SUGGEST AMENDMENT.
Commissioners' Views of East Washington Heights Bill.
The District Commissioners will, it is understood, recommend to Congress that Senate bill 1763, to amend the charter of the East Washington Heights Traction Railroad Company, be amended.
This company was chartered by Congress June 18, 1898. The charter requires that construction shall be commenced within one year from the date of the charter, and that the road shall be in operation within two years from said date. Work has been commenced as required by the charter, although but little progress has been made toward the completion of the road.
The bill proposes to amend the charter to extend its line on Pennsylvania avenue westerly to 8th street southeast. The Commissioners consider this inadvisable. It is said, as it is believed this portion of the route could be better served by an urban road, and they have recommended in their report upon another bill that the Capital Traction line be extended to cover the territory.
The Commissioners also desire to connect with the Metropolitan line at East Capitol street, and the bill proposes such a connection by means of a line on Pennsylvania avenue and 8th street east.
In lieu of this route the Commissioners will, it is understood, recommend one on 7th street, east, north to East Capitol street, thence west on East Capitol street to connect with the Metropolitan road.
The Commissioners will further recommend, it is said, that the proposed line on Harrison street, Anacostia, be changed to run along Pierce and Jackson streets to Munroe.
The Commissioners will also recommend, it is believed, that a provision be inserted in the bill requiring the company to transfer its trucks from the Anacostia road to Minnesota avenue within one year after said avenue is opened up to the public as a thoroughfare.
Section 2 of the bill proposes to extend the time for the completion of the road two years. Under the circumstances the extension seems to the Commissioners, it is said, to be reasonable. They are not expected to approve the provision in section 2 "that all franchises, rights and powers conferred upon said company may be exercised as fully and completely as if said railway had been fully completed and put in operation prior to June 18, 1898." They will, therefore, it is stated, recommend that it be stricken out.

FACTIONS IN PUERTO RICO.

Mario S. Geigel Tells How They Have Injured the Country.
Mario S. Geigel of Puerto Rico is in Washington. He was private secretary to General Henry, the first American military governor of Puerto Rico and was later associated in a confidential capacity with Francisco Acuna, secretary of state in General Henry's cabinet. Speaking of affairs in the island and the intense desire of the people for self-government, Mr. Geigel said:
"We are wide awake to the present abnormal situation of the island and perfectly aware of the fact that only through our own efforts, weak as they may be, will this situation cease or, at least, lessen in great measure. The people are bent on a tolerable state, banishing from the heart of its inhabitants the deep feeling of disgust which now prevails in the desire of all Puerto Ricans who profess due love to the native soil.
"First of all I want to speak upon the question mostly considered at the present time, and which is the heart and soul of the Puerto Rico problem, namely, whether or not we are fitted for the full filaments of the duties involved in universal suffrage and whether or not we are capable of governing ourselves. By glancing at the light of the past, as most visitors have looked into our destiny, we are led to the conclusion that the government's present views on the matter, together with those of our present military governor, who honestly believes we are not prepared nor qualified to meet the obligations of a self-governed people, are perfectly correct. When Spain held full sway over our destiny, we were declared, through the proclamation of an autonomous regime, legally capable to manage our own affairs. The reform naturally created some excitement. We had for so long a time lain in the grasp of an absolute military regime that we were naturally agitated by the rights of our most persistent desire. Discussion among the political leaders ensued, but that was only natural, and the people of the United States need not turn their backs on us on that account.
"The agitation was certainly discreditable, and we all saw with disgust that we had permitted ourselves to ruthlessly destroy the amity and mutual respect which once characterized the native politicians. Yet that political dissension would have fostered by their lack of tact and statesmanship the war which was being waged between the two political parties. Their quarrel started over a Spanish law.
"The departure of the Spanish officials from the island would have resulted in the cessation of the quarrel had not the two contending parties been recognized by the new government. It was a grave mistake, and the result of the situation of the island for self-government, is due to the incapacity of our governor generals to look far into the future in order to avoid what seems today irremediable.
"We sincerely hope that this government will soon place us in a position to show our ability to manage our own affairs, and at the same time to win the good will of Congress that it may in the near future admit us as a territory, eventually adding to the flag a new star representing Puerto Rico as a state."

Fined Ten Dollars.
Wiley Abner, a colored paralytic, was arrested last evening while begging for money from persons on Connecticut avenue near R street. The evidence showed that the accused is a professional beggar, although he has a good home, and Judge Scott imposed a fine of $10, with the alternative of thirty days on the farm.

