The yield of the present crop of wheat is very gratifying to the farmers of this county. Mr. Geo. E. Nicholson, whose farm lies near Olney, produced 35 bushels per acre; Mr. Geo. Linthicum, near Travilah, 40 bushels per acre, and Mr. John B. Diamond, near Gaithersburg, 38 1-2 bushels. These are the largest returns that have been reported, but many farmers have received 30 bushels per acre. Taken altogether the crop is looked upon as the largest ever grown here.

Robbers entered the Chinese laundry in this town on Tuesday night last. They got into the building through a window on the first floor after the removal of a screen. They went to the second story and into the bed room of the two Chinese laundrymen, who were sleeping occupants at the time, took a trunk belonging to the latter from the room to the lower floor and robbed it of its entire moneyed contents, $100. The thieves made their escape undetected. Their fine work was not discovered until Wednesday morning, and their indentity is unknown.

The Enquirer, published at Marlboro, Prince George's county, in its issue of July 15th, says: "During one of the several severe electrical storms on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. Hamilton E. Mr. Clark was 39 years old and married. He resided with his family on the farm." They quarreled over 10 cents. The shooting was done in the presence of a sister of the two boys, who followed Thomas from the house when he came for the gun and attempted to wrest the weapon from him when she learned for what purpose he had procured it.

A deed has been placed on record in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court here conveying from Brainard H. Warner to Cardinal Gibbons four lots in the town of Kensington, the consideration named being $1,400. Upon the property will be erected a Catholic Church. It is understood that the work of construction will begin within the present month. The new edifice will be 40 by 80 feet and will seat about 200 persons. For some time Rev. Charles O. Rosensteel, pastor of St. John's Catholic Church at Forest Glen, has been at work in the interest of the new church. He will superintend the construction.

State's Attorney Bowie F. Waters visited Gettysburg, Pa., last week and conferred with army officers in camp there in regard to the recent assault on Henry Stewart, a young negro, at Gaithersburg, this county, several weeks ago, which was laid at the door of United States soldiers. State's Attorney Waters was informed by General Wotherspoon, who is in command of the troops in camp at Gettysburg, that the investigation conducted by the military authorities showed that the assault could not have been committed by the soldiers. Mr. Waters was shown the report of the officer detailed to make the investigation, which was to the effect that the assault was not made until after mid-night, at which time all the soldiers were asleep in camp.

Mr. Samuel S. Hays, one of our most estimable citizens, aged 84 years, was found dead in bed at his home, in Barnesville, last Friday morning. Mr. Hays went to bed complaining, but his condition was not thought to be serious. He was born April 2, 1826, within two miles of Barnesville. Mr. Hays never married. Mrs. Jennie Anderson, a relative, kept house for him. When 23 years old he taught school at Sugar Loaf, this county, and afterward at Barnesville. Subsequently he took up farming. His estate is valued at $100,000. Mr. Hays was always active in politics, at first a Whig and afterward a Democrat. In 1859 he was elected a magistrate and held that office for 37 years. He assisted in establishing the First National Bank of Gaithersburg, of which he was a director, and for many years he served as a member of the Town Council of Barnesville, being also one of the charter members of the Barnesville Grange. He was a member of Christ Episcopal Church of Barnesville. His great-grandfather was Jeremiah Hays, a pioneer of this part of the State and a large landowner.

Opens Rich Country.

From the Washington Star.

Plans are now being made to go ahead with the construction of the Washington, Sandy Spring and Ellicott City electric railway, the right of way for which was secured a number of years ago. It will tap a section of Montgomery and Howard counties which is said to be rolling in wealth, but is as yet provided with sixteenth century transportation facilities.

Asa E. Phillips, superintendent of sewers, who is interested in engineering feats of any kind, has just returned from a vacation spent along the right of way of the proposed road. He went over the line with his brother Harry Phillips, the engineer in charge of the work. Asa E. Phillips is enthusiastic over the prospects of connecting Washington with this new and rich country.

"That is a wonderful country," he said today, in talking about the trip. "I never saw a stretch of country that gives a better impression of being substantially rich. And yet it is absolutely free as yet from the locomotive whistle or the clang of the trolleys. The farmers there are forced to travel the old toll gate route at Pullman rates. I drove the entire length of the line, from Washington to a point beyond Patapsco, and saw nothing during the entire trip that savored of anything but rural wealth.

It's rural, all right. A chap in Sandy Spring called that village 'the most rural community in the United States.'

