 persons are said to be seeking service.