Court Fails to Compel.
"I would like to have Thomas Gray's personal bonds taken to keep away from Brookland," Officer Stromton told Judge Scott today.
"What does Gray do at Brookland?" Prosecutor Pugh asked.
"Oh, nothing in particular; but I think he comes out there too often," the officer replied.
The case was dismissed by Judge Scott.

Miss Stallings in New York.
Miss Bertha J. Stallings, whose disappearance from Anacostia over ten days ago was the cause of much anxiety on the part of her relatives, is understood to be in New York city. Information to this effect came to a gentleman in Anacostia by letter, and it is said, the young woman has sent a letter to her parents, who reside near Bristol, Md., telling them of her whereabouts.

Arguments in Funk Case.
Arguments were begun late this afternoon before Justice Cole, in Courtroom No. 2, in connection with the motions for a new trial and in arrest of judgment in the case of Frank W. Funk, recently convicted of the murder of William H. Brooks. The grounds on which the motions are based have heretofore been published in The Star.

Funk was brought into court when the proceedings opened. He wore a light overcoat, and in general appearance seems to have improved very much.

Court of Appeals.
The Court of Appeals late this afternoon handed down opinions as follows:
Siggers vs. Snow; appeal dismissed with costs; opinion by Mr. Justice Morris.
Stone vs. St. Charles and Columbia Investment Company; judgment affirmed with costs; opinion by Mr. Justice Morris.

Death of Judge Putnam.
Consul General Wildman, at Hong Kong, has reported to the State Department the particulars of the death of Judge John Putnam, an American citizen, who formerly resided in Saratoga, N. Y. He died November 28 last on the steamer Hong Kong Maru, as the vessel was leaving Hong Kong, from a heart ailment, following an attack of grip. His body was embalmed and will be brought home by his wife, Lieut. Israel Putnam, a son, who was on duty at Negros, joined his mother at Hong Kong.

SHUFFELDT COURT-MARTIAL.

Senator Daniel of Virginia a Witness for Defense.
Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia was a witness before the court-martial at Washington barracks this morning, being introduced by the officer on trial, Capt. R. W. Shufeldt, retired, to give expert testimony as to the validity and effect of the oath Capt. Shufeldt is charged with violating. The oath was a promise made in an answer to proceedings against Capt. Shufeldt in Maryland, in which the accused said he would at any and all times subject himself to the orders of the court.

The judge advocate objected to the witness on the grounds that hypothetical questions were to be propounded and that the senator had not been shown to be an expert in Maryland laws. Mr. Alexander Wolf of counsel for the accused argued in reply to the judge advocate. The court was cleared and upon being ordered to testify.

Senator Daniel gave a number of opinions, as he said, on the general principles of equity jurisprudence. The questions and answers were surrounded with a maze of legal language and suppositions and all were conditioned. Ordinarily speaking, Senator Daniel said, he would not consider the formal jurat to an answer such as was made by Capt. Shufeldt an oath to anything except the statement made therein, and would hardly cover the matter of subjecting himself to the jurisdiction of the court. Senator Daniel said the advice of the defendant's attorney might be considered in the matter.

During the direct and cross-examinations there were a number of objections on both sides, and the court was cleared for the decision of each point raised. The surroundings of the case, it was said, the state of mind of the president, Judge, and other things must be taken into consideration in deciding whether or not Capt. Shufeldt had broken his promise.

Samuel D. Waters of Takoma Park testified he had served Capt. Shufeldt with groceries for a long time, and the latter had sent him promptly up to the time of becoming involved in his divorce proceedings.

DECREE OF DIVORCE.

Former Proceedings in Case Declared to Have Been Invalid.
Justice Barnard, in Equity Court No. 2, today signed a decree granting David M. Ogden a divorce from Sarah J. Ogden. It is set forth that the divorce is granted for the reason that it appears to the court that the decree of the circuit court of the city of St. Louis, Mo., dated May 23, 1899, wherein the defendant, under the name of Sarah J. Hanna, was the complainant and her husband, Henry J. Hanna, was the defendant, divorcing Sarah J. Hanna from the bonds of matrimony existing between her and Henry J. Hanna, and restoring to her of the rights and privileges of an unmarried person, was invalid and illegal, and did not have the effect in law of divorcing Sarah J. Hanna and Henry J. Hanna. It also appears to the court from the evidence that Henry J. Hanna is living and that he is the husband of the defendant, Sarah Jane.

From this ruling of Justice Barnard an appeal has been noted to the Court of Appeals. The defendant is given leave to apply for an order continuing in force during the pendency of the appeal the order requiring David M. Ogden to pay alimony pendente lite, and for an order requiring the defendant to pay the costs of the appeal and additional counsel fees.