"Yet that same little village is a great town. I doubt if its equal exists. It is nearly twenty miles from a railroad, yet it has splendid schools, a public library and fine homes. Just as a reminder that there is a United States coinage, the bank at Sandy Spring has a million dollars in deposits and pays 4 per cent. to its depositors. And not a railroad in twenty miles.

"An odd thing about the bank is that it's strictly a local institution. No one, not even a director, can deposit more than $500 in any one year and not over $2000 in all. Another curious fact about this bank, which speaks for its conservatism, is that with twenty-one directors, the average age of them is over seventy years. Two of the directors are over ninety.

"One of the most wonderful houses I have ever seen or heard of is in that section, about twenty miles north of Sandy Spring. It is Doughoregan Manor, home of Gov. Carroll, who was Maryland's chief executive forty years ago, and who is hale and hearty yet. The house has a frontage of nearly 300 feet, with a splendid chapel in the north wing, and is filled with historic treasures, particularly of the Revolutionary period. It is surrounded by magnificent lawns and gardens, in a setting of splendid forestry. It reminded me of some old English estate, such as Blenheim or Warwick.

"The manor house has columns and yellow facings, and is a monument to seventeenth century days. It grew with the colonies. Wing on wing has been placed at each end. Yet the architectural symmetry and beauty have been maintained, and even made more beautiful by the additions.

"St. Charles College is very near the manor. In fact, the two are separated only by that old high road of commerce, the Frederick turnpike. The college buildings are stately and are set in the midst of a splendid green lawn, with plenty of big oaks.

"But the most mysterious and interesting place in all this country is 'Folly Quarter.' Five miles to the south of Doughoregan Manor, on what is known as the Grape Vine road, there is a dense forest, apparently miles in extent. A dark trail leads through the woods for half a mile and opens with startling swiftness on the white walls of a deserted marble palace, built so close to the trees that there is scarcely any open space. The story of this mystery is worthy of the imagination of Edgar Allan Poe.

"In the first quarter of the last century a wealthy Howard county farmer died, leaving his property in such a way that an only daughter was to have certain lands and money 'sufficient to build a house thereon,' and the bulk of the estate went to distant heirs. The daughter was too smart for the distant heirs and when she got ready to build her house, it was a house indeed. She called in the most expensive architects, designers, builders and artisans in the country and imported every expensive bit of material she could use. Every time she added a gew-gaw to the marble palace the chances of the distant heirs approached nearer to the vanishing point. Finally all the estate was squandered on the house. The marble palace was complete, with porticos, terraces and gardens. But there wasn't a cent left to run it or to give the distant heirs the satisfaction of buying a railroad ticket to the nearest station, far enough away at any event, so they could view the spite work of the spendthrift daughter. She shut the place up and disappeared.

How The Payne-Aldrich Tariff Taxes Maryland To Enrich New England.

The privilege given the New England manufacturers by the Aldrich tariff to tax the consumers of Maryland and other States two prices for their products (ever since the War) is simply cheating the other States out of their share of the country's wealth, and giving it to the wealthy friends of Senators Aldrich and Lodge. Here is the proof:

Wealth per person in Maryland, $1,108.

Wealth per person in Massachusetts, $1,554. Exceeds Maryland 40 per cent.

Wealth per person in Rhode Island, $1,656. Exceeds Maryland 50 per cent.

The resources of Maryland and Massachusetts are alike in railway and port facilities; the oyster industry of our State, at least, matches the fisheries of Massachusetts. We have besides, our coal, clay and agricultural resources. The resources of Rhode Island appear to be a small number of farms, numerous cotton and woolen factories, and Senator Aldrich. Its excessive per capita wealth does not mean that its working people are richer than the working people of other States, for according to the last reported census the factory operative was paid only $416 per year. Both the consumers of Maryland and the workers of New England appear to be goldbricked by this standpat tariff. (Authority, Government statistical abstract 1908.)

Vital Washington News.

By Tavenner,
Special Correspondent of The Sentinel.

Washington, D. C., July 18, 1910.

Regular Republicans are declaring more boldly than ever that Roosevelt will indorse Taft.

Vice-President Sherman says that Roosevelt "will indorse the Payne-Aldrich tariff law and the Taft administration in every particular."

I do not believe it. I do not believe it because I read Roosevelt to be too clever a politician to put his O. K. on such a band of criminals as that which dominates the Republican party.

I wish to make no apology for the use of the word "criminals." I employ the term advisedly.

The Republican party is today controlled body and soul by the sugar trust, the steel trust, the harvester trust, the lumber trust, and other similar organizations, each and every one of which is in existence in violation of the anti-trust laws of the country.

Having no legal right to exist, each of these greedy monopolies is a criminal corporation, and if the attorney general of the United States would do his full duty they would be forced to dissolve.

