ODD BET THAT WON $12,000 IS TOLD AT KROHNBERG TRIAL

Witness Says Alleged Poker
Cheat Won Big Pot on Turn of Last Card.

"READERS" ARE SHOWN.

Complainant Calls Off Cards in Court by Looking at Backs.

The examination of Louis Krohnberg, President of the Elford Waist Company, under arrest on a charge of cheating at cards, was begun this morning before Justice Kernochan, of the Court of Special Sessions, and details of the much discussed stud-poker tournament in which Krohnberg is said to have won more than $12,000 were made public.

The only witness examined was Jacob M. Silverman, a dress manufacturer, living at No. 1311 President Street, Brooklyn, who told of participating in stud-poker games in Krohnberg's home. In the home of Joseph M. Schenck, motion picture producer and husband of Norma Talmadge, and in various hotels.

Silverman identified a deck of cards, with which Krohnberg was alleged to have won a $12,000 pot the night of Dec. 14. The cards had a fleur-de-lis design on the back, the various lines of the petals being shaded so that if one had the key he could read the card face downward. Mr. Silverman, after testifying he took the deck after a suspicious play, called off each of the cards while holding the face toward Justice Kernochan and the back toward himself. He made one mistake in calling the fifty-two cards.

Tells How Krohnberg Won Part of $12,000.

He then related the circumstances of the $12,000 pot. Of the seven players, all dropped out but Krohnberg and Lewis when the fourth card had been dealt. Krohnberg, sitting on the left of the dealer, had one card "in the hole" as poker players express it, and had a three, a nine and a four exposed. Lewis had his "hole" card unexposed and an ace, an eight and a ten in sight. Krohnberg bet $1,500. Lewis pushed in all the money he had in front of him, $5,700, thus calling Krohnberg's $1,500 and raising him $4,500.

Krohnberg said, according to the witness, "You are a good fellow, I will call you," and put in $4,500 more.

"Lewis then turned over an ace in the hole," continued Silverman, "and said, 'I've got you beat, as you can't have better than two nines; I'll split the pot 25 per cent. to the loser and 75 per cent. to the winner.' Krohnberg refused to do this. Lewis then said

GIRL BUYS BACK NOTES TO DESERTER AT NAVY AUCTION

Bids Up Suitcase to $9.75, Takes
Letters and Throws It Away—
"All Over," Only Comment.

HORTENSE SMITHSON, seventeen, of Passaic, N. J., one of scores of persons attracted to the Barge Office to-day by the annual sale of the effects of deceased, deserting and absent sailors of the United States Navy and Merchant Marine, paid little attention to the mad chase for bargains until Supt. Ann Mitchell handed up a suitcase to Deputy U. S. Commissioner Price and the latter asked "How much am I offered?"

"That's it," said the young man who accompanied Hortense and her mother, Mrs. Edward P. Smithson, and the girl carried the bidding along until the suitcase was knocked down to her at $9.75.

She carried her purchase into a far corner, opened it, drew forth a package of letters, stuffed them into a case she had brought with her, and threw the $9.75 case to the floor.

"Oh, there really isn't anything in it," Mrs. Smithson said, "except that I wrote every one of these letters. I'm not going to say whom I wrote them to, except that he deserted his ship and it's all over."

SINN FEIN GUARDS SLAIN CORK MAYOR FROM POLICE HUNT

Refuse to Give British Officials
Information Regarding Mysterious Murder.

FLY REPUBLIC'S FLAG.

Royal Irish Constable Riddled
With Bullets in Streets—
Reprisals Feared.

CORK, Ireland, March 20.—The sensational murder this morning of Lord Mayor MacGuin in his home by masked men, has not yet been solved, but two days ago he received a threatening letter which directed the Lord Mayor to prepare for death, as he had been doomed.

Two hours before the Lord Mayor was murdered Constable Murtagh of the Royal Irish Constabulary, was shot dead in the street. His body was riddled with bullets.

When the police visited MacGuin's house to make inquiries for instant purposes they were refused admission. The Lord Mayor's body, draped in the Sinn Fein volunteer uniform, lies in his residence, which is guarded by volunteers. The body will lie in state in the City Hall from to-night until Monday, when a public funeral will be held.

Two hours after the murder a large force of military visited MacGuin's home and searched the room where the body was lying.

This far no motive for the murder has been assigned. It is held that the crime could not have been committed by Sinn Feiners against one of their own number and many residents of Cork are expressing fear of reprisals which may affect all of Ireland.

The murder of MacGuin follows an attempt Thursday night against the life of Prof. Stockley, who was an Alderman in the Cork Corporation in the Sinn Fein interests.

The Sinn Fein flag hoisted at half mast over the City Hall today and a mourning card on the main entrance door bore the inscription: "Closed in consequence of the death of Thomas MacGuin, First Republican Lord Mayor of Cork."