A Coffee Fact!!
Many Highly Organized People
Are definitely and distinctly
Diseased by Coffee
Try a Personal Test on Yourself

Not with all people, but with many, particularly those that are highly organized—brain workers and their kind—the subtle alkaloids, contained in ordinary coffee, have a direct action upon the delicate nerves of the stomach, and by a pathological law the nervous system is gradually and surely affected.

The result will show in a variety of ways, such as headaches in some people; in others, bowel complaints; in others, kidney trouble; in others, smothering sensations about the heart; in others, dyspepsia, and in many the power of the brain is impaired.

One thing is absolutely sure and incontrovertible—when such people use coffee, even in moderate quantities, for an extended time, the slight hurt to the system, added to day by day, will finally pile upon a system that must be settled, physically, and the injury will generally locate and center in some one of the organs of the body.

Different people will be affected differently, but common sense should teach that if you have any sort of disease, or symptoms of disease, you should endeavor to locate the source and cause of that disease. It is not good reasoning to apply drugs in an effort to treat disease, and at the same time continue the use of some deleterious article that not only causes the disease in the beginning, but maintains it from day to day and adds to the misery of it.

The true, and only safe, plan is to search for the cause and destroy it, then Nature itself endeavors to set curative forces at work, and if the disease has not gone too long one may expect a return of health. If the reader has any sort of physical ailment, and has been a user of coffee, let him experiment on himself by leaving off the coffee for a period, say of two weeks or a month, and at the same time shift over to the use of Postum Cereal Food Coffee, and take careful notice of the result.

Leaving off the coffee takes away the cause of disease that is established through the nervous system (when such disease has been caused by the use of coffee); the food elements contained in Postum Food Coffee go instantly to work to replenish and rebuild the delicate gray substance found in the nerve centers throughout the body.

It is well to remember that perfect health cannot be maintained when even a slight portion of this delicate substance is destroyed or lacking in the body. There is a true and scientific reason for this statement which can be easily proven by personal test. Many people have been convinced of the fact that coffee is a poison to them, but have been unable to leave it off. Such persons will find that they can make the change from ordinary coffee to Postum Food Coffee instantly, and the new coffee will supply the demand for the morning beverage, and the work of regeneration will begin in short order.

One thing must be carefully looked after, and that is to have the Postum Food Coffee boiled long enough to bring out the flavor and food elements. When prepared like ordinary coffee, that is, by boiling a few moments, or no boiling at all, it will not furnish the palatable beverage that it does when about four heaping teaspoons to the pint of water are used, and after being on the stove long enough to come up to a boiling bubble, it is allowed to remain boiling, slowly but steadily, full fifteen minutes after the first bubbling is noticed.

In no other way can good Postum Coffee be made, and it may be depended upon when made in this manner. Many use a high pot to prevent its boiling over, and stir it down from time to time, in order to get the good from all the material.

If the reader can use health as a means for gaining wealth or fame, and for bringing about the state of physical and mental peace and happiness that comes from a perfectly poised condition of health, he can well afford to make this test, and make it at once. Postum is sold by all first-class grocers everywhere. It is in packages protected by the famous seal and trade mark.

For the convenience of our many patrons we have perfected arrangements with the following well-known houses in this city who will supply

Women Choose to Be Well!

Verger, La., July 31, 1898.
I think you do not say enough in favor of Wine of Cardui—at least no words can express all that I feel in favor of it. I had falling of the womb thirteen months and was very sick. The doctor here treated me and we used several other medicines, but I kept on suffering. Finally my husband said Wine of Cardui had caused so many cures he thought I ought to try that. I am so thankful we did get it, for a few bottles have cured me. I honestly believe I would not have been alive now if it had not been for Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught which I used with it.
Mrs. HARRIET CYPRIEN.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

A woman with health goes about singing and smiling. Every one she meets is drawn to her. A sick woman is an object of pity. Only her nearest friends enter the shaded bed room to bring sympathy. Isn't it strange that there are so many women today who abandon themselves to the fetters of sickness and social neglect, when by using the simple vegetable remedy, Wine of Cardui, they would have friends, health, happiness and social consideration, and in their independence scorn charity and pity?

Wine of Cardui makes weak women well. It relieves the most trying and nerve-killing pains a human being can suffer. "Female troubles" are making more invalids and undermining more constitutions of good women than all other ailments combined. They are moral, mental and physical plagues.

Wine of Cardui stops the drains on the body; the mind brightens and a buoyant consciousness of health raises the patient from the gloom of despair. You may be rid of those terrible pains by taking this simple Wine of Cardui and its companion medicine, Black-Draught. For advice in cases requiring special attention, address, giving symptoms, the "Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

One of the shots took effect in the side of the neck, inflicting a painful, but not dangerous wound.