But if Roosevelt does indorse the Taft administration, it will be and ought to be his Waterloo, following in the due allotted time his triumphant "return from Elba." If Roosevelt openly indorses such standpatters as Taft and Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, it will mean that he deceived the people as to his true sentiment as completely as the prizefighter Jeffries decieved the sporting world as to his real physical condition.

Taft Past Redemption.

Roosevelt will not dare indorse Taft for these reasons: First, Taft personally promised revision downward, and then personally signed a tariff bill which revised the tariff upward.

Second, Taft personally aided Boss Aldrich to cheat the people out of an income tax which would take some of the burden of taxation off of the poor and place it upon the rich.

Third, Taft personally used all the power at his command to prevent Speaker Cannon from being dethroned.

Fourth, Taft upheld Ballinger after the latter had been exposed and discredited as having given aid to Alaska-coal-land grabbers.

Fifth, Taft counseled with Aldrich, Lodge, Hale, Guggenheim, Penrose, Flint, Cannon, Fordney and other representatives of the special interests, and refused to accept advice from such men as LaFollette, Dolliver, Cummins, Clapp and Murdock.

Sixth, Taft is personally seeking to defeat LaFollette and other genuine insurgents because they endeavored to revise the tariff in conformity with the Taft preelection speeches.

Aldrich's Exact Words.

Senator Aldrich on February 21, 1910, in the Senate, when speaking on the subject of government expenses, said:

"There is no intelligent observer in Congress or out of it who does not know that the executive departments of this government are carried on either under obsolete business methods or without any business methods at all. There is no man who has given this subject any attention whatever who does not know or believe that at least 10 per cent. of the thousand million dollars which are appropriated annually can be saved by the adoption of business methods. This question of saving $1,000,000,000 per year—and it can be demonstrated, in my judgment, that the saving will be much more than that—is a matter that should receive the serious attention of Congress. If I were a business man and could be permitted to do it, I would undertake to run this government for $300,000,000 less than it is now run for.

Lodge and Teddy are Pals.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, is posing as the bosom friend of Roosevelt. He says that T. R. will campaign for his re-election, and Roosevelt has not denied that he will go to Lodge's rescue. It was only recently that LaFollette, of Wisconsin, in a speech in the Senate exposed the same Lodge as the unscrupulous tool of the railroads and other special interests. Lodge is by training and nature unfitted to represent any part of the United States in the Senate. He can not outgrow the ancient illusion that the business of the Senate is to legislate for the rich, regardless of the rights of the poor. Unless all signs read falsely, Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, who declares the consumer is a myth, will be retired to private life; yea, and regardless of whether the ex-president indorses or refuses to indorse.

"Uncle Joe" has not Retired.

"God willing, I'll be back in Washington next session, and it will be for the Republican majority to determine who shall be speaker."

So spoke "Uncle Joe" Cannon the other day. Speaker Cannon has not the least intention of retiring from the speakership, and the public is only fooling itself to think otherwise. Cannon has served the corporate interests of the country long and faithfully, and if the next House should be Republican, "Uncle Joe" will no doubt be rewarded with another term as speaker.

Hiding High Prices.

To prove that the new tariff has not increased the cost of life's necessities, standpatters cite schedules in which the quoted prices of manufactured articles are the same as before the Aldrich-Taft law was passed. The absurdity of this attempt to deceive consumers is manifest.

It is notorious that the textile trust took heroic measures to keep price quotations normal for this season by making lighter weight goods and using poorer material.

Their example was followed by foreign makers who exported to this country a cheaper grade of cotton stockings at the old prices. The net result, of course, is that the consumers must purchase more frequently, because shoddy goods wear out quickly.

Obviously, the aggregate cost of life's necessities grows steadily as articles bought deteriorate in quality.

This method of hiding high prices has been boldly justified by eastern trust officials as legitimate business.

Charged With Stealing Horses.

Benjamin Flynn, alias Wm. Hackett, is in jail here charged with stealing a horse from his brother, Thomas Flynn, a farmer of Cedar Grove. The young man admits taking the horse and has also stated to Sheriff Viett that he is wanted in Virginia for two similar offenses.

Flynn came to this county from Virginia several weeks ago and worked for farmers in the Cedar Grove neighborhood. He disappeared several days ago, and about the same time Thomas Flynn discovered that a valuable horse was missing. Sheriff Viett learned that a man answering Flynn's description had been arrested at Chambersburg, Pa., on suspicion of being a horse thief. Sheriff Viett went to the Pennsylvania town and soon obtained from the prisoner the imformation that he was the man who had stolen the horse from the well-known Cedar Grove farmer.