The Lord Mayor was shot dead at 1 o'clock this morning.

A half dozen men knocked at the door of the home of the Lord Mayor, Thomas MacGuin. Mrs. MacGuin, who opened the door and the men rushed in. Some of them held her while others ran upstairs to the Mayor's bedroom. They took him to the landing and shot him in the chest. They then fled hurriedly.

Mayor MacGuin, a prominent Sinn Feiner, was interned after the Easter rebellion.

40,000 REDS IN RUHR DISTRICT; EBERT GAINS IN SAXONY; 2,000 KILLED IN CIVIL WAR

Duesseldorf Taken by a Red Force of 6,000—Public Buildings in Leipzig Shelled by Ebert Troops, Who Drive Out Communists, Killing 100 and Wounding 200.

LONDON, March 20.—The capture of Essen, home of the Krupp works, was effected on Friday by a Spartan army of about 100,000 men, with 77 guns and an equipment of armored automobiles, according to advices from Aix-le-Chapelle to-day. The Spartans proclaimed a Soviet republic there. There was a battle lasting twenty-four hours in which 300 were killed before the Communists finally won possession of the city. Essen was shelled by artillery in possession of the workmen.

In the Ruhr district the strength of the Reds is now estimated to be 40,000 men, with machine guns, motor cars and artillery. Government troops and civil guards are reported in Berlin despatches to be advancing into southwest Saxony.

During last night the manufacturing city of Duesseldorf, on the Rhine north of Cologne, was captured by Spartan forces, the Government troops evacuating it without a fight. Reports from Berlin last night said that 6,000 Reds were marching on the city.

GERMANS CALL OFF GENERAL STRIKE

Ebert Government Starts Back to Berlin on Special Train Tonight
—Concession to Workers.

BERLIN, March 20 (Associated Press).—The general strike has been ended, it was announced here to-day.

LONDON, March 20.—According to Berlin advices received here this afternoon, the Government has accepted the workers' demands, including far-reaching concessions to the Independent Socialists.

STUTTGART, March 20 (Associated Press).—The entire Ebert Government, including Minister of Defense Noske, will leave for Berlin tonight on a special train. Gen. von Seeckt, in command at Berlin, has sent a wireless message saying that everything is quiet in the capital.

The German cruiser Schwarzenburg and Wittelsbach at Kiel were taken over without bloodshed this morning by sailors at the naval station, after the Government troops in the station had been disbanded. The officers of the cruiser were deported and the white flag was hoisted over the vessel. The captain of the Wittelsbach, the reports add, committed suicide by shooting.

HYLAN MEMORY A BIT HAZY.

Can't Recall Source of All Statements in Scheffelin Letter.

Mayor Hylan appeared before Supreme Court Justice Kelly in Brooklyn today for examination before trial of the action against him for libel of William J. Scheffelin. Mayor Hylan admitted he could not remember where he derived all the statements made in his letter of April 15, 1919, which he admitted writing, and which charged Scheffelin with illegal sales of narcotic drugs.

The Mayor said he relied on the report of the commissioner of accounts that the Scheffelin firm had not made a proper return of drug sales.

The situation in the mining districts of the Rhineland are described as still extraordinarily serious. Several places are in complete control of Spartans and Communists, their dominance being secured frequently only after severe fighting. In Cassel 17 dead and 64 wounded are reported, and in Nuremberg 23 dead and 60 wounded.

Mulheim, southwest of Essen, Oberhausen, at the northwest, the important industrial town of Eberfeld, to the south, and Kettwig, south of Mulheim, are reported to have been evacuated by the small forces of government troops holding them after being defeated in fighting with the Spartans. The government troops took refuge in part in the British zone of occupation, where they were disarmed, the despatches state. All possible precautions are being taken to forestall any attempts against the Rhine bridgeheads.

A messenger from Berlin says the Ebert Government troops have bombed public buildings at Leipzig in an attempt to dislodge German workers' forces, and several hundred persons have been killed. The message says 100 were killed and 200 wounded in the street fighting in Berlin on Thursday.

Later news via Copenhagen says Leipzig is being successfully cleared by troops of the regular army. The Leipzig Volkhaus is burning and the workmen's houses have been exceedingly heavy. More than 100 workmen fell in an attempt to capture the Thomas school.

Two thousand persons have been killed in the fighting incident to the German revolutionary movement and disturbances of the last week, it is estimated in Berlin, according to the Exchange Telegraph correspondent at that city.

Communists have occupied the stations in the eastern section of Berlin and refuse to permit the resumption of railroad traffic until their demands have been met, says a despatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, filed at Berlin this morning.

A Kiel despatch via Copenhagen says that Admiral Lothar von Toppa, a supporter, has agreed to resign as military dictator there. The despatch said. Students joined