Flynn, it is said, attempted to dispose of the horse in Waynesboro, Pa., but a number of horses have been stolen in that section recently and no one would buy. He left in the direction of Chambersburg and when he reached there he was placed under arrest, the Chambersburg officers having been notified by telephone of the suspicions of the Waynesboro people.

"Foley's Kidney Pills Have Cured Me."

The above is a quotation from a letter written by H. M. Winkler, Evansville, Ind. "I contracted a severe case of kidney trouble. My back gave out and pained me. I seemed to have lost all strength and ambition; was bothered with dizzy spells, my head would swim and and specks float before my eyes. I took Foley Kidney Pills regularly and am now perfectly well and feel like a new man. Foley Kidney Pills have cured me." Sold by R. W. Vinson.

When to Sell Wheat.

From the Chestertown Transcript.

There is a diversity of opinion among many farmers and landowners as to the most advantageous time to sell wheat. Of course the question of price is the determining factor with many as to the time to sell, but there are few farmers who believe that it is a safe proposition to hold a crop upon the prospect of a good price in the winter or spring. We have made an effort during the past week to learn something of the opinion of some of our largest and most prominent crop growers and the consensus of opinion is that if wheat is in proper condition the most advantageous time to sell is from the thresher. Such farmers as Eugene M. Bonwell, Walter T. Morris, Garrett Foxwell, Isaac Gibbs and William T. Nicholson have expressed the opinion during the week that there are always more bushels in your crop just after threshing than at any other time, and that a crop, if barned, will lose more than 10 per cent by shrinkage if kept any length of time. Mr. Wm. T. Nicholson states that if cars ran to old Nicholson's station, he would never put a grain of his crop in his barn, but would load it on the cars from the thresher and send it to the elevators. We know of farmers who persist in keeping their crops as long as the next harvest. One farmer in the county has his last year's crop of 1600 bushels in his barn which he has been holding for better price. How much better off would he have been had he sold last August when wheat sold as high as $1.14. Other farmers do the same thing. But it is the opinion of our most experienced farmers that it is more advantageous to sell the crop right from the thresher. Let us see what the result of a speculation in this direction will mean this year.

In Memoriam.

Mrs. Rachel B. Walker, wife of Prof. G. W. Walker, died July 4, 1910, at 2 A. M., at her home, Mendelsshon Terrace, near Browningsville, Md.

Mrs. Walker was the daughter of the late John and Jemimah Purdum, and born July 16, 1835. June 16, 1858, she married Prof. Walker and they occupied the Walker home fifty-two years. June 16, 1908, they celebrated their golden wedding. Few have the privilege of living together so many years! Daily are we reminded of the perilous uncertainty of our stay here and the shadowy border of the Great Beyond!

"And so her life is ended here! But no!
Her loving service lives in every heart,
And we who knew her surely cannot fail
To better do our part."

Her end was peaceful and apparently painless, like one falling asleep—a fitting close for such a life!

She had been in delicate health for eighteen months, having been paralyzed, but it seemed to bring out more plainly her patience and fortitude. Her life was a long and useful one, filled with good deeds and acts of charity.

In her death there has been removed from the family circle a devoted wife and mother, one whose intrinsic worth and true Christian character have ever made her a valued friend and counsellor.

Medical skill and careful nursing and loving attention were ministered to her, but life's race was run for this one of God's chosen ones and the Death Angel found her ready.

She had been a Christian from girlhood, was devoted to her church, Sunday-school work and took a keen interest in the temperance work. She lived to see her sons and daughters possessed of homes of their own, into which her influence entered. The best thing that can be said of a good woman is: "Those who knew her best loved her most."

The funeral services were held at Bethesda M. E. Church Wednesday, July 6, at 3 P. M., when a large concourse of relatives and friends assembled to pay the last tribute of respect to her memory. Rev. C. J. Burdette conducted the services, assisted by Revs. Yost, Keen and Ruby. The choir rendered beautiful music. The floral offerings were many and of beautiful designs. As the sun sank behind the western hills we laid her to rest, to sleep until the resurrection morn.

To the sorrowing husband and bereaved family, we extend our deepest sympathy.

Mrs. Walker leaves the following children: Mr. J. L. Walker, Browningsville; Mrs. Charles Scanlon, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Joseph Linthicum, Fountain Mills; Mr. William A. Walker, Mt. Airy; Mrs. Preston Snyder, Washington, D. C.; Mr. Muller Walker, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Roby F. Day, Kansas City, Kan., and Miss Parepa Walker.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

Virginia W. Holland, May Holland Rowe and James G. Rowe, her husband, and James Milton Holland Rowe, infant, by his next friend, May Holland Rowe, Complainants, vs.

Alice Parke Shadd, Harriette Parke Shadd, Furmann J. Shadd, Jr., and Lillian Alice Shadd, an infant, Defendants.

In the Circuit Court for Montgomery county. No. 2614 Equity.

THE OBJECT of this suit is to procure a decree for the substitution of Samuel D. Waters, as Trustee, for certain real estate situate in Montgomery county, and belonging to the estate of the late Milton M. Holland, in the place and stead of the heirs of Furmann J. Shadd, deceased.

The Bill filed in the above entitled cause alleges in substance as follows:

That by the terms of the last will and testament of Milton M. Holland, late of Montgomery county, deceased, certain real estate, situate in said county, was devised to one Furmann J. Shadd, his heirs and assigns, in trust for the use and benefit of the above-named complainants; that the said Furmann J. Shadd predeceased the said Holland and that the heirs of said Shadd, and each of them who are the above-named defendants, have declined to act as said trustee and have filed a written renunciation of said trust with the Register of Wills; that the above complainants are the heirs-at-law and beneficiaries under the will of the said Milton M. Holland and nominate Samuel D. Waters, of Montgomery county, as trustee, in the place and stead of the heirs of Furmann J. Shadd; that all of the defendants are non-residents.

It is thereupon this 30th day of June, A. D. 1910, ordered by the Circuit Court of Montgomery county, in Equity, that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Montgomery county, once a week in each of four successive weeks before the 5th day of August, 1910, give notice to the said absent defendants, Alice Parke Shadd, Harriette Parke Shadd, Furmann J. Shadd, Jr., and Lillian Alice Shadd, an infant, of the object and substance of this bill, warning them to appear in this Court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 25th day of August next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION.

In the Circuit Court for Montgomery county.

In the matter of the mortgage from Charles Edward Garrett and Rose Garrett, his wife, to Edward Olin Garrett and others. No. 2586 Equity.

William W. Welsh, Petitioner,
vs.
Rose Garrett, widow; Edward Olin Garrett, Naomi Garrett, Charles Roland Garrett, Clayton P. Garrett and Lucy E. Garrett, infants, Defendants.

THE OBJECT of this suit is to subject the surplus in the hands of Frank Higgins, the attorney making sale in these proceedings, to the payment of the debts of the said Charles Edward Garrett, deceased.

The petition states that Charles Edward Garrett, the mortgagor, died on the 14th day of February, 1910, intestate, leaving him surviving, a widow, Rose Garrett, and the following children as his only heirs-at-law, viz.: Edward Olin Garrett, Naomi Garrett, Charles Roland Garrett, Clayton P. Garrett and Lucy E. Garrett, all infants under the age of twenty-one years.

That the said Rose Garrett, Edward Olin Garrett and Lucy E. Garrett reside in the District of Columbia; that the said Naomi Garrett resides in Beverly county, in the State of West Virginia; and that the said Charles Roland Garrett and Clayton P. Garrett reside in Montgomory county, Maryland.

That at the time of his death, the said Charles E. Garrett was indebted unto William W. Welsh in the sum of $238.00 on a note, and in the sum of $47.20 on an open account, and also indebted to other creditors in large sums of money.

That the said Charles Edward Garrett left very little or not sufficient personal estate to pay the cost of administration and that no letters of administration have been granted on his personal estate.

That by the Report of the Auditor filed in this cause the sum of $1,578.88 was left in the hands of Frank Higgins, Attorney, subject to the further order of this Honorable Court.

That there being no personal estate and no property of the said Charles Edward Garrett or fund due his estate out of which the claims of the petitioner and those of other creditors can be paid, the petitioner is advised that the surplus in the hands of the said Frank Higgins, Attorney, ought to be applied to the payment of the claims of the petitioner and other creditors of the said Charles Edward Garrett so far as the same will extend.

The petition prays for a decree, process and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 4th day of July, A. D. 1910, ordered by the Circuit Court for Montgomery county, Maryland, that the petitioner, William W. Welsh, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper printed and published in said Montgomery county, Md., once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of August, A. D. 1910, giving notice to the said Rose Garrett, adult; Edward Olin Garrett, infant, and Lucy E. Garrett, infant, residing in the District of Columbia, and Naomi Garrett, residing in the county of Beverly, in the State of West Virginia, all of whom are non-residents of the State of Maryland, of the object and substance of this petition, warning them to appear in this court in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 26th day of August, A. D. 1910, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.
